PREMIER SVEHLA

Parliament Jeers New Czech Cabinet

PRAGUE, Czech-Slovakia, Dec. 28. — When Premier Svehla attempted to read the program of the new government before the Czech-Slovakian parliament, he was met with the shouts of "Resign! Resign!" from all corners of the hall. The Communist delegation demanded the release of the imprisoned Comrade Tausk. The Communist fraction rose en masse, when the Premier refused to answer their demands and began to sing revolutionary songs. The Hungarian nation and the Slovak population also joined in the demonstration against the Premier and the new government, demanding that the practice of firing German tanks be discontinued and the Slovaks insisted on the autonomy of Slovakia. The members of Premier Svehla's cabinet were pelted with bundles of papers and cries of "Resign! Resign!" during the opening address of the Premier.

THE YOUTH AND THE FOREIGN-BORN WORKERS

By STEVE ZINICH, Editor Radnik.

THE main task of the Young Workers (Communist) League is the enrolling of the working youth in the class struggle in this country. The best of these and defense of the particular interests of the entire working class and the young workers in particular are to combine these struggles for the immediate demands on the one hand and our final aim, the abolition of capitalism, the establishment of the dictatorship of the proletariat and the ushering in of the Communist society, on the other hand.

An important task for our Communist youth is the conducting of our agitation and propaganda campaign, which is the organization of actions right in the field of production, in the factories, mines, on the land, etc. Large masses of the youth are forced to enter the industries at an early age and from the most exploited, the most disfranchised section of the working class.

In close connection with this problem we have another one—Over 60 per cent of the entire working class in America are so-called foreign-born workers. Historically all workers in America are more or less foreign-born, because all of them have come from Europe and other lands. The real American, the true picture of American life is a large compact group of long time ago. They are the American Indians, most of whom were crushed by the brutality of the slave owners and the rising bourgeoisie. They would not submit to becoming the slaves of the white invaders and so were exterminated by the hundreds of thousands.

Divisions in the social structure of this country cannot be really determined by setting up the epithet: foreign-born vs. natives. The basic division in this social structure is the working class on the one hand and the exploiting capitalist class on the other. Between these two classes a deep struggle is going on—between strikers, lockout, political action, etc. This is called the class struggle.

An effective weapon of the capitalist class in this struggle is its strong educational machine. This machine extends its tentacles thru the schools, churches, sports, clubs, and all kinds of capitalist institutions. This educational campaign is often labeled: Americanization of the foreign-born. There are many instances in the class struggle where the young foreign-born worker is lined up against his own father and class brother, because his father has been a fighter and his own child was educated against him with a capitalist curriculum.

Our duties in this situation are very clear. We must approach these young workers, foreign-born, native-born and children of foreign-born workers and educate them, organize them and bring of the Young Workers (Communist) League. We must use the Young Workers (Communist) Party in this respect not only have the foreign language fractions of the party a great task, but the foreign-born comrades in the nuclei and other units of the party must take the initiative in having comrades of the foreign born and native born Young Communist nuclei parallel with the party units where none exist.

We must take the initiative in putting to the fore the slogan: For every party shop nucleus a nucleus of the League. For every league nucleus, a nucleus of the Young Workers (Communist) League.

The place of the youth of the foreign-born workers is not in the fascist and semi-fascist organizations, but their place is in the ranks of the Communist youth and children.

Foreign-born workers, do your class duty!

Campaign for Working Youth Conference in East Ohio Started

The last issue of the YOUNG WORKER contained the call of the working youth conference which is scheduled for the last week in February for Bellaire, Ohio. Besides that there was printed the list of proposed demands which will reflect the lives of the young worker. The list of demands includes: 1. The right to work in a safe and healthy environment. 2. The right to a fair wage. 3. The right to a fair day's pay for a fair day's work. 4. The right to a fair day's pay for a fair day's work. 5. The right to a fair day's pay for a fair day's work.

Young Workers of Other Lands

WHAT WE SAW IN THE URKINE.

Letter of Comrade Spomer, Member of German Young Workers' Delegation to the U. S. S. R.

Our arrival in Kharkov we called a few weeks' annual holiday, on an unknown thing was in Germany. We were invited to participate in a conference that young workers are employed in the factory four hours. The remainder of the 24 hours is spent in the factory school. Adult workers work 4 1/2 hours in the factory. Their work is done in the factory. However many work in pairs, pairs and work much more. It is a very hard work, but very interesting. It is a very hard work, but very interesting.

The Ukraine the wages of young workers are lower than in Moscow. This is explained by the fact that the young workers are not so numerous as in Moscow. The wages of young workers are lower than in Moscow. This is explained by the fact that the young workers are not so numerous as in Moscow.

The next day we paid a visit to the factory school. The red director and some of the workers who spoke German fluently gave us full information about the school. We were very interested in the school. We were very interested in the school. We were very interested in the school.

Workers' Conditions In The Millinery Trade

HILLCREST SILK MILL MAGNATES GET INJUNCTION

Restrict Workers from Peaceful Picketing

(By Worker Correspondent)
SOUTH BRIDGE, N. J., Dec. 28.—Stated by the management resistance of the workers of the Hillcrest silk mill of North Bergen, Hudson county, New Jersey, a resistance which has lasted now into the tenth week and which has inspired all of the other millinery workers in the district—the bosses have rushed into court and obtained an injunction which in its broad language, and its vicious determination to stamp out all effectiveness of the United Front Committee of Textile Workers, which is leading the strike, is unparalleled.

Prohibit Strike Picketing

Altogether the strike consists of all picketing on the part of the mill owners and their lackeys—the police have conducted the strike in the most peaceful manner, the injunction formulated against "violence" and prohibited the workers from utilizing their "violent" tactics. The strikers have at all times conducted their strike in such a manner that the ridiculous all the howling of the capitalist sheets of that locality that the strikers were "violent" and "wild" is completely null and void.

But the injunction goes much further. It says that all picketing in the vicinity of the mill must be conducted in a peaceful manner, that all picketing in front of the mill which is not in accordance with the provisions of the injunction is prohibited and that any person who violates the provisions of the injunction is liable to imprisonment.

Prohibit Masters Well

To the writer, knowledge this is the first time that an injunction has been granted in New Jersey. In America, the law that forbids such injunctions are determined to serve their masters and keep all organizations of the working class that resist the exploitation of mill owners.

As to the workers of this mill country has the capitalist government become exposed for what it is. The bosses in New Jersey are shown to be liberty and freedom for the mill owners but not freedom of liberty for the workers. The government stands forth in its nakedness as a tool and instrument to the hands of the capitalist.

And the workers will remember this lesson.
The United Front Committee of Textile Workers held a mass meeting at St. Stephen's Hall, Monday evening in which the following resolutions were adopted and other organizations of labor participated in this demonstration protesting against the injunction.

It Has Happened in a New York Children's Dress Shop

By JENNIE PINCUS, (Worker Correspondent)

THE motor which generates the power, the flame that warms by its heat, the light which warms the eyes, the hammer and the anvil, the power of the hammer and the anvil were pressing mine. It was early in March. The day was bright, the sidewalks were slippery and I slipped and lay outside. But there I was, one was sitting. And a few blocks away was Washington Park with its sun and wind. And a few blocks away was Washington Park with its sun and wind.

It was my boss talking about me, and it had the desired effect. I woke up. With an effort I determined to get the beautiful apron, the green and the apron. I must hurry and get these dresses finished. So I worked like a fury for two weeks. But my mind to the work. I had made too many seams like this. I must not make them with close eyes.

My hands moved on. I was working and had heard of the strike. Something I had been reading recently. It was about freedom. Yes, freedom in Russia. I had read in the papers that the workers in Russia knew that they were living in the same conditions as the workers in the United States. I had heard that the workers in Russia had their heads and shoulders over with the same conditions as the workers in the United States. WITH THE UNEMPLOYED WORKERS

Building Laborer Seeks Work

By C. BORISOV, Worker Correspondent

MILWAUKEE, Wis. Dec. 28.—Being out of work last week, I wanted to see the situation at the office. I went to the International Harvester company for a job. I was told that there were no openings. I went to the building. "Any one who wants to work follow me." A bunch of us followed him. He stopped at the main gate and looked at us. He said, "Do you want to work?" The men each look at him in astonishment. One got his bearings quickly and answered: "Of course." "Alright," said the agent. "We are out of work here for men who want to work. The wages are 40 cents an hour."

The last sentence hit the men like a thunderbolt. They stopped and looked at each other. Then they turned around and left, cursing the agent.

"You don't want to work. No wonder you are out of work," he yelled after them. "Imagine that scabby outfit trying to make workers have to stem for 40 cents an hour!"

Painter Willing to Become Clerk

By JACK REED, Worker Correspondent

(Student Class)

I AM a painter and am one of the large number of building workers who are out of work. For the last two months I have been looking for a job at my trade without results. I finally decided to try something else.

Searching the advertisement sections of the morning newspapers I came across a want ad: "Grocery Clerks Wanted. Apply at 5022 S. Halsted street, Sunday morning at 10 o'clock."

While the workers in front of the line were being cross-examined we stood out on the street nearly freezing to death. At about 1 p. m. the girl came out again to announce that she was going to work.

Her wages are $12 a week and thereabout. There is no limit to her working hours a week and no extra pay for overtime. There is the talk of the women milliner trade from eight in the morning till eight at night included. In the millinery trade work with only one dollar a week.

"The conditions of the hand workers are even worse. After twelve hours a day work in the factory the boss is kind as to let them work with home pay. They take home bundles of work and often husband and children sit up till late at night getting the work finished and ready to take back to the shop the next morning. There is no overtime paid for this work.

After six or seven weeks of feverish work the season is over, and then comes the slack time. That's the hardest time for the milliner. Workers are laid off. The boss keeps only the most skilled workers. Prices are low for months.

"The boss doesn't care if you are out of work. He will give you a job if you are willing to work. He will give you a job if you are willing to work. He will give you a job if you are willing to work. He will give you a job if you are willing to work. He will give you a job if you are willing to work."

PREMIER CAB DRIVERS ENRAGED AT TREACHERY OF UNION OFFICIALS

By ALBERT E. WELLS (Worker Correspondent)

The official of Local No. 727 of the Cab Drivers Union, which has betrayed the drivers of the Premier Tax Cab company by signing an agreement with the company which gives the latter their guaranteed salary of $28 a week and a 50 percent bonus on the basis of the last union meeting of the company.

"At the last union meeting of the company," the official said, "the members of the union agreed to sign an agreement with the company which gives the latter their guaranteed salary of $28 a week and a 50 percent bonus on the basis of the last union meeting of the company."

"At this meeting it was the sentiment of the men that the officials of the union betrayed themselves by signing the agreement with the company. The drivers would have won all their demands if they had the proper kind of leadership in their union."

Back to the Marines

Brigadier General Smedley D. Butler of the United States marines, who was named to the city of Philadelphia to act as police commissioner, liked the job so well that he wanted to remain permanently. As his leave of absence from the marines had expired at the end of two years the general decided he would remain in Philadelphia, so he sent his resignation to Coolidge at Washington. But on the following day Mayor Kenrick of Philadelphia called Butler's aid and asked him to resign as police commissioner. Butler refused to resign as he considered the business of vice suppression in the city of brotherly love preferable to shooting unarmed workers in the warm climate of Haiti.

The mayor, however, was adamant and threatened to fire the general and his staff. So Butler finally resigned, but in doing so he buried a verbal volley at the mayor of Philadelphia. That gentleman, said Butler, ordered the police head to "play off the big places" in enforcing the prohibition law, because "there is a difference between a $7,000,000 investment and a cheap place which sells poor booze."

It is known that Butler was the earliest voice in politics and could not distinguish between bootleggers with political prestige and those scoundrels who peddle moonshine in alley ways. Surely a police commissioner who cannot recognize the difference between the head waiter of the Ritz-Carlton and the subsequent porter who works in the kitchen, is a man of limited understanding under which he works as a crusader and when he stationed policemen before blind pigs it helped the bootleggers, as they acted as advertisements for the proprietors. But when he tried to interfere with the police system of graft protection, he was beaten, he became a laughing stock of realizing that he was dealing with the foreign voters who were able to buy votes to keep the republican administration of Philadelphia in power. He imagined he could use the same tactics as he did in suppressing the population of Haiti in the interest of imperialism. His police officers broke into houses, searched them, and beat people and bringing the whole administration of the city into disrepute.

Butler was endangering the republican machine of Philadelphia, so Coolidge and the war department refused to grant a further leave to Butler, hoping peacefully to remove him under the pretext that the marines could do without him.

Butler has now been asked by President Coolidge to reconsider his resignation from the marines and Philadelphia republican machine on collecting tribute from the Ritz-Carlton, the Bellevue-Stratford and Walton hotels, while the great "vice crusade" continues against those bootleggers and proprietors of brothels who do not contribute to the stock fund of the Pennsylvania and republican machine under the domination of Senator George Wharton Pepper.

Meanwhile the Tammany mayor-elect of New York, James Walker, has ignored the suggestion that he select Colonel William Mitchell as police commissioner of that city and has appointed a politician who knows nothing of arrest and whom to protect in the interest of Tammany.

Marines and air colonels are all right when it comes to bombing defenseless peoples of undeveloped countries or smashing strikes, but it requires a degree of political sagacity in dealing with eminent bootleggers that is entirely too much to expect from army officers.

Determined to Stand Alone

Decisions of the Russian Communist Party are always events, and of late significance because that party is the vanguard and the motivating force of the revolution. No decision is of greater importance than the one recently adopted to the effect that the Bolsheviks of Russia will follow a reconstruction policy with a view to industrializing Russia, to the extent where the country will manufacture heavy machinery, equipment, thereby assuring independence from all other countries.

With heavy industries in the Soviet Union already surpassing in productive capacity the best years before the war and a steady advance of its general economic life, this latest decision was the logical step in view of the opposition of the capitalist world. Many of our financiers of government that refused to recognize Russia as a nation have been millions of dollars worth of orders could be dispatched for such machinery.

Recognize the Union of Soviet Republics

The following speech was made by Boris E. Skvirsky, head of the Russian Workers' Club, Washington, D. C., at a gathering in Chicago, on the American Embassy grounds, which celebrated the purchase by the Soviet Union of $25,000,000 worth of the American products for breadstuffs produced in the Soviet Union.

Mr. President, Ladies and Gentlemen: As a citizen of the Soviet Union and one who lives in this country, have been trying to assist in the development of trade relations and in the establishment of a mutual understanding between the two great countries, I feel it my duty to express my thoughts on the occasion of the purchase of these products.

I wish also to thank the Hambouliet-Silber Brothers' Association and the representatives of Soviet Russia in this country for their generous assistance to me in this country. It is a great pleasure to me to be a part of this assurance of the great American nation on the part of the people of Russia. There is no doubt that our two friendly nations will grow and will assist in the further development of trade relations between the two countries.

The resources of America are developed. Those of Russia are undeveloped. The American agriculture and industries have much to offer to the Soviet Union, and the Soviet Union has much to offer to America's customers.

Rapid development assured to the Soviet Union. The union has the resources, it has a population of 150,000,000. The energy of this population has been freed. A great market has been opened. It is not possible to prophesy to predict a speech and a remarkable development of the Soviet Union. It is being substituted by the pace of development of the Soviet Union during the last three years.

The Russian Revolution, a world war of evolution, of civil war fostered by the military intervention of foreign armies, has destroyed the Russian Empire. The Russian agriculture and industries were practically destroyed. As a result of this war, the Russian people have been reduced to a state of starvation. The Russian people are already stronger than the pre-war production within the present year. This year's grain harvest aggregates nearly three billion bushels, and is fifty percent more than last year's production. This gives a chance to the Russian peasant to consume more of his own produce.

Need Machinery. The revolutionary Russian peasantry has been reduced to a state of starvation. It is estimated that the Russian peasant has lost one hundred thousand tractors and one hundred thousand plows. The Russian peasant is in need of machinery. The Russian peasant is in need of machinery. The Russian peasant is in need of machinery.
