Motion carried unanimously.

Executive Secretary's Report.

Executive Secretary [C.E. Ruthenberg] submitted a report on the progress of the F armer-Labor P arty campaign, outlining the organization wor k initiated in the states of M assachusetts, N ew York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan, Illinois, Oklahoma, California, Kansas, Nebraska, and O regon. Also membership meetings w ere arranged in most of the large P arty centers to mobiliz e the Party membership; a special leaf-let on June 17th issued; several circular letters sent to each Party unit — all in an effor t to arouse the Party membership in the F armer-Labor P arty campaign.

Report by Comrade Hathaway.

Comrade [Clar ence] Hathaway, secretary of the Minnesota Arrangements Committee [for pr eparation of the June 17th Convention of the FLP] r eported that 40,000 calls for the conv ention had been placed in the mails and that the letters inquiring about the convention from all over the country showed a gr eat interest in the June 17th convention. Up-to-date, ho w-ever, only 16 credentials had been r eceived. This has, however, been due to the fact that the calls hav e just gone out. O therwise, the arrangements ar e proceed-ing smoothly.

Policy in the June 17th Convention.

Comrade R uthenberg submitted the follo wing motion in regard to our policy in the J une 17th con-vention and in the State of P ennsylvania.

Motion (by Comrade Ruthenberg):

1. Should the June 17th be dominated b y the delegates r epresenting industrial wor kers and exploited farmers, w e shall endeavor to organiz e a F armer-La-bor Party on the basis of the constitution adopted b y the convention at which the Federated F armer-Labor Party was authoriz ed [Chicago: J uly 3-5, 1923]. We shall intensify our pr opaganda for organization of such a party.

2. If such a F armer-Labor P arty is organiz ed by the June 17th convention, we will merge the F ederated F armer-Labor P arty in it, the F ederated going out of existence as a separate organization.

3. Should the June 17th convention not be domi-nated by the class elements, but ther e is in the convention such a strong admixture of other than representatives of industrial workers and exploited farmers, so that the party if formed would not be a class party of industrial workers and farmers, then we shall not make a fight for the organization of a party, but accept a loose coalition for the election campaign.

†- This plenum of the CEC included two temporary substitute members: the Finnish Federationist George Halonen (for Foster) and the tardy Max Bedacht (for Pepper). These two regular members of the CEC, along with M.J. Olgin, were in Moscow, attempting to win the support of the Comintern for their various policies with respect to the Farmer-Labor Party and the general Third Party movement in America. The first 7 named in the list of those attending were of the majority Foster-Cannon faction, the last 3 (plus the absent Gitlow and tardy Bedacht) were members of the minority Pepper-Ruthenberg faction. Ludwig Lore headed a small "third faction" which was in alliance with the Foster-Cannon group.

4. If the conditions in point 3 prevail, we shall maintain the Federated Farmer-Labor Party as the expression of the class party of industrial workers and farmers and seek to affiliate with it all such elements. The Federated under these conditions will form part of the coalition and during the election campaign shall seek to organize itself.

5. We shall submit to the June 17th convention a clear-cut class program and make a fight for its adoption. A Committee of three shall be elected for the purpose of drafting this program.

6. The same committee shall draft a statement on the question of the candidacy of LaFollette, which shall be read to the convention after his nomination, if he is nominated, pledging our support but stating our Communist attitude toward LaFollette.

7. We shall nominate in the convention a candidate in opposition to LaFollette and cast our votes for such a candidate. We must, however, be careful to see to it that this maneuver does not defeat LaFollette, for to nominate another candidate and permit LaFollette to become the candidate of the July 4th convention in opposition to our nominee would be to destroy the class Farmer-Labor Party as a mass organization.

8. In view of the contingency that we shall have to maintain the Federated after the June 17th convention, it is our interest to strengthen the Federated through affiliation of the state parties wherever possible, and our delegates in the state convention shall be instructed to affiliate the state parties with the Federated wherever that can be done without causing a split.

9. We shall endeavor to arrange a conference between [William] Mahoney and his group before the June 17th convention to agree upon the organization of the convention and the program to be put through. We must seek to keep the chairmanship of the convention in our hands. We shall propose that the Committee of Arrangements shall act as a credential committee and bring in a report of the credentials submitted immediately upon opening the convention.

10. The group which is looming as a danger to the domination of the convention by the class elements is the Committee of 48, which is creating dummy organizations and will endeavor to flood the convention with delegates from these. Our members on the Committee of Arrangements should carefully sift credentials from this group and bar all delegates not representing bona fide organizations.

11. State Policies:

(a) [1.] In the Pennsylvania Farmer-Labor Party convention we shall offer a resolution to endorse and send delegates to the June 17th convention and against July 4th.

[2.] Our action if this resolution is defeated must depend upon the character of the convention. If it is representative of the labor movement of Pennsylvania, we shall make a statement in the convention pledging our support to June 17th and against July 4th, declaring that we shall seek to have delegates sent from all local unions and central bodies to the June 17th convention but will support the Farmer-Labor Party in Pennsylvania, provided it makes independent nominations for state offices.

[3.] Should the convention not be a representative convention but merely the shell of the old Farmer-Labor Party, we shall split after our resolution is voted down and shall form an organization committee to call a later convention pledged to June 17th from those delegates who support our viewpoint.

(b) In Massachusetts, New York, Ohio, and Illinois, we shall seek to affiliate the parties formed with the Federated, if it can be done without a split. The new parties formed, however, shall not take the name "Federated Farmer-Labor Party."

Comrade Bittelman submitted the following addition:

Amendment (by Comrade Bittelman): The following shall be the Party policy in the state convention of the state of Pennsylvania:

1. No fight shall be made against the probable proposal of James Maurer to seat as delegates to the Farmer-Labor Party convention all those who are delegates to the convention of the Pennsylvania State Federation of Labor.

2. The resolution in favor of the June 17th to be introduced by our delegates shall also deal with July 4th in a manner that will show the utter futility from the point of view of independent action in the formation of the class party at the July 4th convention.

3. Our delegates shall also raise the issue of independent political action in the state of Pennsylvania, severely criticizing James Maurer and his associates for sabotaging and practically killing the Farmer-Labor Party in Pennsylvania. The resolutions which shall be introduced shall incorporate such criticism and commit the convention to place a Farmer-Labor Party ticket in the coming local and state elections in the state of Pennsylvania.

4. Our delegates shall attempt to secure in the organization of the state Farmer-Labor Party of Pennsylvania as many positions as possible.

5. In case the convention endorses the July 4th convention, we will make an attempt to have the convention send delegates also to the June 17th convention in the capacity of observers. Our delegates acting in favor of June 17th shall be organized in a body to be known as the June 17th Propaganda Committee.

6. We shall attempt to have Hathaway and Mahoney address the Pennsylvania convention.

Michigan: That we instruct the DEC in Detroit to engage temporarily the services of a suitable comrade for the Farmer-Labor Party campaign in Michigan and that the CEC make a payment of $150 out of the Federation dues refund in addition to regular payment to finance this organizer.

Socialist Party:

1. That the CEC address an open letter to the Socialist Party calling upon it to disassociate itself with the July 4th convention and to join the June 17th convention.

2. That we instruct the Executive Secretary of the Party to utilize the services of Comrades [Harry] Winitsky and [Harry] Wicks for our Farmer-Labor Party organization campaign between now and June 17th and that they also be employed by the FSR for relief work during this period.

Addition to Ruthenberg motion by Comrade Lore:

Amendment (by Comrade Lore): That if the June 17th conference is not dominated by the class elements, a conference of all Left Wing delegates to the St. Paul convention shall be called under the auspices of the Federated Farmer-Labor Party immediately after the convention, at which a Farmer-Labor Party shall be organized which will be representative of the Left Wing elements and which will be the permanent Farmer-Labor Party.
