

S-4, DEATH TRAP FOR 42, RAISED MONTHS AFTER DISASTER LAID TO WAR PREPARATION

Photos above show scenes taken when the S-4, death trap of its crew of 42, was raised three months after the submarine went down after a collision with the S. S. Paulding, off Provincetown, Mass. The disaster is blamed on the "big navy" drive of the navy department which allowed the submarine to operate in a crowded area, without a warning patrol boat being furnished. The navy department was whitewashed by its official board of inquiry. Photo at left shows the S-4 shortly after it was raised. Second photo shows the submarine being towed to Boston; the tomb of 42 sailors, victims of official negligence. Photo at right shows the salvaged S-4 in port at Boston.

Demand Al. Smith Tell of Sinclair Deal

(Continued from Page One) Sinclair had contributed to Smith's 1920 campaign. Senator Nye (R) of North Dakota, chairman of the investigating committee, replied that "we do have information that Sinclair did contribute to Governor Smith's campaign." "Sinclair was a liberal contributor to the democratic campaign fund in 1920 in New York," Robinson continued. "And Alfred Smith appointed him to the state racing commission, where he continued to serve in 1923, 1924 and 1925. Under those conditions, I think the committee might well call Governor Smith and ascertain his relations with Sinclair."

Offer to Debate Which Party Serves Workers

The Lower Bronx Unit, Young Workers (Communist) League, has challenged the Hungarian Youth Democratic Club, 1024 Prospect Ave., to a debate on the question whether the youth should support the democratic party or the Communist movement. A challenge signed by Sam Garrison, educational director, Young Workers League, says in part: "Since we know that the working class youth of America has to pay allegiance to some set of political principles or other, we challenge your organization and your principles to a debate. "We would like to suggest the following subjects for debate: "1. Should the youth follow the democratic party? "2. Is democracy suitable for today? "3. Does the right to vote mean anything to the workers? "4. Resolved, that there is democratic government in the U. S. today. "5. Do the people rule in the United States? "6. Resolved, that the United States is more democratic than Soviet Russia."

MINE DISTRICTS ANSWERING CALL

"Save-the-Union" Message Echoes Everywhere

(Special to The Daily Worker.) PITTSBURGH, Pa., March 18.—The call to the coal miners of the Save-the-Union Committee of the United Mine Workers of America, urging them to elect delegates to the National Miners' Conference to be held in Pittsburgh on April 18, is being re-echoed in every mine district. In Fayette County, Pa., especially, the miners are rallying eagerly behind the conference. For the first time since the great betrayal of 1922, when John L. Lewis sold out the unorganized miners of the coal-mining fields, a new wave of activity, a new spirit of struggle, is spreading from camp to camp as the coal diggers of Fayette County reply to the call of the Save-the-Union Committee and prepare to unite their forces with those of the rank and file of the United Mine Workers of America.

On practically every army recruiting station bulletin board in New York yesterday morning a poster carried the slogan "Fight With Sandino, No. Against Him!" These posters were pasted on the boards late Sunday night. They were torn down by the recruiting officers but not until after thousands of workers had read them.

Amalgamated Officials Boston Workers Support Their Leaders

(Continued from Page One) no announcement was made as to whether he would receive full pay. The move by the Amalgamated officials is interpreted as another attempt to stage a "strike" scene in the hope that some concession will be secured from the Tammany Hall officials. If the Amalgamated leaders are honest in their present announcement, they will show their position by several necessary preliminary steps: 1. They will state openly that the Tammany officials have by their maneuvers led the workers into a blind alley and that in the future the workers must rely upon their own strength. 2. These union officials will announce publicly that the traction workers cannot be unionized except through a real organization drive in which the labor movement will be mustered in support of the traction workers. 3. They will take immediate steps to draw into the leadership the forces which the rank and file desires shall be at the lead and those whom the workers trust. The Amalgamated officials know that they themselves will not win a strike against the International workers in this city. A meeting was also held in Germ. Ind. which was addressed by Lowy and Petras. PITTSBURGH, March 19.—The Anti-Horthy League and representatives of Rumanian, Czechoslovak and Yugoslav societies have protested to Mayor Charles H. CRITICAL PERIOD FOR DAILY WORKER IS NOT OVER YET

Workers Must Defend Press From Bosses

(Continued from Page One) strikers has cost the paper the furious hatred of all the American capitalists. Today THE DAILY WORKER is in the greatest danger in which it has found itself. Faced with the tremendous costs of legal defense which the American courts have forced upon it, with three of its editors out on $1000 bail apiece and awaiting arrest daily, THE DAILY WORKER has to turn to the American working class to defend it against their enemies. Thousands of dollars are still needed to save THE DAILY WORKER from its class enemies. Thousands of dollars are still needed to keep THE DAILY WORKER fighting shoulder to shoulder with the striking miners. And it is the workers in their turn who must defend their paper. The best defense you can make is by contributing to the support of your paper. Only hundreds of donations will check the campaign of the bosses. Hundreds of donations must be sent to THE DAILY WORKER to keep the life in it which the capitalists are trying to crush out. Every worker must aid in this defense. Save your DAILY WORKER. Rush your contributions to THE DAILY WORKER, 33 First Street, New York.

Boston Workers Support Their Leaders

(Continued from Page One) supervision of a committee of Zaritsky followers sent for that purpose. The right wing also conducted a campaign of slander in an effort to discredit the left wing local administration. The Membership Answers But the membership of the Capmakers' Union here answered by a vote of confidence larger than any ever polled before. The returns show there were fifteen more votes for the left wing administration than was cast at the open elections. I. Goldberg and S. Hershkowitz, right wingers, sent here to supervise the election and President Zaritsky himself were laughed out of the hall at special meetings called by Zaritsky Friday and Saturday. Particularly uncomfortable for the right wingers were several contradictions in the right wing organ, the Forward. In a long article in Saturday's Forward the left wing leaders were viciously criticized for allowing two members of the union go to prison as a result of a strike case. It developed that one of the two workers was none other than one of the criticized leaders, namely, J. Gershwin, president of the union. A vicious editorial also hailed the decision of the general executive board of the Capmakers' International to attack the left wing administration of the Boston local. The editorial confidently predicted that the Boston membership would oust the militant leadership in the elections. On an inside page of the same issue, however, a doleful dispatch from Boston told of the victory of the left wing administration. 13,000 Seamen Jobless While the International Seamen's Club announces after an extensive study that here are more than 13,000 seamen out of employment in Greater New York, the American Seamen's Friend Society, which is "kept" by the shipping interests, pipes up to say that there will be a reduction in the number of unemployed when the yachting season, pleasure river riding and the Great Lakes traffic are resumed. Meanwhile there are 13,000 seamen out of work.
