Demonstrate at 50 Lafayette St., Sat. at 10 A. M. Against Forced Labor and Rent and Relief Cuts

l are planned by the Home Relief

Committee of One Hundred has issued a call for a mass demonstration before the offices of Commissioner Hodson at 50 Lafayette St.,

The extent of the planned relief cuts is clearly shown in the letter from a Home Relief Bureau Work-"The last part of the past weekin fact, while we were in the process of transferring budgets from one card to another in preparation for disbursing cash reliefwere told that we were to close all cases of families whose present incomes equal merely the food budget allowance permitted by the Home Relief Bureau. In other words, a family of three who manage to earn $5 weekly, will no longer get that inadequate supplementary relief which is supposed to pay rent, gas and elec-tric bills. And should anyone think that the families on full relief are secure, let me add that all rent vouchers have ceased together with the tickets for government pork . . . we may look forward to a summer of evictions.

"A further ruling followed the one above to the effect that these families are not to be closed cases but merely suspended cases. I suspect either of two reasons: 1) to claim a larger figure on relief for the capitalist press, or to leave themselves room to back down in the event that demonstrations at the Relief Bureaus force them to reverse their decisions.

It is true that abortion may be performed legally in Russia; but the properties is subjected to numerous studied and remedied. As a way operation is subjected to numerous conditions, all calculated to protect the health of the woman. Thus, besides the three-month limit mentioned above, an abortion has to be performed in a hospital where the patient has to remain for three full days. A midwife is not allowed to perform an abortion: only a licensed irgeon. When a married woman is pregnant for the first time, the operation is seldom performed; unless there are some reasons which would tend to undermine her health if allowed to carry the child to term. If a doctor performs an abortion outside of a hospital or clinic, for private gain, he is punished with three years' imprisonment. In other words, clandestine abortions are illegal in Russia. A proletarian woman can have an fear that by thus safeguarding the abortion performed free of charge, owing to the system of insurance which covers such cases. She is not allowed to go to work for two weeks after the operation and is paid sick benefit, just as if she were sick with any other disease. The Russian surgeons have developed a very special technique for the operation which occupies only about five minutes. If a woman desires an abortion, she applies to the special consultation center of her district. A special committee passes upon her application, and if consent is given, she is referred to one of the special abortariums.

A strong propaganda against abortions is being conducted by the Soviet health authorities. There are special exhibitions which tour the those who have more than three country and whose object it is to children.

CHANGE

READERS of this column from all over America send in clippings from their local newspapers, and ask for comment on some particularly fatuous or vicious item.

H. L. Mencken started this habit with his Americana department in the old Mercury. But Mencken was interested only in the accidents and minor provincialisms of our land.

The Daily Worker readers know more than flitter-brain Mencken. What interests them always has a social content. If all their clippings were to be pasted together in one volume, it would give a better picture of the class-war in America, than most of our proletarian novels and

Here is a clipping from Chicago. It tells of the latest craze in society there. It is a story that not even the most lurid soap-boxer

It seems that Chicago millionaire society has gone in on a big scale for COCKROACH racing!

They breed racing roaches the way people do thoroughbred horses and house the insects in gaudy and magnificent miniature stables designed by famous artists.

They name their roaches by such Oscar Wildean whimsies as, "Breath of Dawn," and "Passionate Surrender."

Heywood Broun and others will probably tell us it is all a joke, and that Communists have no sense of humor, etc., etc.

Yes, it is all a joke, and Communists have no sense of humor, and hope, some day, to wipe out the whole worthless breed of wealthy parasites and their cockroaches. But here's the item without further comment. It appeared in the society columns of the Chicago Herald-Examiner, of May 2, 1934, and was reported by Mrs. Henry Field. There are over a million jobless people in Chicago; one out of every three persons in the total population. It is a city of hunger Blood flows in its dark streets every morning, as men voice their rage

From "The Social Whirl," By Mrs. Henry Field

ROACH EMPORIUM-In all the magnificent style of Louis XIV, a magnificent stud of racing roaches are the latest assets of Seymour Blair. For some time Seymour has been slipping away from parties for several hours at a time and returning with the cat and canary look of one well pleased with private business. This private business has been nothing less than an inspection tour of his fastgrowing stud of cockroaches which he is planning to race at the Fair in the "Streets of Paris."

These tender beasts are to be housed in French magnificence. The architect for their palace is none other than Nicolai Remisoff, creator of the original "Chauve Souris" in Paris, and the sets for the "Coq d'Or" bellet, which was produced in San Francisco.

The sketches, by the way, for this ballet are to be exhibited during the Summer at the Art Institute.

There are to be two barkers dressed in crimson and gold, their faces blackened, and to them we leave the yelling of "Come on" to our .cherished roach. "Breath of Dawn" or "Passionate Surrender." What a pity it is that the gambling wheel is forbidden . . . think of the fun of seeing fortunes won and lost on roaches! Those who once tossed thousand-franc notes onto the green tables of Monte Carlo could again find an outlet for their gambling instincts.

BUT this is not to be. As it is, we must content ourselves with the prospect of carrying off in a gilded cage, for prize, one roach, seated on a pink cushion in the shape of a heart. Inscribed on the cage the roach's pedigree. Of course, these roaches are from a famous stock. Seymour tells me that the basis of his stock comes from the stud's stables of the late Duke of Penroach and from the famous Derby winning French stable which had more international winners than

A great prize will be "Tender Toddler," grandson of "Rough Toddler," who won the All Russian and Turkish Derby in Constantinople in 1930. "Tender Toddler" is by "Paternal Lover III" and "Raving Mistress II." The race course is to be a table of glass and there will be no more spectacular or blood-quickening sight than the sight of ten roaches taking the turn and facing the home stretch. To quicken their speed, their owner must turn a wheel which chases a feather ball, which in turn tickles and chases the roach.

Seymour's credo for the Summer will surely be "A roach in every home." We can foresee in the heat of July overheated dowagers, future debutantes, the beaus and the "lovelies" turning the wheel and one of them bearing home a "roach triumphant." Yes, this simple little bughouse will probably cause a lot of pandemonium in the smart set.

May Issue of 'The New Pioneer' Full Of Pep and Color

THE NEW PIONEER, Volume 3, Number 12, May 1934. Price 5c.

THE May issue of the New Pioneer is an anniversary issue. It marks the third birthday of the magazine and the eleventh year of the Young ioneers of America.

This issue of 20,000 copies is a orthy birthday issue of a magazine that has never put out a dull issue Thanks to the efforts of the Pioneers, who raised money for that urpose, the May issue has 32 pages instead of the usual 24. It has more ictures than usual, and it has color

From the cover by Ref and the exellent poem by the Pioneer poetess. Martha Millet, on the inside cover to the Puzzle Page and the Back Strip, there is no mistaking the fact that this is a May issue. There are "Snapshots of May Day All Over the World," a story in pictures by Bill Siegel; a story, "Pioneers on Parade," that politicises in a very effective manner the realization of May Day to Pioneers attending school; a very useful set of directions for making floats for May Day or any other working class holiday

Besides this, there is an exciting story of the activity of German Pioneers under Hitlerism; "Davy Sing," a story of a Chinese boy in an American school, is one of the best stories for children that have anpeared in English. A novel innovation, and one that all mothers will appreciate, is a "story for little brothers and sisters," beautifully decorated by Sheila O'Leary, a newcomer. Finally, there is reproduced the inimitable School Room Scene from "Strike Me Red!" It is unfortunate that there was not room for the piano accompaniment, and that the whole thing had to be crowded The usual features are present-Science, Stamps, Letters from Readers, etc. A remarkable feature of this nagazine is the contributions of the children. The poems particularly are extraordinary, and more of them should appear in every issue.

Capitalist Dictatorship

THE striking workers of Toledo and Minneapolis have now come face to face with the Government.

Naked bayonets, poison gas, machine guns, murderous brutality-that is how the Government looks when it is stripped of all its hypocritical rot about "democracy" and the "rule of the people.

Not only the striking workers, but the working class of the whole country can now see for themselves what lies behind the traditional lies about "democratic" rule under a capitalist government. The press, the schools, the church, the radio, and the movies, all din into the ears of the masses that the Government is of and by the people.

Yet when the working class menaces too much the profits of the employers, it always sends troops against the workers and their families, acting as "the executive committee of the ruling class" (Marx).

The capitalist government doesn't care that the workers and their families are starving. The capitalist government, no matter whether it hides its face behind the clouds of Roosevelt promises or Hoover lies, always takes the side of property and profits against the needs of the masses. Its main interest is to protect the employers' profits and the

All capitalist governments, whether they are cloaked by "democratic" hypocrisies, whether they are of the Roosevelt or Hoover stripe, they remain the dictatorship of the Wall Street monopolies and capitalist corporations against the working masses.

And this dictatorship, in the last analysis, rests upon naked, military violence, which is unsheathed in all its savagery whenever the masses begin to threaten its rule.

In the present stage of the crisis every struggle of the workers for their immediate needs inevitably brings them into open conflict with the whole capitalist State power. The economic struggles have reached the stage where they are becoming political struggles against capitalist rule.

THE army, said Lenin, consists of workers and farmers in uniform. This is the fatal weakness, the Achilles heel of the capitalist military-suppres-

Within the armed troops itself the class struggle penetrates. This is given remarkable proof in the latest dispatches from the strike area. In a dispatch which was expurgated from all the later editions, the United Press reports:

"The local National Guard were not mobilized because military authorities and local authorities thought it inadvisable to ask soldiers to charge their own townsmen."

Soldiers are not orphans. In action, they may shoot down brothers, fathers, relatives. That is why the Government is fearful of risking the grisly savagery of a "charge against their own townsmen."

We must say to the soldiers: "You are shoot-Ing your own kind and kin. You are defending the class that hates and oppresses you as well as us. The Wall Street government oppresses you too. You belong with us, not against us.'

Without softening by a single hair the fighting militancy of the workers, we must, at the same time, strive for fraternization of the troops with the strikers wherever possible.

WE COMMUNISTS, following the revolutionary teachings of our leaders, Marx# Engels, Lentn and Stalin, expose the fact that all capitalist governments are really dictatorships of the property

We Communists struggle to lead the working class against the employers, for better wages, for better conditions.

But always we say that the exploiting, bloody, crisis-ridden rule of the employers, the Wall Street rule based on bayonets, can be ended only by setting up a proletarian dictatorship, a government of workers and farmers, a Soviet Government. Then the power will be on the side of the working class against the exploiting class.

THE splendid examples of building I the Communist Party in the course of activity in the daily struggles of the workers, are valuable lessons for the en-

This recruiting into the Communist Party during the course of the strike and unemployed struggles. should serve as a living answer to the opportunist argument sometimes carried out in practice where it is not openly spoken, that "we must wait until the strike is over before we recruit into the Party.'

Hundreds of thousands of workers are striking throughout the country at the present moment, fighting militantly in the face of N.R.A. decrees against the most widespread terror of national guard troops, police, deputies and fascist bands. In these struggles, the influence of the Communist Party is rapidly growing. Communists are active in the united front struggles in steel, in Minneapolis, Toledo, the South, and elsewhere.

The call of the Communist Party for a unified fight against fascism, for the right to strike, and for the immediate demands of the workers, is finding a ready response from the masses of the strikers and the unemployed.

But the quickly growing influence of the Communist Party is not sufficient. In order for the working class to win these struggles, the militant leadership must be organized. Only the mass recruiting into the Communist Party, now, in the course of the strike and unemployed struggles, will

AAA and the Drought

DESPITE the deliberate lack of news in most of the capitalist papers, the drought which has the Western farmlands in its grip is bringing harrowing suffering to hundreds of thousands of small, impoverished farmers.

It is a brutal irony that the blind fury of nature is only completing what was originally begun by the Roosevelt government itself - the wanton destruction of crops and cattle.

In this desperate emergency the Roosevelt government is pursuing a criminal policy of neglect as far as the impoverished, stricken farmers are

The Bill of the Communist Party, proposed before the drought, meets all the immediate needs of the drought-stricken farmers.

This Farmers' Relief Bill must become a rallying cry in all struggles in the stricken area.

For Standard Oil Congo Medicine Nazi Mine Disaster In Thaelmann's City

FOR the protection of Standard Oil Company's interests in the Chaco war, President Roosevelt rushed through Congress an "arms embargo."

The purpose of the embargo is to keep weapons from the supporting British imperialism, and to supply weapons to those siding with the yankee imperialism. The President himself has the right to declare where arms shall be trans-

Why he was given this power was explained in the Daily Worker in previous editorials, news stories, and in this column. But hardly have we seen such open admission of the factors behind one of Roosevelt's war movies as that in the New York Times of Wednesday May 23rd. The Times' Washington correspondent wrote, just before Roosevelt was given "embargo" power on

It was considered probable that the haste displayed in the past few days by the administration has been due to the expectation of a Paraguayan victory in the extensive fighting around Fort Ballivian and Fort Canada. This, in the opinion of experts here, would open the road to the Paraguayan troops to the oil fields and refinery of the Standard Oil Company of Bolivia" (one of Rockefeller subsidiaries. H. G.).

SEVERE epidemics of typhus and malaria are raging in the Belgian Congo, in the Urundi and Katange districts. No news of this fact appears in the capitalist press in this country. Because of the terrific economic crisis, caused by imperialist exploitation, the Negro masses in the Belgian Congo are so undernourished that they are easy prey to disease. At the same time the Belgian government has cut down funds for hospitals and medical necessities. Instead, it is fighting the plagues with soldiers forces are thrown around infected areas, and those trying to escape to non-infested districts are
