The party discussion will begin immediately after the publication of the convention call.

the publication of the convention call.

The parity commission will review and ilquidate all matters of an organizational nature that have caused friction in the party. Thus the parity commission intends to clear the discussion of the political and organizational problems confronting the parity at the present time. It will make a tattement of its findings in the party press which will be a final decision of the controversial question.

The party membership should bear in mind that the work of the parity commission will in no way interfere with or infringe upon the normal functioning of the party apparatus. All leading party committees, from the Central Executive Committee down, will continue their work in the regular manner, according to the party constitution, and party discipline with have to be rigidly observed.

cipline will have to be rigidly observed.

The big task of the coming party convention is to liquidate factionalism and to establish unity on the basis of the policies and tactics of the Communist International. To its problems, free from factional bitterness and personal discrimination. The Partity Commission will therefore do all in its power to enable the party to come to the convention equipped for its act of unifying and strengthening the Communist movement in the United States.
