

AS WE SEE IT
By T. J. O'FLAHERTY

AMERICAN progressives have an excellent opportunity to come to the front and defend a poor beleaguered progressive millionaire against the conspiracy of his reactionary foes to separate him from $10,000,000 thru pure spite. This is the kind of war the progressive reveal in. The persecuted miser is Senator Couzens of Detroit who does not like Andy Mellon, Mellon's secretary of the treasury, and therefore takes great pleasure in threatening to investigate the internal revenue bureau.

COUZENS is one of the newly rich, so perhaps his noble character has not yet become "corrupted" by great wealth. It is not colossal wealth in the control of one person that our progressive object so much to, but the corrupting influence of money. Of course some invulnerable mortals escape the corrosion. What nonsense! The millions that have been poured into his happy investment in Ford fivers and in work, worth thousands of wage slaves, who are lucky to get a bare existence while Couzens plays his chest and assumes the role of martyr while he dodges a few million dollars.

THE remaining socialists in the United States are brandishing their war clubs like movie Indians and hurling their knives of imaginary bourgeois enemies. Industry is teeming with instances of the reformer's reformer, and is usually a despicable creature. The wine bibbler who looks for the last time "the glass" and then the safe cracker who becomes a church deacon, only perhaps to rob the collection box, and the fack is not looking, are characters that make souls to the movies unpopular with people of artistic temperament.

THE socialist party has reformed. Its three year debacle during which it visited every political bawdy house in the United States and sampled every conceivable variety of the classed bourgeois bootleggers offered to the prodigal son, is at an end and it returns to its vomit stage. It is not miser; it may be wiser too, but wisdom sometimes comes too late. The socialist party returns only to its vomit stage. Long, discolored lenses of brass are growing thru the cheeks in the door. Crocs are caw-cawing in the rafters.

IT is said indeed, but this is a cruel world and there is very little pity to lavish on those who allow themselves to be caught under the steam roller of progress. The only socialist weekly in the United States, the only socialist weekly officially owned and controlled by the Jewish Daily Forward, is now slapping the old bourgeois enemy with its fist and shouting, while it fills the air with raucous sound, in denouncing the porphyry of the liberals with whom it has traded its political sin for three essential years. Hard indeed is the way of the transgressor.

WHILE the socialist party is dragging its gray head in sorrow to the grave, the Workers (Communist) Party is as full of life as a kitten and as pantastic as a young buck. Some old veterans of the socialist movement cannot help admiring it from a distance as they shrink away from it. When the world war (Continued on page 2)

RUR MINERS KILLED IN BLAST, WROTE "LET WORKERS' FIGHT GO"

BERLIN, Germany, March 10.—The mine disaster which killed 141 miners at Dortmund, in the Ruhr, was due to the mad race for profits. The miners who were killed realized this.
Written in chalk on the black coal face where the miners were entombed, the rescuers found the following message: "WE ARE LOSEY. FIGHT FOR BETTER CONDITIONS. AVOID RISKS ON THE CAPITALISTS. OUR MURDERERS."
Below the message several miners were found lying dead, choked by gas. French and British miners are sending aid to the families of the dead miners.

INTERNATIONAL RED AID CALLS.
ON BALDWIN'S GROUP TO FIGHT
TERROR IN CAPITALIST LANDS

In reply to a letter of the International Committee for Political Prisoners, which announces that it is undertaking to raise relief for political prisoners, the International Red Aid calls on its American branches to participate in a drive for relief for the victims of capitalist reaction, especially naming the three countries—Estonia, Germany and Poland.
The International Red Aid draws a distinction between the so-called political prisoners in Soviet Russia, enemies of the Workers' Republic, and (Continued on page 3)

DAWES FAMILY
HEIPIED HATCH
TEAPOT BRIBERY

Charley's Brother in Heart of Oil Scandal

(Special to The Daily Worker)
CHEYENNE, Wyo., Mar. 10.—That the family of Vice President Charles Dawes was in the heart of the successful Teapot Dome plot to steal valuable oil leases from the United States government by means of bribery of the highest U. S. officials, was disclosed at the government's court of first instance in the illegal leases.
At the same time it was disclosed that the government attorneys, Atlee Pomerene and Owen Roberts, are shielding the government officials involved, and endeavoring to make Albert Fall, ex-secretary of the interior, the sole goat.
Pomerene disclosed that Bennam Dawes, president of the Pure Oil company, attended a conference at the Vanderbilt Hotel, in November 1921 at which R. W. Stewart, president of the Standard Oil company of Indiana, and other members of the oil trust were present, and at which the plot to bribe government officials was hatched.
The others present at the meeting were A. E. Humphreys, president of the Mexia Oil company of Texas, Harry Sinclair and former United States Senator Charles Thomas of Colorado.
Pomerene did not disclose, however, that the Mexia Oil company which Humphreys represented, is controlled by the Pure Oil company which Dawes is president, the Pure Oil company directly holding 90 per cent of the Mexia Oil company's stock.
Pomerene attempted to shield Dawes by stating he was "at the meeting in the proper capacity as seller and purchaser of crude oil." However, it appears that the vice president's brother took an active part in the Teapot Dome plot. It was decided at the meeting to let Mr. Miller, head of the Continental Trading company of Canada, which had just been organized for that purpose, the contract for the purchase of 33,000,000 barrels of the Dawes-Humphreys Mexia hold.
The oil was sold at the price of $1.50 per barrel, and the price was immediately turned over to the Standard Oil Company of Indiana for $1 per barrel. The $2,000,000 profit resulting from this junking were in the hands of the bribery trust.
The amount to be used as a fund to bribe the Harding-Cordell official family Dawes was a party to this deal, and is a member of the oil trust.
Pomerene declared that $126,000 of the bribery fund had been traced to "Albert Fall and his associates." The whereabouts of the rest of the bribery money is still a mystery.
Stewart, Ober, O'Neill, Blackmer and other Standard Oil witnesses during the country's trial.
Dawes is present at the trial. Dawes has not been called as a witness. Immediately after the trial, the Standard Oil company had served its purpose it was dissolved.
"Vice-President Charles E. Dawes is interested in Who's Who in America," "Interested in the gas business at Evanston, Illinois, La. Groves, Wis., Seattle, Wash., etc." Another brother Rufus Dawes, is listed in Who's Who as "business man," "business life has been spent in organizing and managing gas and electric companies. Director, Union Gas and Electric company, Metropolitan Gas and Electric company, Central Indiana Gas company, Mobile, Ala. Gas and Electric company, Southwestern Gas and Electric company, Pullaski Gas Light company, Jackson County Light and Power company, president board of education at Evanston."
The Pure Oil company, of which main Dawes is president, controls the Chicago gas distributing business of Columbus, Dayton, Springfield, Ohio, and has extensive oil, gas and electric holdings in every section of the country.

CARPENTERS IN LOCAL 181 TO
PICK NEW HEAD

Present Incumbent Is Unable to Function

When the second vice-president of the International Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners came to Chicago to rob the members of their dues, the wounds of Local 181, three things happened that he did not have on his mind.
First, a special meeting was authorized to elect a new president of the local since the present acting president was not able to function. The election will be held two weeks from last Monday night.
To insure exact information. Secondly, several letters were read from local unions asking information about the expulsion of the five members. A motion was made that the secretary first Larson should reply to the communications, but the members not being over-enthusiastic in the integrity of Larson, amended the motion so that Larson must read his replies to the local before they are forwarded.
Thirdly, a motion was passed almost unanimously demanding that the general office order a new trial for the illegally expelled members or that the charges against them be dropped and they be restored to full membership rights in the organization.
As the expelled members had agreed with the committee elected by the union to move to look into the case, to stay as long as the Monday night meeting, they were not present, but they appeared at Local 80 and 416 and were given a splendid reception when they related the story of their expulsion.
Further developments in the big struggle between the militant carpenters and the reactionaries will be told in future issues.

POLICE EJECT
AUDIENCE THAT
CHEERS SOVIETS

(Special to The Daily Worker)

NEW YORK, March 10.—Police broke up a meeting of 1,500 workers here after they had cheered for Soviet Russia, and ejected the entire audience into the street.
The meeting was presided over by Norman Hagedorn, who works for William Randolph Hearst, an editor of Hearst's magazine. A letter was read from Arturo Giovannitti, which declared there was no freedom in the United States, and praising the Soviet government.
Roger Baldwin, head of the Civil Liberties Union, arose and declared there was no freedom of speech in Soviet Russia. The audience then became noisy, and cheered for Soviet Russia, whereupon the police broke up the meeting, which was said to have been called under the auspices of the International Committee for Political Prisoners.
The version of the meeting was that the police broke up the meeting because of the demonstration for Soviet Russia, and then circulated false reports of a difference of opinion in order to justify their action.
Get a sub-make another Communist!

16,000 FAMILIES
ON CHARITY BASIS
IN COOK COUNTY.

Sixteen thousand Chicago families have been forced to accept charity from the county since Dec. 31.
Employment bureau records disclose that a lower percentage of positions have been filled than a year ago.

BOSSSES BEHIND
MAYOR DEWEY'S
TRACTION STEAL

The fact that the business and financial interests are the backers of Mayor Dewey's traction ordinance was disclosed with the announcement that funds for Dewey's campaign to turn the traction lines over to the bankers are being provided by business interests.
The "All-Chicago Council," which is pushing the ordinance, is directed by twenty men, every one of whom represents a large business concern, corporation or business association.
The directors include representatives of the Kiwanis club, the manufacturer's association, and the chamber of commerce.

CAPPPELLINI AND BRENNAN
Making Sham Fight

(Special to The Daily Worker)
PLAIN, Pa., March 10.—The Progressive Miners' Committee has put a date against the Punch and Judy show that John L. Lewis is presenting to the membership of District 1, of the United Mine Workers of America in the district elections. Against Cappellini and Brennan, two rascals who happen to be in a quarrel over a division of the spoils, the progressives have nominated Bernard Zaleski, Local 838, Nanticoke, Pa., for district president. The candidates for vice-president are John Witczura, Local 846, Nanticoke, Pa., and Sabatelli, Local 326, Oil Forge, Pa., is candidate for secretary-treasurer.

OAKLAND JOBLESS
LEARN THEY HAVE
ONE REAL LEADER

Workers Party Only
One Appearing

OAKLAND, Cal., Mar. 10.—Last night the unemployed of Oakland met again after having previously been turned down by the mayor or rather the city council, in their demands for work at union wages, or maintenance of the unemployed put in an address at a meeting held this morning at 11 o'clock at the Oakland city hall, to present their grievances again. A notice was issued Tuesday afternoon calling on the jobless to turn out.
Out of more than 5,000 registered unemployed in Oakland, only 1,000 showed up Wednesday morning at the city hall, but none of the A. F. of L. leaders of the unemployed put in an appearance, and the organized movement, which little that has been accomplished in the past, is in danger of falling to pieces, just as the liking of the parasites who feed the whole movement to be extremely annoying, and only too glad to be able to wash their hands of the whole mess. It was not to be pushed aside so easily. It was a way of hanging on.
The Workers (Communist) Party, represented by Mother Moor, was the speaker. She drew a large crowd and apparently took the breath away from the city officials. All seemed to be quite taken by surprise, as well, by the audacity of anyone daring to speak publicly for labor from the steps of our very own beautiful city hall.
She was not molested and finished her address sooner than expected due to the street becoming rather crowded and blocked.
The speaker learned one thing, at least, from their brief experience, and that is that they can rely on the Workers (Communist) Party not to lead them into blind alleys and then desert them.
Another meeting will be called Sunday afternoon which is hoped their leadership into some further action for relief.

SCHOOL BUDGET DOES
Not Provide Salary
Raise for Teachers

The proposed increase in teachers' salaries was not included in the budget prepared by Superintendent of Schools McAndrews and presented to the board of education yesterday. The budget totals $65,560,244.25 to meet expenses on schools during the coming year.
The total deficit of the board of education is now $19,146,000.

German Unions Threaten
Strike to Aid Railwaymen
Against Dawes Slavery

(Special to The Daily Worker)

BERLIN, March 10.—Unless the Dawes Plan railway administration ceases its haughty attitude and reaches an agreement with the striking railway workers by Wednesday, the workers of other industries threaten to call a complete general strike.
The unions of other industries have instructed all workers to refuse to work in the strike districts, while the railwaymen will hold a general meeting Wednesday, to determine future action in case the management does not meet their demands by that date.
The railwaymen are extremely angry at the Dawes Plan managers for raising the salary of the high officials while ignoring the actual workers, who are living below the line of decency and are half-starved all the time.
An idea of the condition of German labor under the Dawes plan of enslavement, may be gathered from the fact that the average weekly wages for a skilled worker in Germany during January was 36 marks and 77 pfennigs, or less than $9. Skilled workers in the steel mills averaged only 35 marks and 52 pfennigs. This accounts for the general response among all workers to support the railway workers.

His Last Service to "Liberty"

DEPORTATION LAW

The federal government is trying to liquidate the grievance committees which were established by Cappellini before he was deported from the district. The district executive board command- ing the district district board of business. Many local unions are non-concurring in the action of the district executive board.
There are seven candidates in the field for the district presidency. The only one who has been named by the union slate outside of Brennan and Cappellini (Continued on page 4)

GAL'S SENATORS
SUPPORT SUGAR
TRUST LAWYER

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 10.—The United States senate this afternoon took the almost unprecedented action of rejecting president's cabinet selection, when it voted against the confirmation of Charles B. Warren, of Toledo, to be attorney general.

STUDENTS OF PARTY
SCHOOL, YOU MUST
REGISTER AT ONCE!

All Chicago comrades who have been chosen for the intensive training school, must register at the district office, 19 S. Lincoln street, by Thursday, March 12—at the latest. Register by phone, calling Seelye 3562.
All out-of-town students should be in Chicago and report at district office, 19 S. Lincoln street, by Sunday evening, March 15, at 6 p. m. They will be assigned accommodations. All who cannot come before Monday morning, but who will be on time for the opening classes on that date, will please notify district office.
The classes start Monday, March 16, at 9 a. m., at 722 Broadway Ave. All students, both from Chicago and outside points, must report at this address—722 Broadway Ave., by 8:30 a. m. that day, without fail.
Call "Arms Stores" Bank
NEW YORK, March 10.—Students of arms and munitions in preparation for another war were called "stink" today by James H. Bushington, formerly ambassador to Berlin, who served here today on the American foreign visit prior to taking up his new duties as United States ambassador to Great Britain.

IRISH PEASANTS FLEEING IN
THOUSANDS FROM CROP FAMINE

NEW YORK, March 10.—When the Cunard liner Caronia reached here yesterday, over five hundred Irish peasants stayed in a ship's hold. The great majority of them came from the famine regions of the west of Ireland, from which an exodus is taking place unequalled since the terrible famine scourge of the middle part of the nineteenth century depopulated the population to the tune of over one million souls.

German Unions Threaten
Strike to Aid Railwaymen
Against Dawes Slavery

(Special to The Daily Worker)
BERLIN, March 10.—Unless the Dawes Plan railway administration ceases its haughty attitude and reaches an agreement with the striking railway workers by Wednesday, the workers of other industries threaten to call a complete general strike.
The unions of other industries have instructed all workers to refuse to work in the strike districts, while the railwaymen will hold a general meeting Wednesday, to determine future action in case the management does not meet their demands by that date.
The railwaymen are extremely angry at the Dawes Plan managers for raising the salary of the high officials while ignoring the actual workers, who are living below the line of decency and are half-starved all the time.
An idea of the condition of German labor under the Dawes plan of enslavement, may be gathered from the fact that the average weekly wages for a skilled worker in Germany during January was 36 marks and 77 pfennigs, or less than $9. Skilled workers in the steel mills averaged only 35 marks and 52 pfennigs. This accounts for the general response among all workers to support the railway workers.

His Last Service to "Liberty"

DEPORTATION LAW

The federal government is trying to liquidate the grievance committees which were established by Cappellini before he was deported from the district. The district executive board command- ing the district district board of business. Many local unions are non-concurring in the action of the district executive board.
There are seven candidates in the field for the district presidency. The only one who has been named by the union slate outside of Brennan and Cappellini (Continued on page 4)

OAKLAND JOBLESS
LEARN THEY HAVE
ONE REAL LEADER

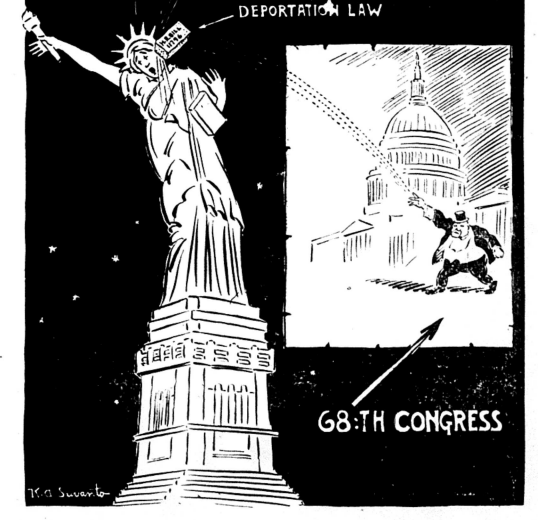

OAKLAND, Cal., Mar. 10.—Last night the unemployed of Oakland met again after having previously been turned down by the mayor or rather the city council, in their demands for work at union wages, or maintenance of the unemployed put in an address at a meeting held this morning at 11 o'clock at the Oakland city hall, to present their grievances again. A notice was issued Tuesday afternoon calling on the jobless to turn out.
Out of more than 5,000 registered unemployed in Oakland, only 1,000 showed up Wednesday morning at the city hall, but none of the A. F. of L. leaders of the unemployed put in an appearance, and the organized movement, which little that has been accomplished in the past, is in danger of falling to pieces, just as the liking of the parasites who feed the whole movement to be extremely annoying, and only too glad to be able to wash their hands of the whole mess. It was not to be pushed aside so easily. It was a way of hanging on.
The Workers (Communist) Party, represented by Mother Moor, was the speaker. She drew a large crowd and apparently took the breath away from the city officials. All seemed to be quite taken by surprise, as well, by the audacity of anyone daring to speak publicly for labor from the steps of our very own beautiful city hall.
She was not molested and finished her address sooner than expected due to the street becoming rather crowded and blocked.
The speaker learned one thing, at least, from their brief experience, and that is that they can rely on the Workers (Communist) Party not to lead them into blind alleys and then desert them.
Another meeting will be called Sunday afternoon which is hoped their leadership into some further action for relief.

STUDENTS OF PARTY
SCHOOL, YOU MUST
REGISTER AT ONCE!

All Chicago comrades who have been chosen for the intensive training school, must register at the district office, 19 S. Lincoln street, by Thursday, March 12—at the latest. Register by phone, calling Seelye 3562.
All out-of-town students should be in Chicago and report at district office, 19 S. Lincoln street, by Sunday evening, March 15, at 6 p. m. They will be assigned accommodations. All who cannot come before Monday morning, but who will be on time for the opening classes on that date, will please notify district office.
The classes start Monday, March 16, at 9 a. m., at 722 Broadway Ave. All students, both from Chicago and outside points, must report at this address—722 Broadway Ave., by 8:30 a. m. that day, without fail.
Call "Arms Stores" Bank
NEW YORK, March 10.—Students of arms and munitions in preparation for another war were called "stink" today by James H. Bushington, formerly ambassador to Berlin, who served here today on the American foreign visit prior to taking up his new duties as United States ambassador to Great Britain.

IRISH PEASANTS FLEEING IN
THOUSANDS FROM CROP FAMINE

NEW YORK, March 10.—When the Cunard liner Caronia reached here yesterday, over five hundred Irish peasants stayed in a ship's hold. The great majority of them came from the famine regions of the west of Ireland, from which an exodus is taking place unequalled since the terrible famine scourge of the middle part of the nineteenth century depopulated the population to the tune of over one million souls.

PEAT SUPPLY FAILURE HITS IRISH FISHERS Arran Islanders Sorely In Need of Fuel

(Special to The Daily Worker) KILRONAN, Arran Island. (By Mail)—The failure of the potato crop has not affected the natives of these three islands as badly as the destruction of the peat supply on the Connemara mountains, owing to the heavy floods.

Usually a heavy rainfall does not adversely affect the fuel supply on the islands, the staple being potatoes and fish. Owing to the limestone potato crop thrives better in a rainy season than a dry one. What hit the islanders hardest was the failure of the fishing industry.

The standard of living of the Arran Islanders is not high by any means and when crops are fairly good, the fishing industry prospers and a plentiful supply of peat available the natives are considerably better off than the townspeople, and in Troilip compared to the slum dwellers of such English cities as Liverpool, where thousands of the pauperized Irish live huddled in the cramped sections of the land.

Most of the emigration from this section is to the United States, particularly the New England states and San Francisco.

The Main Industry. Fishing is the main industry here. Besides the main fish, several thousand barrels of herrings and large quantities of other varieties of fish are available for export. This year's output to the depositories of the steam trawlers the entire export was only 250 barrels.

No fuel whatever grows on the island. Outside of a few trees in the areas surrounding the houses of the protestant minister and a former jail warden for a few years, the islands are bare except for ferns and fern bushes. In normal times the islanders exchange fish and sometimes potatoes with the Connemara peasants for small fuel for at least for one year. The Connemara peasants on the turf in the bog, dry it and haul it to the island across the nine mile straits of Galway bay in hookers. Thirty dollars in English money was the average price for a year's supply of turf or dried peat.

Parasites Have Conveniences. The year there was no turf and no money with which to buy coal owing to the bad fishing season. There were very few stores of peat on the island and the houses of the protestant minister and the homes of the other bunkers of the government. The houses in the peasant huts were built with thatched roofs and were not suited for burning coal, but perfectly alright for a nice blazine fire when the wind died out.

"The little steamer which is the only public carrier connects the islands with the mainland twice between Galway and the islands once a week. It takes an hour and a half to reach the islands. It is one of the toughest but best sea anchors around the British Isles.

Dangerous Work. There are no plants at the two small islands on the west coast. The fishermen in their primitive canoes. This is dangerous work in bad weather but these hardy fishermen are accustomed to danger and accidents resulting in death are very rare. The women may realize that they never sink.

The Islanders were relieved to learn that the Irish Workers' and Peasants' Aid Committee was organized in America to raise funds for relief of the thousands of people in the New York, Portland, Seattle, and New York from these islands and the thousands of those who help to keep the peat bogs and the fish barrels in the remote islands of Galway bay.

It Was Worth More. MARCH 19.—A pension of $100 a month is being paid by the government to the widow of the late president of the British Trade Union Congress. It is an honor which is not given to any other person in the world for the services of the late president to the labor movement.

Chicago, Notice! The local DAILY WORKER AGENCY (Editor Lewis Agency) has moved to 19 SO. LINCOLN ST. Phone 322-3232

Call or write for all Communist Books and Pamphlets The Little Red Library The Workers Monthly The Daily Worker

Women Judges Render Red Justice

The district court of justice in Moscow now has two women judges, both of whom were laborers in a factory at the time of the revolution. They engaged the law school of Moscow University, were graduated some months ago, and appointed to the court by the Moscow Soviet. Left, Comrade Nenas; right, Comrade Kozhich, hearing a case.

TRAITOR LEADERS OF AMSTERDAM INTERNATIONAL, IN INTERVIEWS, REVEAL AIMS AGAINST RUSSIA

MOSCOW, February 20.—(By Mail)—The Pravda, in its leading article under the heading "The Maneuver of the Amsterdam Diplomats," writes: "We have often stated that the declaration of the International Federation of Trade Unions (I. F. T. U.) regarding the Russian trade unions is nothing else but a diplomatic maneuver. The resolution carried by the majority of the Amsterdam executive is formulated in such a manner that it tries vainly to impose upon Russian labor the rules, usages and customs of the I. F. T. U."

Russian labor proposed an unconditional conference, upon which the Amsterdam majority politely invites itself to be invited to the conference. The I. F. T. U., who reject all the of the class struggle and substitute for it the Geneva labor office of the league of nations.

Our friends in the British trade union movement voted against the resolution, but they believe that the view of the resolution is erroneous and that we are the victims of a misrepresentation. Mr. Purcell believes that the Amsterdam executive is formulated in such a manner that it tries vainly to impose upon Russian labor the rules, usages and customs of the I. F. T. U."

Unfortunately, our British friends over estimated the Amsterdam right wing, and our skepticism has proved to be well founded.

Amsterdamers Explain What It Means. In an interview with a representative of the Daily Worker, he interprets the meaning of the resolution in the following manner. First, the resolution is but a continuation of the line laid down by the Vienna conference; secondly, it presupposes that the British and the American workers and the principles of the I. F. T. U., this, it presupposes that Russian labor should not affiliate and sign agreements about details.

Traitor Leaders of Amsterdam. Mr. Stuchlik was the same man who makes, in addition, some sensational reflections on "liberating Russian labor from the International Soviet organization." According to this, Russian trade unions should not only accept the Amsterdam rules, but become an appendix of the league of nations labor office, should the Russian trade unions reject this, then they would, according to Mr. Stuchlik, be guilty of disgracing working class unity. There is no need for any comradely words here, have proved well founded.

British Too Trusting. It is now clear that our British friends have unconsciously allowed themselves to be misled and that the view of the Pravda regarding the Amsterdam resolution corresponds to the real state of things. In fact, we have not to do with any misunderstanding, but with a cunningly planned very clever maneuver of the Amsterdam leaders, who, unlike the German, Dutch and Belgian socialists, do not openly demand the exclusion of Russian labor, but are putting up backed who obstruct the work of achieving international labor unity.

Another Fairy Tale On Zinoviev. It is useless to refer to the senseless hope of those who believe in the imaginary opposition between Zinoviev and the Russian trade union movement. This is a stupid myth. The Russian trade unions and the British organizations of British labor desire to see the Russian and British workers class united and they will achieve unity in spite of the petty diplomacy in spite of the petty trickery of some individuals who are shutting their eyes to the real needs of international labor.

The Tough Job of a King. LOS ANGELES, March 19.—The role of King today, when he took the place of his father at a levee in St. James palace.

INTERNATIONAL RED AID URGES WORKERS' FIGHT Calls for Battle for Class War Victims

(Continued from page 1) to the victims of the class war in capitalist lands. The I. R. A. has addressed to Roger Baldwin, temporary chairman, is as follows: Letter to Baldwin. Dear Mr. Baldwin: In your letter of December 13, 1934, to the International Workers' Aid you say the following: "A group here in New York is undertaking to raise ransom for political prisoners abroad. It includes political prisoners in Russia as well as in other countries. We want to relate our work to that which you are doing and we want to ask you to designate one or two representatives of the International Workers' Aid who would be helpful as a member of the committee."

Your proposal as it stands is totally unacceptable to us. We cannot for the moment take on one level and level in the same manner the counter-revolutionaries and assassins of the working class imprisoned in Soviet Russia with the brave and courageous fighters for the liberation of political prisoners by the capitalist governments. Political prisoners of the Soviet government are being held in the same manner of time of the international reaction to obstruct and overthrow the revolutionary and socialist parties. While the political prisoners of the capitalist countries are in jail as a result of the class struggle, the Soviet working class and to the oppressed masses generally.

AS WE SEE IT By T. O'FLAHERTY. (Continued from page 1) was going strong and the counter-revolutionaries were trying to get Constantine to step one side or the other, that was the purpose of the article. When two bull dogs are quarrelling, lap dogs should make themselves scarce. This is no exception on the old revolution who lack the energy to hitch on to a cyclone. Perhaps the king of Greece could have selected a more appropriate spokesman.

The class struggle, all the world over is not exactly what it used to be in the days of the Second International. It did look like a friendly match, an "after you" service in the political civilities between the intellectual aristocrat, who condescended to lead the working class, provided the workers observed the rules of decorum, and the bourgeois leaders, who could appreciate an argument without sinning it home to supper and chew on it along with the corn beef.

There were some exceptions of course and we must not forget that the same was done, with tremendous strikes, lockouts, military suppression and the like. The bourgeoisie and the workers were in a struggle, but the bourgeoisie was unquestionably in the lead. There was no general agreement as to how power should be wrested from the bourgeoisie. All but the few exceptions, and it is under the leadership of these exceptions that a mighty movement is being built today, a movement conscious of its mission.

A Workers School in Chicago may be it is because the Workers Party of America is part of that great world movement under the leadership of the Communist International that scores of militants, fresh from the mine and the workshops are coming to Chicago next week to study the basic principles of Communism, and receive instructions from competent teachers on how to bring the principles of Communism to the masses. The Workers (Communist) Party has no time to waste on philosophical windmill tilting, or on chasing elusive question marks. Life is too urgent nowadays for that. We are living in a period of world social order and the birth of a new one.

THE Workers (Communist) Party is not alone teaching Communism but it is training the Communist army that will in turn train and organize the workers for the task of their own liberation. The workers school which will be held next week is a step of great significance. It means that the workers are seeking after knowledge for the sake of knowledge, which was the typical of old time socialist parades. Communists teach and learn with a purpose.

Red Reichstag Members Expose Ebert's Treachery. BERLIN, Germany, March 19.—W. Max has been elected premier of Prussia by a slim majority. Max resigned last month after falling to a vote of no confidence.

The Communists in the German Reichstag expose Ebert's treachery. Ebert's elaborate funeral. Comrade Rembe contrasted Ebert's funeral with the funeral of the workers' leader with the funeral of Nikolai Lenin, leader of the Soviet government.

Max told how millions of workers and peasants mourned Lenin's death, because they understood that Lenin represented the workers, whereas Ebert betrayed the workers' interests with their oppressors.

March Days Are Here; They Topped Czarism Thruout All of Russia

By J. LOUIS ENGBAHL. TODAY, the policeman's club, protector of all things capitalist, swings a little more threateningly with the coming of spring. Few among the great army of police know that March is the anniversary month of the Paris Commune, when the workers of France became restless on a large scale, years ago. But they know that this is the month when workers come out of their hovels for a bit of sunshine, when whole families of the working class prove again that the public parks are not for the poor.

In Chicago, annually, about this time the hordes of unemployed job hunters hunt a comfortable spot on the grass in Grant Park, on the lake front, to grab a wink of sleep before renewing their search. It is their "lodging." But the sting of the policeman's club on the soles of their shoes, soon awakens them to realities. They are kept on "the move," because the plutocratic guests, of the exclusive hotels opposite on Michigan Boulevard, object to the sight of them.

This situation has its counterpart in every American city. It reaches some of its most oppressive phases, for instance, in the 52 arrests made last Sunday, in aristocratic Central Park in New York City, bordered on all sides by the palaces and the apartment houses of the great and near rich. Every spring brings these arrests. "The summer finds the "terror" victorious and rampant. The 52 arrests, mostly of the heads of working class families, were for such offences, as seriously reported in the New York World, or you wouldn't believe it, "stepping on the grass, scattering waste paper and holding picnics in forbidden spots." The confession is made that most of the arrests were on the upper, less exclusive end of the park, the "romping ground of many of the foreign born who are unaware of the park rules." But under capitalist rule, in free America, "ignorance of the law excuses no one," and the working class family, in addition to having its hard-bought Sunday, objects, scattering waste paper and holding picnics in forbidden spots. The confession is made that most of the arrests were on the upper, less exclusive end of the park, the "romping ground of many of the foreign born who are unaware of the park rules." But under capitalist rule, in free America, "ignorance of the law excuses no one," and the working class family, in addition to having its hard-bought Sunday, objects, scattering waste paper and holding picnics in forbidden spots. The confession is made that most of the arrests were on the upper, less exclusive end of the park, the "romping ground of many of the foreign born who are unaware of the park rules." But under capitalist rule, in free America, "ignorance of the law excuses no one," and the working class family, in addition to having its hard-bought Sunday, objects, scattering waste paper and holding picnics in forbidden spots.

W. A. Clark, the copper multi-millionaire, has just died, so he will not be troubled longer in his Fifth Avenue castle by workers in Central Park; but Elbert H. Gary, head of the United States Steel Trust, objects, must as the father lose a day's wage as he appears in Yorkville Park Court, the following day, perhaps to pay a brutal fine levied by a Bolshevik-hating judge who sees Moscow mirrored in every alley.

All this is merely symptomatic of the American czarist system. American capitalism fails to reach its own doom in the fact that eight years ago, today, the workers had gone on strike in Petrograd now Leningrad; that they had elected their Council of Workers' Delegates; that the Great Russian Revolution, that was to reach its crowning victory with the Bolshevik triumph in November was on; that the czar was gone.

Twelve years before, 1905, the Russian workers had attempted to seize power. But Bloody Sunday was their lot. Their heroic efforts came to naught temporarily; they were drowned in the blood of the working class. But the year 1917 was no "Bloody Sunday." It was the czar's turn to fail. It was the hour of the workers' victory.

These March days see repeated insults heaped upon the workers in the United States by their capitalist masters. "Stepping on the grass" is a crime in New York City's Central Park; just as resisting wage cuts in criminal in the New England textile mills; the organization of the coal miners outlawed in West Virginia, Kentucky and elsewhere; just as it is a serious offense to be out of work in "The South," where migrant labor put under arrest, is sent in convict gangs to the turpentine and lumber camps.

But even the working class of the United States will reach its own day of glorious March days of triumph. Now is the time for all workers to prepare, thru getting acquainted with the Communist message of deliverance; thru joining the Workers (Communist) Party; thru struggling under Communist leadership in the unions, among the unorganized, the poor farmers, wherever there is an opportunity to awaken the downtrodden for the last battle of the class war. The March days are here.

RED AID DEFIES GLASGOW POLICE AT BIG MEETING 2,000 Workers Send Note to German Reds

GLASGOW, Scotland, March 18.—The International Class War Prisoners' Aid held a demonstration in St. Andrew's hall here, at which over two thousand workers passed a resolution protesting against the persecution of the Communists of Germany, and denouncing the moral trait of the Communist in Leipzig.

The Glasgow magistrates, on hearing of the meeting, refused permission for the holding of the demonstration and ordered it suppressed by the police. The Workers' Aid, however, held a meeting in defiance of the magistrates. The Trades Council, of Glasgow, on hearing of the magistrates attempt to disrupt the meeting, took an active part in the proceedings. The president of the Trades Council, Mr. James Macdonald, presided at the meeting. Addresses were made by Jim Rankin, Helen Crawford and an Indian speaker. A resolution was passed condemning the action of the magistrates in ordering the meeting to be abandoned. Many police were present, both inside and outside the hall, but the demonstration was allowed to proceed. A message of solidarity with the German workers and Communist was ordered sent to Germany immediately.

Patronize our advertisers.

Information Wanted!

SOL KOTCH, (alias) JOE MILLER, Left New York City in September, 1921. He corresponded regularly with his parents until, without any apparent reason, he was last heard from in St. Louis, in 1923, at which time he indicated his intention of going farther West. His parents are anxious to know what became of him and information would be appreciated from any one who knows his present whereabouts or who may have seen him subsequent to 1923. Address his father, Usher Kotch, 2119 61st St., Brooklyn, N.Y.

WHITE TERRORISTS FOR RUSSIA—ASK FOR MERCY—Against Its Enemies!

By Max Bedacht. WHEN—the counter-revolutionaries are campaigning against the world's first workers' government, and Abramovich, arch-traitor, is today poisoning the minds of American workers—

This splendid pamphlet should be in your hands and widely distributed. It is not only an exposure of counter-revolutionary forces, but a splendid argument for the recognition of Soviet Russia.

A timely propaganda pamphlet contrasting the treatment of political prisoners in Soviet Russia and the treatment of working class prisoners under the White Terror.

For your party branches and International Workers' Aid groups—and in your shop and union—

ORDER A BUNDLE! Now at 3 Cents a Copy Single Copy 5 Cents Each

Name _____ Street _____ City _____ State _____

THE DAILY WORKER

Published by the DAILY WORKER PUBLISHING CO. 1115 W. Wabash, Ill. (Phone: Monroe 4713)

SUBSCRIPTION RATES By mail: $2.00 per year, $1.50 for 6 months, $1.00 for 3 months. Address all mail and make out checks to THE DAILY WORKER, Chicago, Illinois

J. LOUIS ENDORF, Editor; WILLIAM F. DONNE, Business Manager; MORRIS J. LOEB, Editor

Entered as second-class mail Sept. 21, 1932, at the Post Office at Chicago, Ill., under the act of March 3, 1879.

Advertising rates on application

Free Speech and Counter-Revolution

The petty bourgeois anarchist elements, with such opportunistic leaders as Norman Haggood, high-priced corpse in the Beirut parlor house playing leading roles, has organized a "committee for relief of political prisoners in Russia."

It has been very hard for some of the so-called liberals, who are really anarchists in disguise, to keep from showing their true colors as enemies of the Soviet government. They have finally decided that free speech just like we have in the United States must be had by their counter-revolutionary Kinkoff in Russia. They have looked clear across France, Germany, Italy, Poland, Estonia, Finland, Lithuania, Rumania, Bulgaria, Jugoslavia, with their eyes fixed on the attacks on Soviet Russia cheered the workers' and peasants' government and left in disgust. As usual, the counter-revolutionary forces of freedom called the police just when their little comrade Abrahamovitch was speaking.

It has been very hard for some of the so-called liberals, who are really anarchists in disguise, to keep from showing their true colors as enemies of the Soviet government. They have finally decided that free speech just like we have in the United States must be had by their counter-revolutionary Kinkoff in Russia.

This same crew is holding a dinner on March 23. They have the infernal craft to announce in their advertising that the proceeds of the dinner are "to further the work of the Kropotkin museum at Moscow." In the capital of the only country in the world where workers and peasants are established, because of the power and toleration of the Soviet government, the murderers of the workers and peasants are being supported by individuals in this country so shamelessly that they capitalize their own crimes to ever be revolutionists.

It will be interesting and instructive to watch the development of the entente cordiale between the labor fakers, the agents of capitalist government, and the friends of the capitalist system. The same old way of the social revolution and will find a way to one another's arms.

Ohio Miners' Problems

The convention of sub-district number 5 of District 6, United Mine Workers of America, now in session in Bellaire, Ohio, represents 18,000 workers. This is quite a good sized union for the American labor movement and the convention would be an important one over the sub-district were not a part of the largest union in the American Federation of Labor.

The left wing organized around the Workers' Control Party and the Trade Union Educational League has much strength in this sub-district. At the convention it has the task of equipping the membership with the left wing program and combating the ineffective and "class" program of the right wing.

The convention is meeting at the time the coal barons are organizing their forces for a new drive on the union. There is much unemployment in this and the surrounding districts. There is need for an alliance with the railway workers for the interests of both groups. There is the question of world unity of the trade union movement raised by the Red International of Labor Unions and sub-districts of the fellow bureaucrats of the Amsterdam International. There is the question of the recognition of Soviet Russia. There is the need for independent political action. There is the need for support of the strike of the Nova Scotia miners. There is the issue raised by the decision of the executive board of District 12 declaring unemployment councils "unal organization."

In addition to those pressing problems of general interest there are many questions of a local character. The militants in the Bellaire convention have plenty to do. After it has adjourned they will have nothing to do but continue their fight for the left wing program among the rank and file but that is what militants are organized for.

Outlawing War

The Women's Peace Union, at conference held in New York recently, decided to throw all its energies into securing the passage of a federal amendment making war illegal. This is the height of utter futility. Childlike trust and abiding faith in the processes of capitalist society and sub-districts of the fellow bureaucrats of the Amsterdam International. There is the question of the recognition of Soviet Russia. There is the need for independent political action. There is the need for support of the strike of the Nova Scotia miners. There is the issue raised by the decision of the executive board of District 12 declaring unemployment councils "unal organization."

War is a terrible thing, but there is something worse than war, the absurd ignorance of the causes of war, the manner in which it is brought about and the role of capitalist government in war and peace.

Capitalist democracy is organized not to give but to prevent the effective expression of the millions who are used by cannon fodder when capitalist war is waged. It is the machinery of capitalist government to outlaw war by appointing a mousetraps as prohibition enforcement officer.

Send in that new "sub" today!

STAGE SET FOR BIG BATTLE AT MINERS' MEET

Progressive Is Elected; Fakers Oust Him

BELLAIRE, Ohio, March 10.—With the opening of the annual sub-district convention of the Eastern Ohio section of the United Mine Workers of America, the progressive forces led by J. J. Hope of this city and Frank Ledvicka, executive, sub-district Lewis told and present incumbent of the office of district president.

One of the highlights of the convention is expected to take place over the failure of the trustees' report to declare the rank and file must be represented. The rank and file must be represented. The rank and file must be represented. The rank and file must be represented.

The disbanding of the fakers is working by the fact that a supporter of the progressive forces, who is not working by his trade was elected by Ledvicka's voters. The trustees' report to declare the rank and file must be represented. The rank and file must be represented. The rank and file must be represented.

Another Fargery Before the convention opened, the usual red fire campaign was organized by the trustees and their cohorts. A fake telegram after the fashion of the British royal family was sent to the convention. The trustees' report to declare the rank and file must be represented. The rank and file must be represented. The rank and file must be represented.

There is nothing in the agreement between the United Mine Workers and the operators to compel the company to operate the colliery if they feel that it is not paying proposition. The trustees' report to declare the rank and file must be represented. The rank and file must be represented. The rank and file must be represented.

On War on Radicals The progressive miners report asking why John J. Lewis does not lead the union fight instead of draining the treasury in carrying on crusades against the radicals. The trustees' report to declare the rank and file must be represented. The rank and file must be represented. The rank and file must be represented.

For Progressive Platform In a circulation issued by the progressive forces before the last sub-district convention, the miners are urged to support the progressive candidates. They stood for the progressive program and the trustees' report to declare the rank and file must be represented. The rank and file must be represented. The rank and file must be represented.

When the trustees report on the voting for officers in the last sub-district convention was made, J. J. Hope asked why a tabulated vote was not sent to the local unions before the convention as prescribed by the constitution. District President Lee Hall, in good faith, explained that the constitution did not specify when voting returns should be sent.

John Jones, sub-district vice-president, attacked strikes in his report and declared they were seldom justified. He urged the union label, the sub-district officials use seal paper for letter heads from using union label on printing.

When the trustees report on the voting for officers in the last sub-district convention was made, J. J. Hope asked why a tabulated vote was not sent to the local unions before the convention as prescribed by the constitution. District President Lee Hall, in good faith, explained that the constitution did not specify when voting returns should be sent.

When the trustees report on the voting for officers in the last sub-district convention was made, J. J. Hope asked why a tabulated vote was not sent to the local unions before the convention as prescribed by the constitution. District President Lee Hall, in good faith, explained that the constitution did not specify when voting returns should be sent.

When the trustees report on the voting for officers in the last sub-district convention was made, J. J. Hope asked why a tabulated vote was not sent to the local unions before the convention as prescribed by the constitution. District President Lee Hall, in good faith, explained that the constitution did not specify when voting returns should be sent.

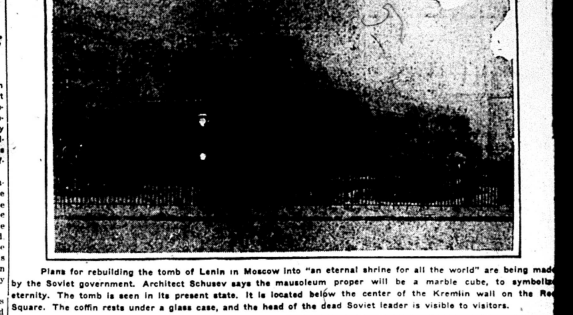

When the trustees report on the voting for officers in the last sub-district convention was made, J. J. Hope asked why a tabulated vote was not sent to the local unions before the convention as prescribed by the constitution. District President Lee Hall, in good faith, explained that the constitution did not specify when voting returns should be sent.

When the trustees report on the voting for officers in the last sub-district convention was made, J. J. Hope asked why a tabulated vote was not sent to the local unions before the convention as prescribed by the constitution. District President Lee Hall, in good faith, explained that the constitution did not specify when voting returns should be sent.

When the trustees report on the voting for officers in the last sub-district convention was made, J. J. Hope asked why a tabulated vote was not sent to the local unions before the convention as prescribed by the constitution. District President Lee Hall, in good faith, explained that the constitution did not specify when voting returns should be sent.

Plan to Make Lenin's Tomb "World Shrine"

Plans for rebuilding the tomb of Lenin in Moscow into "an eternal shrine for all the world" are being made by the Soviet government. Architect Schusev says the mausoleum proper will be a marble cube, its symbol the tomb is set in its present state. It is located along the center of the Kremlin wall on the Red Square. The coffin rests under a glass case, and the head of the dead Soviet leader is visible to visitors.

Plans for rebuilding the tomb of Lenin in Moscow into "an eternal shrine for all the world" are being made by the Soviet government. Architect Schusev says the mausoleum proper will be a marble cube, its symbol the tomb is set in its present state. It is located along the center of the Kremlin wall on the Red Square. The coffin rests under a glass case, and the head of the dead Soviet leader is visible to visitors.

Coal Miners Support Militants

These committees, so that they will develop a militant leadership. Against Capitalists "Many years of experience with the abstract and the concrete in the mine, we are beginning to realize that when grievances are being discussed and settled the rank and file must be represented. We call upon the miners of the district No. 1 to demand settlements of all grievances be made within the days."

"We demand a minimum day rate for the contract miners and laborers that will assure us a day's wages when we must wait for cars, timbers, tools and other material. We demand the abolition of top ping. The progressive miners contend the industry must furnish a living wage to every coal miner, and this can only be done by a six-hour day with the same wages we receive while working eight hours. We also demand the abolition of top ping."

Rank And File Elections "The right to revoke charters should be denied union officials who refuse to act in accordance with the original program of the United Mine Workers of America. We demand the district and the international constitution be amended to provide for the election by the rank and file of all organizers and traveling salesmen."

"We call upon the miners of District No. 1 to endorse a call for a special international convention to reinstate Alex. Howat, Tom Meyer, Joseph, militant progressives into our ranks. We demand the district and the international constitution be amended to provide for the election by the rank and file of all organizers and traveling salesmen."

Revolutionary Party "We stand for independent working class political action under the leadership of a revolutionary working class political party striving for the abolition of capitalism and the establishment of workers' and farmers' government."

"We demand an intensive organization campaign be started to bring every miner into the United Mine Workers of America. We demand equal wages, working conditions and rights in the union for young miners."

The progressive miners demand the unconditional recognition of Soviet Russia, not only because trade with Russia would stimulate industry in this country, but also because the Russian workers by their heroic struggle have abolished capitalist exploitation and now own the industry and run them in the interests of the workers.

The progressive miners are unconditionally opposed to all sectional and dual union movements. We must remain within the U. M. W. of A. and settle our differences and problems through a practical and constructive manner.

Boy at Play Bleeds to Death GALSBERG, Ill., March 10.—While playing cowboy and Indian with other boys, Harold McWilliam, 10, of Monmouth, fell from a scooter and a butcher knife which he carried around his neck in his leg. He died in a hospital here after a week's treatment.

Give your shopmate this copy of the DAILY WORKER but be sure to see him the next day to get his subscription.

Graveyard Fire Destroy Church CHICAGO, Ill., March 10.—Catholic fire from burning rickshaws in the graveyard, the $100,000 Catholic church here was a mass of charred timbers today despite the work of fire department from Carlisle, Ill. and St. Louis.

The Missing Teapot Worksheet

Related echoes of the Teapot Dome scandal are to be heard if one listens carefully.

The government is making an effort to convince the populace that it is really going to punish somebody for stealing the naval oil reserves in Wyoming and in Cheyenne a farcical trial of the enterprising thieves is in progress.

All important witnesses are conspicuous by their absence. They are all busy men and have been called away on weighty affairs of the oil concerns they represent.

"Can the government interfere with the duties of officials of patriotic corporations like the Standard Oil company of Indiana, which is a government witness against Fall, is the former head? Can the government have its agents secret and bring into court the former head of the Midwest Refining company, H. M. Blackmer, who is also wanted as a witness against Fall? Then there is a gentleman named Oler, head of the Continental Oil company, who with the other three and Senator Fall took part in a meeting held in the Vanderbilt Hotel in New York, November, 1921, at which Bernard Dawson, brother of the mine one, was also present.

Some consideration must be shown men of such high standing in the business life of the nation. They cannot be treated like workers who have sinned by urging the overthrow of capitalism and organizing their fellows for the purpose of establishing a workers' and farmers' government.

O'Neil and Blackmer are in France. Stewart is on his way to South America. Oler is in Africa. All have heeded the call of the wanderlust and no time in answering it—as soon as the date of the trial was set.

It was at this meeting of pals now forced to part that was arranged the purchase of $200,000,000 of liberty bonds of which $100,000,000 went into the hands of Senator Fall. The balance has not been found and it is believed that the four missing witnesses could tell much concerning their present whereabouts and other things.

It is obvious that this is a delicate matter—particularly so since one of the Dawes family is now vice-president of the United States.

The trips that the witnesses have chosen are said to be of sufficient duration to allow for the last remnants of public indignation to be dispelled. This is a much better method than putting them on the witness stand and compelling them to be about their behavior and that it does away with a lot of needless publicity that might stir up the populace and precipitate further inquiries that could be nothing but embarrassing to our honest, economical and business like government.

The prosecution trusts that the more the remnants of public indignation to be dispelled. This is a much better method than putting them on the witness stand and compelling them to be about their behavior and that it does away with a lot of needless publicity that might stir up the populace and precipitate further inquiries that could be nothing but embarrassing to our honest, economical and business like government.

Every day get a "sub" for the DAILY WORKER, and a member for the Workers Party.

Communists in German Rail Strike

The Communist Party in the lead in the railway strike in Germany.

The social-democratic union and government of Berlin appeared with proposals for postponement, arbitration, etc., anything to demoralize and weaken the workers in their struggle. The Communists raised the slogan of a general strike. The action of the union leaders is the more desperate in that they have not even their usual excuse that the railways are public property. The railways are in private hands and the workers are needed for the international bankers since the Dawes plan largely rests on the capitalists and carries for the worker to Germany.

Even the transitional government ownership of the Reich was too liberal for the allied plunder band.

There is talk of the rise of German fascism since the death of Hitler, but if all the workers show as much militancy as the railroaders, fascism will not be a thing to fear.

If the American workers want to find out what Communist parties are, how they act in relation to the struggles of the workers, how in all of Europe they alone have a practical program of action and are the only group that asks to quarter with the militant workers, want to know the way of fighting, stop the American Communist Party is, let them read the new "Spartan program." They will find that only the Communists bring life and fire into the German labor movement.

Send in that new "sub" today!

LEGISLATURE IN NORTH DAKOTA FAILS FARMERS

Did Nothing for Poor Agrarians

BISMARCK, N. D., March 10.—The session of the North Dakota legislature has come to an end and it did not accomplish anything important for the poor farmers of the state. Among the workers generally there has been very little interest in what was going on in the assembly and they throughout it but the industrial machinery of capitalism cannot be used by the industrialists to rob the capitalist robbers of their backs.

Farmers Representatives Confused. If a surprise to many workers is that the legislature proceeded. However, as it was, they did not even stand for their own program. When Governor Miller introduced his bills and resolutions providing for state hail insurance and the functioning of the Bank of North Dakota, the workers, thus merely giving expression to the ideas embodied in the original program of the League of North Dakota, the large majority of the farmers and laborers voted against these measures.

The League is Dead. The failure of re-organizing the League in North Dakota, but this move is also opposed for the most part by the local office holders and politicians who want to be close to the public trough. As an effective organization through the state the League is dead and it cannot be re-built on the old basis, but this is something the better paid leaders refuse to see.

The farmers and the workers of North Dakota, who are now in a state of doubt and hesitation as for a political and economic movement are concerned, will eventually discover that the only way to turn to Communist through the capitalist, political situation is to bring an illusion and win back to present to be before the mapping movement of hope of a workers' government.

IRISH ELECTION CAMPAIGN N.O.T. PEACE POW-WOW BIRMINGHAM, England, March 10.—Polls for next declared vacant when members of the national group in the hall resumed from that body, will take place tomorrow.

The election campaign was no without excitement and in the struggle of the Irish republicans, a storm of fire from the Irish republicans in the hall resumed from that body, will take place tomorrow.

The election campaign was no without excitement and in the struggle of the Irish republicans, a storm of fire from the Irish republicans in the hall resumed from that body, will take place tomorrow.

The election campaign was no without excitement and in the struggle of the Irish republicans, a storm of fire from the Irish republicans in the hall resumed from that body, will take place tomorrow.

The election campaign was no without excitement and in the struggle of the Irish republicans, a storm of fire from the Irish republicans in the hall resumed from that body, will take place tomorrow.

The election campaign was no without excitement and in the struggle of the Irish republicans, a storm of fire from the Irish republicans in the hall resumed from that body, will take place tomorrow.

Send in that new "sub" today!

BRITISH WARSHIP FITTED OUT FOR ROYAL CAKEATER

(Special to The Daily Worker)

LONDON, March 10.—The battleship "Royal Oak" which is taking the prince of Wales and his retinue to a town for his visit to His Majesty's South African royal state was not intended for a cabinet. Considerable difficulty is being experienced in housing 200 troops, 100 chefs and several thousand bottles of choice in toxicating drinks.

In addition to ninety servants, the prince is accompanied by a small battalion of women. In view of the fact that there are 120 able bodied seamen on board the "Royal Oak" the prince's main entourage, another army is recruited to work the women for the prince, who is "dance or he is not happy."

In addition to ninety servants, the prince is accompanied by a small battalion of women. In view of the fact that there are 120 able bodied seamen on board the "Royal Oak" the prince's main entourage, another army is recruited to work the women for the prince, who is "dance or he is not happy."

Send in that new "sub" today!