Defying the discipline of their bosses, all classconscious workers lay down their tools; quit their places at the machine; and emerge from factory and worshop to assemble in unified humble and somewhat dilapidated ranks with their comrades in the streets. The holiday of workers the world over, May Day has a special significance for the American working class. Here the idea of setting aside the day as the workers' own was first proposed. Here on May Day, 1886 thousands of workers thronged the streets in a mighty emenstration for the eight-hour day, a warning flash of proletarian power so terrifying that it drove the magnates of capital to inflict It was long protracted, bitterly ercises its civilizing influence on their brutal retaliation upon the martyrs of

They appear to throw their adversary to the ground only in order that he should again still more powerfully before them. They recoil again and again from the uncertain and tremendous nature of their own aims until a situation is created which makes retreat impossible and the circumstances themselves cry out: 'Hic Rhodus, hic salta!"

> The prophetic insight of these words, written in 1851, has been confirmed a hundred times over in the history of the revolutionary movement of the past fifty years. What a terribly steep and winding mountain road the proletariat has had to travel during that period! Every advance toward its goal of beration from wage-slavery has been followed by a corresponding retreat; for every two steps forward the movement has been compelled to take one step backward. Whole generations have exhausted their energies and expended their blood in the struggle. Three international organizations, and now a fourth, have been needed to lead the working class in its cam> paign against the citadels of world capital. And yet, toilsome and tortuous as the ascent has been, in spite of the severe setbacks suffered time and again, the labor movement so gone steadily forward. The ground lost after each defeat has been recovered in the next assault—and more added. Capitalist society is doomed.

> Each of the three Internationals represents landmark in the historical progress of the working class. Each has given its name and political program to a particular epoch. Each has in its turn lifted the revolutionary vanquard to a higher level of organization, theory, and struggle, and then collapsed—with the exception of the First—under the colossal burens of leadership imposed upon them.

> The First International gave to the rising proletariat for the first time a scientific program of revolution and a world banner. The crushing of the Paris Commune, the immaturity of the working class, and its lack of a mass base led to its collapse. Its successor reunited the scattered sections of the working class during the Golden Age of imperialist expansion into a powerful international body, numbering millions of members, and prepared them for joint action against their exploiters.

THE tradition of May Day is a tradition of But when the imperialist war exploded, the opportunism which had been ripening within the upper circles of the Second International bore its bitter fruit. Overnight the leaders of the Social Democracy turned into social-patriots and dragooned the disoriented masses of their respective countries into the imperialist slaughter on the side of their masters.

> Only a handful of revolutionists with Lenin at their head resisted the patriotic torrent and remained true to the principles of revolutionary internationalism. In the first months of the war Lenin proclaimed the necessity of breaking with the betrayers of the Second International; of turning the imperialist war into civil war; of building the Third International. With these slogans as a guide, the Bolshevik party under Lenin and Trotsky led the Ressian workers to victory over their own bourgeoisie; beat back the counter-revolution; and reconstituted the revolutionary vanguard under the banner of the Third International.

For five years the battallions of the Third International conducted an heroic struggle for the overthrow of the bourgeoisie. With the turn in the revolutionary tide following Protest Must Stay Hang. the defeat of the German workers in 1923, it fell victim to the post-war political reaction, which gave a new lease of life to the pation; to celebrate its victories; and, above Social-Democracy and found its consummate expression within the Soviet Union in Stalin's theory of "socialism in one country." Its attitude toward the impending war is the acid test of every political party in the failed; the croppers know only that cialists (Oneal and Co.) and others labor movement. The leaders of the Second International are prepared to repeat their shoes. This time they have found worthy allies and and jail sentences to smash the that is the function of the Old disciples in the leaders of the Third International, who have already declared that the workers of France, Czecho-Slovakia, and the United States must suspend the class struggle and support their capitalist governments in case it is allied, or may be allied, with the Soviet Union.

The unconditional defense of the Soviet Union is the duty of every revolutionist. The only real defense of the Soviet Union is a revolutionary defense. This has nothing in common with the present policy of the Soviet Union in staking all upon its deals with its imperialist allies and nothing upon the power of the world proletariat. We say, on the contrary, that the only reliable ally of the Soviet Union is the international proletariat. Now es ever the task of the workers in every capitalist country is to overthrow its own ruling class. "The main enemy s in our own country."

To go forward it is necessary to return to the ideas of Marx and Lenin. The emancipation of the working class can be accomplished only through its own revolutionary action. The indispensable instrument for that action in our epoch is the Fourth International. Just as the red International of Lenin was forged in struggle against the social-patriots of the Second International, so its successor must be built in struggle against both the Second and

New York Labor to Unite in Huge Parade

All Political Tendencies Combine for First Time in Years; Only Bankrupt Old Guard and Labor Bureaucrats Sabotage

By MARTIN ABERN

On Friday, May 1, 1936, New York City will witness and take part in the largest and greatest May Day celebration and demonstration in many a year. A far larger number and variety of labor and political organizations are participating in the vast parade that will march for many hours, with bands playing, floats and banners by the many thousands, through the streets of New York, hailing labor's solidarity.

For the first time in many years, since 1919 in fact, numerous political tendencies of labor will march together, proclaiming common cause against the capitalist system. The Communist Party (Stalinists), the Workers Party ("Trotskyist"), the Socialist Party (Militant Socialists) and other political bodies and large numbers of labor unions, fraternal and workers' organizations of varying kind, are am ag the participating bodies on this May Day.

100 FIFTH AVENUE ROOM 1010 NEW YORK CITY

Please address all correspondence to the above.

The labor movement of New York as a whole, its official Central Labor body, etc., are not yet taking part directly or officially in a common May Day demonstration, but the more advanced and increasing class-conscious and radical forces of New York Labor have at last established a United Front for May The Arkansas Day, 1936. Hence, this May Day represents marked progress in the represents marked progress in the development of labor solidarity and the united front on specific issues and slogans.

The S.P. Old Guard

There are, nevertheless, important influences hampering the solidification of labor's ranks this May Day. The S.P. Old Guard, for one, vociferously attack the United Front May Day Committee and call the parade and demonstration. But these elements only continue the reactionary role they have been playing in the labor movement for up whose sole purpose is to divert years. Today they try to divide labor's ranks on Labor's May Day. Today they attack the fundaments tenets of the great Russian Revolution and hail only the backward forces and processes which Stalin and his degenerated bureaucracy have set into motion against bona Negroes who gather in the same fide Bolshevism, as exemplified by Lenin and Trotsky.

Tomorrow these Old Guard Soagainst the policies of revolutionary socialism: and against the Old Guard's treachery on May Day and all the time, there can only be war to the end.

The Old Guard's anti-Sovietism is expressed in their effort today to break the May Day United Front Naturally, the slogan for the unconditional defense of the Soviet Union against any form of imperialist attack is a major slogan of the United Front May Day; this slogan represents a heart-felt de sire of every militant and class-conscious worker, and on May Day demonstratively. The Old Guard on this May Day hence concretely expresses its anti-Sovietism and antiworking class character by their sabetage of a united May Day demonstration.

But additional forces (O 1 d Guard Socialists and others) also are trying to hold back the urge for united action and solidarity on May Day by the workers. It must be admitted that these elements are succeeding in some measure in blocking united ranks on May Day here, but more and more of their following hesitate or do not listen to their talse counsel.

Three major unions of New York City, the international Ladies Garment Workers, the Amalgamated C'othing Workers and the Millinery Workers Unions, speaking through their officialdom, are also doing all they can to disrupt the forces of labor, to crack the growing numbers and unity of labor on May Day. These unions have organized a demonstration at the Polo Grounds for May Day and are oposed to the United Front or May Day achieved

Frisco Local Target for Attack

In these most recent events the San Francisco longshoremen's local 38-79, of which Harry Bridges is president, became the direct target. The Grace Company liner Santa Rosa had been picketed in New York for failure to comply with union conditions but it secured, with the help of the top union officials a crew from the Great Lakes which was spuriously supplied with union cards. Arriving subsequently diverted to the San Francisco port, which the avowed threat of the employers' "to force a showdown." The longshoremen's union considered the Santa Rosa as carrying "hot cargo," and, therefore, not to be unloaded, and insisted on an examination of the crew's union cards.

Immediately the Waterfront Employers' Association countered by breaking off relations with local 38-79. The opportunity the bosses had waited for had come. All members of the Employers Association were advised not to order any men through the hiring halls. These hiring halls were made the center of the attack. Through them the unions were able to regulate the hiring of crews so that each received its proper share of the work available and the unions were also

Following up these gains the unions further strengthened their position enormously by organizing the Maritime Federation of the maritime unions and counting a established practice by the various departments already in existence, comprising the building trades, the metal trades, the printing trades and others. But after the lessons of the general strike, which had prought forward a determined leadership in the local maritime unions, and in fear of a rising tide of militancy, the top bureaucrats took an entirely different view of the matter.

The Stalinists

The Communist Party (Stalinists) are an important part of the United Front May Day Committee represented on all committees of the U.F. But this year the Stalinists are watching their step in this united front in order not to upset the apple cart as they have so often done in past years. Gone are their cries of "Social-Fascist!" against the Socialist workers; gone are their howls for the fictitious "united front from below"; gone their stupid, false setting-up, in all the circumstances then, of independent and dual trade unions; gone much of the lunatic tactics of the notorious "Third Period". The Stalinists weakened position. The pledge to minish, if they cannot break up, have jumped out of their skins both in fright at their misdeeds, and in their desires to promote their opportunistic and social patriotic line on the war question, in the unions, the 1936 elections, their ballyhoo for a third capitalist party, euphemistically called a Farmer-Labor Party, and similar objetives reflecting their somersault.

The Stalinists could, if they wished, easily dominate the May Day United Front Committee mechanically through their numerous stooge and duplicating auxiliary organizations. But they are refraining from so doing and are letting the S.P. Militants run the show, even though organizationally the "Militants" could stand more practical assistance on various aspects of the demonstration. But having gotten into the United Front, and with opportunity provided to proclaim their substitute—a tent this time to let well enough alone and to act as primly and politely as a little Lord Fauntleroy. The W.P. and the United Front

The Workers Party of New York united front and is represented on the Executive Committee. We are bor, can fittingly participate in and promote the United Front on May Day and on other specific issues and occasions. Our Party has always held a sound position on the tactic of the united front as a medium for the mobilization of wide masses of workers on specific matters. Our Party, unlike the socialpatriotic Stalinists, never labeled Socialists as "Social - Fascists", even though the W.P. continued to make criticism of the inadequacies of the socialists and other bodies in respect to program, theory and

Among the main slogans are: for Defense of the Soviet Union; for the lass-war prisoners; against war and Fascism; for a farmer-labor Party, etc. Our organization, the Workers Party, as per its official esition, is against the slogan and formation of a "farmer-labor" or "Labor" Party. Under the circumgstances, we regard it as a petty bourgeois combination, a bulwark, if formed, against a developing militant and revolutionary working class. Nor, for that matter, does a genuine base, rooted in the mass of labor unions, actually exist today. For the most part the existing "labor party" movements are fictitious organizations, or rather, paper bodies with some scattered individual support. But the complete position of the Workers Party on this issue is expressed essentially in its declaration of Principles and in other expressions of policy toward concrete manifestations of such a movement. Suffice that the Workers Party, while giving full support to the 1936 May Day and the arrangements thereof, states its separation from the advocacy of the Labor Party slogan in the parade. Members and supporters of the Workers Party! March on May Day in the United Front!

Workers! Out on the streets for May Day! Mobilize for Labor Solidarity against Capitalism!

Revolutionary rollcy has its theoretical basis in a clear understanding of the class nature of modern society, of its state, its laws, and its ideology. The bourgeoisie operates with abstractions ("nation", "atherland", "democracy") in order to cover up thereby the exploiting character of its rule. Le Temps, one of the most venal newspapers on the terrestrial globe, gives daily instructions to the popular masses of France in patriotism and altruism. Meanwhile, it is a secret to nobody that the altruism o' le Temps itself is on the market at fixed international rates.

At that considerable evidence of this came to the author's difficult to find traces of it in I' Humanite up to the year 1924. During the twelve years that have since elapsed, a radical revaluation of values took place in the Communist International—after a number of feverish zigzags. During this time, in the Isere Department, where the writer had to live, a minor and quite banal routine epi sode occurred, which however, provides the key to French politics as

In a hospital, owned by the Comite des Forges, (steel trust-ed) a young worker, about to undergo a serious operation, took the liberty to read the revolutionary press (or, to be more precise, the press which he innocently accepted as revolutionary, namely: l'Humanite). The hospital put an ultimatum to the careless patient, and later, to four others who shared his sympathies: either they renounce receiving the undesirable publications or they would be immediately thrown out into the street. Of course it availed the patients nothing to argue that clerical-reactionary propaganda was being carried on quite openly in the hospital. Inasmuch as only ordinary workers were concerned, who had to risk neither mandates as deputies nor ministerial portfolios, but only their health and lives, the ultimatum had no efect. Five sick men, one of whom was scheduled for an operation. were ejected from the hospital. Grenoble at that time was a socialist municipality, headed by-Doctor Martin, one of those conservative bourgeois, who generally set the tone in the Socialist Party, and whose consummate representative is Leon Blum.

The ejected workers tried to find a de ender in the Mayor. In vain. Despite all entreaties, letters, and intercessions they failed to obtain an interview. They then turned to MAURICE SPECTOR the local left newspaper "Depeche", in which Badicals and Socialists compose an indivisible cartel.
