GOV'T FORCED TO RETREAT, MANEUVER- STRUGGLE CONTINUES

On Wednesday, November 14, Judge Carlisle Pratt, presiding in the case of Bob Avakian and the 16 other Mao Tsetung Defendants, signed an order which dismissed the 25 felony/one misdemeanor count indictment against all 17 of these defendants. Before the ink he used to sign his name was even dry (in fact, before the order was even filed with the court), Judge Pratt was extending all the cooperation he could to the U.S. Attorney's Office in their plan to file an immediate appeal to this order before the District of Columbia Court of Appeals.

The dismissal of the charges in this case represents a major tactical retreat on the part of the U.S. Government. In the short-run they have been forced to let go of their tactic of pursuing non-stop this political railroad against Avakian and the other defendants, shrouded with criminal charges and cloaked in the darkness of their courtrooms out of the sight of the millions over whom they rule and

Iranian Mao Tsetung Defendant Speaks

Farhad is an Iranian student who was arrested last January after the police attack on a demonstration protesting the U.S. visit of Teng Hsiao-ping. He is now a Mao Tsetung Defendant and may well again face 241 years, when the government appeals the recent dismissal.

As the stakes in this battle have been raised, Farhad's response has been to see this attack on the Revolutionary Communist Party of the USA as an integral part of the struggle of the international working class: "People say to me, why don't you leave. I tell them this battle is important, there is a lot at stake for a whole lot of people, the masses of people, their stake is in this battle too."

In fact he said he is proud to have been singled out by the U.S. government as part of this attack: "Being Iranian and being a Mao Tsetung Defendant, I don't see it different than anyone else... in Iran, Nicaragua, El Salvador, South Korea, the United States, it's the same...internationalism, going up against a system that has millions and millions under its chains, kicking people to the ground."

This same stand of workers of all countries standing together is what brought Farhad and many other Iranian students to Washington, DC last January 29th. They joined with the RCP in making a powerful statement against Teng Hsiao-ping & Co. that was heard around the world.

What China's new rulers were doing in Iran--toasting and supporting the Shah as his secret police were adding the death of over 800 at the Abadan Theater to their long list of crimes--this alone would be reason enough for many to denounce Teng. But this is not among the first reasons for joining the demonstration that Farhad gives: "China was a socialist country. After Mao Tsetung's death, Teng Hsiao-ping and Hua Kuo-feng took over in a coup. They turned the whole thing around. During Mao's time, China was in the hands of the working class...A country with almost one billion people being freed from imperialism all of a sudden coming under the grip of the bourgeoisie. I thought I had to take a stand against this. Against Teng Hsiao-ping's coming to the U.S., meeting with Carter... being in U.S.'s war bloc. It was very important for me to take a stand against this, to show the people all over...that there are still people holding the banner of Mao Tsetung, that revolution hadn't died."

The U.S. ruling class is making every effort to paint Iranian revolutionaries as an enemy of the American people. But the stand of Farhad is living proof of just the opposite. He is literally putting his life on the line, not only so that the Iranian revolution can be carried forward, but so the leadership so necessary for the people of the U.S. to rise up and win their liberation is defended.

He, along with millions of Iranians and others around the world, views a victorious revolution for the U.S. working class as a victory that will be celebrated and supported by the working class worldwide: "Revolution in the U.S. will have a great effect around the world. There are so many countries under the domination and under the exploitation of the U.S. rulers...Once the proletariat takes power (in the U.S. -- R.W.) all those chains are broken. That will have a tremendous effect around the world. These reactionary governments under these fascist dictators will be overthrown."

The U.S. government is saying that Iranians like Farhad are "troublemakers" and should be deported or worse. But the working class of the U.S. and the world cherishes such people for they stand for our highest interests.

whose potential outrage at this attack and power to rise up against their very rule, haunts them.

Orders to attack the January 29th demonstration against Teng Hsiao-ping clearly came from on high--from the Oval Office on Pennsylvania Avenue itself in consultation with top FBI officials who had been charged with keeping Avakian and the RCP under surveillance for more than 10 years. After the police attack on the march, when 78 had been arrested including Bob Avakian, the machinery of the bourgeois state moved fast to strike what they hoped would be a death blow to this revolutionary organization and its leadership. Within hours of the arrests, charges were upped from a misdemeanor to a felony, and within months, they had mushroomed to 25 felonies against the 17 indicted--a possible 241 years in jail for Bob Avakian and 16 others.

The imperialists viewed the fact that they had Bob Avakian and dozens of other revolutionaries in the clutches of their legal octopus as a golden opportunity. They grabbed the chance to try to strike down the banner of revolution raised by the Revolutionary Communist Party on the night of January 29th at a time when they had declared that revolution was dead. They moved to try to strike down revolutionary leadership even as many were just beginning to look to it and before millions even knew it existed.

They thought that by attacking revolutionaries who had unfurled the banner of Mao Tsetung in the streets of Washington, D.C. they could isolate Bob Avakian and the RCP from the broad masses of workers and other oppressed people in this country. These people, our rulers believe, never think of more than where their next meal is coming from and the imperialists counted on the inability of this Party to rally many workers and others to stand with the RCP in the face of this attack, and to not only dream the dream of revolution, but prepare now to make it a reality.

Since the ebbing of the revolutionary movements of the 1960's and before the storms of the 1980's have struck their system in full force, the imperialists believed that the Revolutionary Communist Party was in fact today the isolated "sect" they always try to label it to the masses. They counted on the inability of the revolutionary leadership that openly declares its plan to lead millions to overthrow their imperialist rule, to unite many thousands now to oppose this government attack. In a period in which millions are not yet actively involved in political struggle, thousands are still cynical, demoralized or confused in the wake of the decade of the 1970's, and the features of the decade before us are not yet clear to many--our rulers did not believe the RCP could unite broadly, both with those who have not forgotten the 1960's and look with anticipation to the 1980's, and with the forces that the new upsurges of struggle developing today are bringing to the fore. They failed to take into account the flammable combustion that takes place when the science of Marxism is applied by a revolutionary party in a living way to the real conditions that the masses face, conditions which today raise big questions for millions about the way in which they are forced to live and are drawing tens of thousands to seek a road out of this hell.

They sent out their spies to infiltrate meeting rooms around the country to check out the nationwide speaking tour of Bob Avakian launched by the RCP in the face of the August 13th re-indictment of Avakian and the other defendants on 25 felony counts. In horror and shock, these government agents recoiled at the sight of thousands across the country leaving their homes, drawn away from the din of the TV set by the revolutionary vision presented by Chairman Avakian. They watched as workers and many others left the tour armed with a growing scientific understanding of the world based on the political line of the RCP. Their informants fled back to headquarters to report that hundreds had their very lives changed through Comrade Avakian's speaking tour and were stepping forward in the battle to free Bob Avakian and the Mao Defendants, but more, were stepping forward to fight for revolution.

The enemy struck back--attempting to set up Chairman Avakian on phony charges by arranging to have his speech in Los Angeles misquoted by an L.A. Times reporter. They launched attacks on those building for the tour around the country, arresting 14 in North Carolina in the 4 days before the Chairman spoke there.

But on the heels of all their attempts to step up the attack on Bob Avakian and sabotage the speaking tour, they faced something that filled their class with still more dread. At the end of September they heard the call of the Central Committee of the RCP for hundreds of volunteers to march to the very frontlines of this battle, to drag the dirt of the government's "case" against Avakian into the light of day, to bring forward thousands in D.C. itself, to turn D.C. upside down, to spread this battle nationwide and shake this country to its foundations.

This announcement alone and their knowledge that many were responding to it across the country, drove them to crank up their rumor machine in D.C., bring pressure to bear on those who were debating the issue of standing with the volunteers when they arrived by offering housing, meeting rooms or other forms of support. They tried to stop this advancing proletarian army before it could even set up camp in D.C. and begin to fight.

But they failed. Out of the 100's who volunteered, 150 came and in their ranks were many new faces, never before photographed for the well-worn surveillance files maintained on the RCP and its supporters over the years. They included workers and people from among the most oppressed strata of society--people who came to D.C. activated by the line of the RCP, determined to stop the railroad of Bob Avakian, and burning with an unquenchable hatred for this system. With dismay, the imperialists watched as the troops arrived, found housing, and immediately took to the streets of D.C. to begin the work of uniting hundreds and touching thousands with the message of this battle. Stepped-up surveillance, provocateurs and arrests failed to split the ranks of the volunteers. And when the masses of people of Washington began to respond to the call of 150 voices united as one to take a stand on the decisive weekend of struggle--November 18-19--the desperation of the enemy grew deeper.

They struck back against the growing movement around the 18th-19th of November. They told Committee representatives that no permits were needed for the demonstration on the 19th--and then threatened arrests of anyone demonstrating in the area of the courthouse. They pulled the strings connected to their media-mouths, and the Committee to Free the Mao Tsetung Defendants ran into one obstacle after another in trying to get approval from the Washington Post for the printing of the Statement of Support as an ad on the 19th, the day when pre-trial hearings were scheduled to begin. As the list of names of those who signed the Statement grew, so did our rulers fear. Here was the RCP and its Chairman, Bob Avakian whom they had hoped to attack in isolation from the masses of people, uniting hundreds around the country to take a stand against them. From dozens of workers in factories, to hundreds in housing projects in Black communities, from religious leaders like Philip Berrigan, to progressive lawyers and organizations like the National Lawyers Guild, from revolutionary musicians like Gil Scott Heron to professors, doctors and nurses, from groups reflecting the movements of the 1960's like the Peace and Freedom Party of California, to groups reflecting the upsurges of today like the Seabrook Coalition in D.C., the movement to stop this railroad was broadened and reaching out to people beyond those who already agreed with the RCP's overall line and program.

Even their plans to use their own media to strengthen their attack against Bob Avakian and the RCP worked against them, as millions in one way or another heard about the battle in D.C., listened to Bob Avakian give Tom Snyder a taste of tomorrow and thousands had their thirst for revolutionary politics whetted.

As the imperialists saw the movement to Stop the Railroad of Bob Avakian and Free the Mao Tsetung Defendants winning support and moving towards the key juncture of the weekend of struggle called for on the 18th and 19th by the RCP and the Committee to Free the Mao Tsetung Defendants--their desperation grew. It was this same desperation that had led them to launch this attack on Bob Avakian and the RCP last January 29th when the demonstration on Pennsylvania Avenue threatened to pull the mask of "peace" off their latest war moves, lining China up behind the U.S., with traitor Teng at its helm. The same desperation at the situation in which they find themselves in the world today, led to the ever-sharpening attacks against the Mao Defendants as the Government pursued its strategic aim of eliminating the challenge to their rule presented by this revolutionary leadership before the opening of the next decade in which storms of struggle against their system will be raging.

But since the January 29th demonstration, the situation for the U.S. imperialists has worsened. They have seen revolutionary struggles knock down two long time and beloved puppets, the Shah in Iran and dictator Somoza in Nicaragua. They moved to initiate right-wing coups in Bolivia and El Salvador. Recently they were forced to knock off their own puppet, President Park, in Korea to stabilize the situation there. All around the world they are more and more directly running head on into their counterparts in the Soviet Union and the contention between these two superpowers has reached the point where it must, in the next few years, boil over into a cauldron of inter-imperialist world war.

The U.S. government's own economic advisors predict a bad recession next year or a worse one the year after. Their system at home is carrying the weight of a crumbling financial world empire on its back. Their need to stabilize the political and economic situations in the countries they have lined up in their war-bloc is running in to direct contradiction with their need to stabilize the situation at home, economically and politically. The American people are already beginning to take a stand against the plans that the imperialists have in store for them in the 1980's: ever sharper discrimination, violent police attacks, gas lines, unemployment lines, crime, and the threat of wiping out tens of millions of people in a nuclear holocaust. From the struggles bursting out spontaneously against police terror, to the ever broadening anti-nuke movement, and concentrated in the developing revolutionary movement that is beginning to consciously mount the political stage with working class leadership--a turbulent force is seething below the surface of this country, preparing to break out in the period ahead.

In just the last several weeks the situation has sharpened up still more as their desperation has driven our rulers to strike out in a frenzy at the masses. From the bloody murders of anti-Klan demonstrators by Nazis aided by the police in Greensboro, N.C., to the anti-Iranian right-wing hysteria being whipped up by the imperialists and their media, the rulers of this country are everywhere trying to mobilize a pole of the most backward sections of the American people to rally around their red, white and blue rag, to sing the Star Spangled Banner and to get prepared to take the lead in fighting and dying in a world war to preserve their imperialist rule.

The ruling class' necessity to wipe out the only revolutionary leadership that can arm the masses of people with a scientific understanding of this situation and its development, and lead in finding a road out of it, is sharper than ever. But the tactic of carrying on with this attack by couching it in common "criminal" proceedings has begun to backfire on them. Even as they claim that the RCP is isolated and insignificant, they are feeling the exploding struggles of the world's peoples on whom they have trampled with bloody boots for decades. But around the world, revolutionary organizations from Iran to France, from Turkey to New Zealand, in a dozen countries in all, have sent messages of support to Bob Avakian and the RCP, pledging their support against this attack by the common enemy of the people of the world, U.S. imperialism. And so the front of struggle to oppose the U.S. government attack on Bob Avakian and the Mao Tsetung Defendants has become worldwide.

The dismissal of the charges against Bob Avakian and the Mao Tsetung Defendants cannot be separated from this sharpening objective situation. But more than that, it cannot be separated from the fact that in taking this battle to the broad masses of people, in arming them with the significance of this struggle, in activating and mobilizing hundreds and now thousands, the RCP has begun to demonstrate the potential strength of the masses in this country to not only derail this railroad, but to move beyond that and to make revolution.

In the face of this new necessity, the U.S. Government has made a significant tactical retreat--an important victory for the people--but their nature has not changed. From the beginning they have made it absolutely clear that they are deadly serious about burying Bob Avakian and crippling the Revolutionary Communist Party so that the masses of people will go into the 1980's without the only revolutionary leadership capable of leading them all the way through, including through to make armed revolution should the opportunity arise.

In using this latest tactic of dismissing the charges, the U.S.

Government certainly aims to confuse those who have already or are just beginning to take a stand around this case. They intend that we should drop our guard, lose sight of the overall struggle for revolution which is most clearly concentrated in the battle to free Bob Avakian at this time. They want people to think that they have never been serious about singling out Bob Avakian for attack when in fact, they have never stopped targeting him right up to the present. And they plan to keep ready, like a sword ready to fall at any moment, these 25 felony charges holding them over the heads of all 17 defendants including Bob Avakian. These charges will be lodged in the D.C. Court of Appeals which can reinstate this case at any time--in two weeks or in two months, or a year.

More importantly, the imperialists are not glued to the use of just one tactic. Even while they are certainly continuing to manoeuvre in the legal sphere to seek new and sharper tactics for continuing this attack there, they are already prepared to use tactics of straight up bloody repression against the RCP and against Bob Avakian in particular.

All those who have come forward already in this battle, as well as all those who are just now hearing about this struggle, should gain from the battle as it has developed up to this point, the understanding that it is the masses of people who are really strong when they rise up, while the imperialists are striking out wildly because of their basic and underlying weakness and inevitable doom. We must heighten our vigilance in preparation for the vicious counter attacks that the government is certain to deliver, both directly and through all their reactionary agents. We must be warned that they will continue to direct the sharpest fire at Chairman Avakian. And we must intensify our work to continue to defend Bob Avakian and the RCP from any and all such attacks, no matter what form they come in--first and foremost at this time by moving on to make the most powerful political statement possible on the weekend of November 18-19 in Washington, D.C., and beyond that, by intensifying our efforts to push forward the overall struggle of the working class and masses of people for revolution as we move into the decade of storms ahead.

Bob Avakian Saluda A Voluntarios

"Este Partido Es Diferente - Hemos Luchado Porque Asi Sea"

Bob Avakian, Presidente del Comité Central del Partido Comunista Revolucionario y actual blanco de un complot del gobierno, habló la semana pasada a los voluntarios que han venido a D.C. como organizadores políticos en la batalla para derrotar dicho ataque gubernamental.

A nombre del Comité Central, el Camarada Avakian saludó a los voluntarios y luego se dirigió a un número de cuestiones claves. La siguiente es una porción brevemente editada de su discurso.

Si no tuvieramos odio por este sistema, si no estuviéramos quemándonos con ese tipo de odio, si no tuvieramos un deseo quemante de deshacernos de este y enterrarlo de una vez y para siempre, no tendríamos ningún derecho de llamarnos revolucionarios. Lenin dijo una vez, bien claramente, de hecho, sin este tipo de espíritu no puede haber una revolución.

Pero ese espíritu, dijo éste, tampoco podrá jamás hacer una revolución por sí mismo. Este tiene que ser templado con teoría revolucionaria y entendimiento científico para bregar con las complejidades que conlleva la revolución y poder echar hacia adelante las fuerzas que sí pueden hacer la revolución--y estas son las masas de gente en sus millones.

Cuando salimos a la calle, tenemos que bregar con estas cuestiones. ¿Qué es, porqué es que nos atrevemos a ir frente a las masas de la gente y decir que existe un Partido y el liderato en este país que puede dirigirnos hasta el final para hacer la revolución? ¿Será porque esa gente de ese Partido son gente mejor? ¿Qué son gente con más dedicación y tienen un odio más profundo, más determinación? ¡NO! Si fuera así, si valor y heroísmo pudieran hacer la revolución, el Partido de las Panteras Negras la hubiesen hecho; No podemos olvidar eso. Como he dicho, sin esto usted no va a hacer la revolución.

Pero de donde es que realmente viene la fortaleza para mantener una línea revolucionaria, mantener una orientación revolucionaria, mantener su trabajo político, a través de las vueltas y revueltas, a través de todos los desvíos, los callejones sin salida y los obstáculos que la burguesía nos pone? ¿De donde saca usted la habilidad de contra-atacar frente a las balas reales? Claro que las balas reales van a venir, no nos engañemos acerca de eso. Las balas reales van a venir, pero, ¿de donde saca usted la habilidad de contra-atacar y ahondar y ampliar el trabajo revolucionario al igual que no caer víctimas de las balas azucaradas?

¿La consigue usted apretando los dientes, cerrando los ojos y tomando alguna postura de tipo religioso -- "Salte del frente, burguesía, yo no seré tentado? Esa no es la forma en que usted lo va a poder hacer. Ese tipo de idealismo no lo va a conseguir. Pero ese no es el punto.

Hay básicamente dos cosas, y estas están dialécticamente relacionadas, que son ultimadamente la base que tenemos para enfrentarlos y derrotar todo esto. Una de estas es las masas de gente y la otra es la teoría y principios correctos del Marxismo-Leninismo, Pensamiento Mao Tsetung. Poniendo estas dos juntas, uniéndolas dialécticamente y ahondándolas y ampliándolas cada vez más; esa es la forma en la cual vamos a poder continuar a través de todas las complejidades, a través de todas las vueltas y revueltas, a través de todos los adelantos y retrazos, todas las victorias y derrotas temporarias en este país y a través del mundo. Esa es la forma en la cual vamos a poder conquistar todo eso y mantenernos del lado de nuestra clase internacionalmente para avanzar hacia el comunismo.

Sin una o la otra de estas cosas o si dejamos que estas dos cosas sean separadas o cortadas una de la otra, no podremos resistir las balas azucaradas o las balas reales. Esto es importante para nosotros entenderlo en términos de nuestra propia orientación, pero también es importante para nosotros entenderlo para poder armar a la gente que está levantando estas preguntas entre las amplias masas...

¿De donde salió el PCR? ¿De donde salen las líneas? ¿Es de hecho el producto de pocas personas? ¿Es el producto de un genio o dos? Es esta persona a la cual usted me dice que defienda un individuo único que es personalmente un genio o un gran tipo o -- de hecho -- es esto el producto de toda la lucha, de no solo en este país sino internacionalmente, no solo de los últimos 10 años sino de a través de toda la historia, pero más inmediatamente y directamente, de los últimos 10 o 20 años? ¿De donde salió esta línea y Partido? ¿Vino del cielo o, de hecho, fue este un producto de, y forjado en fiera lucha, tanto entre las masas contra la burguesía y entre el movimiento revolucionario contra aquellos que eran (de buenas intenciones pero motivos equivocados o de oportunismo claro) intentando dirigir a la gente a un callejón oscuro o al atolladero? Tenemos que entrar en esto. Estas no son preguntas académicas que solo pocas personas estarían interesadas en oír las y discutir las.

Tenemos que estar listos a estudiar Marxismo-Leninismo, Pensamiento Mao Tsetung generalmente para poder entender esto más profundamente, porque esto es lo que está en las mentes de las masas de la gente. Tenemos que explicarles en una forma viva y real lo que quería decir Mao Tsetung cuando dijo que la línea ideológica y política es decisiva. Tenemos que entender esto nosotros mismos y tenemos que poder explicárselos a las masas de gente. ¿Qué significa el decir que la cosa principal, la cosa decisiva que ultimadamente determinará el si individuos y más que eso, la organización del Partido, se mantendrá en el camino revolucionario o degenerará hacia uno contra-revolucionario? Estas son preguntas que tenemos que estudiar profundamente, poder entender y traducirlas en nuestra agitación, en nuestras discusiones con la gente, en términos populares para que ellos puedan entenderlas y comiencen a verlas.

Si, tenemos que salir a las calles y agitar y hacer impacto, pero también tenemos que hablar con la gente. Tenemos que aprender como hacer ambas. Tenemos que aprender a ir a las calles y agitar ampliamente y levantar mucho interés y a la misma vez tenemos que aprender a hablar con la gente y no a la gente, si no, no vamos a poder aprender y ellos no van a poder aprender. Cualquiera de estas formas por sí misma rompería la dialéctica entre nosotros y las masas. Y lo que tenemos que decirles no va a ser comprendido y lo que tenemos que aprender de ellos no va a poder ser comprendido.

Este partido es diferente a cualquier otro partido en la historia de este país, no porque la gente que lo forma son mejores que la gente que trataron de hacer la revolución antes que ellos, sino porque nosotros tenemos la experiencia de estos y más que esto, este es el partido de vanguardia porque sucede que somos el partido cuyo liderato y miembrecía peleó en cada punto crucial y todo el tiempo, para armarse con la teoría de Marxismo-Leninismo, Pensamiento Mao Tsetung y aplicarla concretamente a la lucha aquí, tanto como manteniendo en mente la lucha alrededor del mundo, al igual que la meta final.

¡Nosotros luchamos para que así sea! No fue algo que nos fue regalado. No, algo que nos vino fácil, y todavía no los es. No algo por lo que peleamos y ganamos y que podemos poner sobre el mantel como un trofeo y que puede ser tornado en un montón de eslogan y dogmas insignificantes y sin vida. No es esto, por lo que peleamos para conseguir hasta ahora. Esto es algo por lo que tenemos que luchar continuamente para profundizar nuestro entendimiento y aplicación del mismo. Desde el momento que dejemos de hacer esto, desde el momento que dejemos la lucha en ese frente, ese es el momento en el cual vamos a tornarnos hacia el camino contra-revolucionario, capitulación a este sistema y traición...

Pero no le estamos ofreciendo y no podemos ofrecer a las masas de gente ninguna línea simple, fácil o directa hacia la revolución. No hay ninguna forma más barata o de especial de fin de semana por la cual vamos a salir de toda esta locura y ninguna forma de llevarnos hacia el comunismo, excepto por la lucha constante, vueltas y revueltas, problemas y derrotas temporarias.

Pero eso no quiere decir que no hay solución a esto. Eso no quiere decir que no tenemos la habilidad de analizar--hemos analizado y continuaremos analizando más profundamente, cuales fueron la causas y las lecciones de la derrota, tanto en China, como en la Unión Soviética, antes que esta. ¿Porqué la revolución vietnamita fue virada al revés?

Y yo he visto en mi propia experiencia, que cuando podemos proveer un análisis científico y armar a la gente con esto y el entendimiento del proletariado y concretizarlo en una forma viva y real, es tremendamente libertador para las masas. Usted puede ver la gente bregando con estas preguntas--y empezando a hacer y luego finalmente haciendo un salto en su entendimiento, empezando a tener comprensión científica de estas cosas y como estas las liberan para actuar hacia la revolución para hacerse activas una vez más, hacerse reactivos en muchos casos, hacia la revolución--según empiezan a ver que hay una forma científica de entender esta mierda. Que esta es, de hecho, el resultado y producto de la lucha de clase que se da fieramente, que tiene que darse por un largo periodo de tiempo, pero que inevitablemente y al final resultará en la victoria final del proletariado a través del mundo y el advenimiento del comunismo.

Cuando podamos hacer de esto una realidad viviente y no solo un eslogan, y cuando podamos mostrarle a la gente como esto se relaciona a este partido y a esta batalla crítica que tenemos ahora, entonces podremos inyectarles vida y activarles, podremos no solo ganar esta batalla, sino podremos hacer un empuje tremendo hacia adelante, hacia la revolución.
