NEWS OF THE MOVEMENT From Far and Near

The Strike at Portland

(Special to Industrial Union Bulletin)

Portland, Ore., March 19.—Portland mill workers strike still on. Not a man has returned to work...

WADE PARKS.

Executive Board Member Heslewood writes most encouragingly of the situation at Portland.

Report comes through the Western newspaper that $200 will be spent by the Western Federation of Miners to support the strike.

One hundred and forty-three sewer workers walked out after being refused a nine-hour day, organized and were admitted into Local 95, I. W. W.

A large number of steamboat workers gathered at 309 Davis street, Portland, March 13 and were organized into a separate local, entitled Transportation Workers' Union No. 1.

Organization of steamboat workers in the I. W. W. is proceeding rapidly, and these will soon demand one day's rest a week and more pay.

Several of the Columbia river logging camps had purchased new locomotives and otherwise increased the capacity of their camps in anticipation of an unusually busy season this year.

Organizer Jos. Etor has organized a new local at Linton, near Portland. At Vancouver 36 recruits were secured.

of the identity of interests from Mr. Carnegie at Homestead, and Mr. Elliot has said that a scab was a hero.

The Industrial Workers of the World says that there is no identity of interests between labor and capital.

The editor of the Labor Press says in his editorial of March 11th that the A. F. of L. will do nothing to hamper our work of securing better conditions.

It is not necessary to go into a lengthy article on the actions of labor fakirs.

Trusting that no union man will haul or handle in any manner the product of the sawmill and box factories.

Paterson Silk Workers

The Silk Workers' Industrial Union, Local No. 154, I. W. W., of this city is engaged in a struggle with the employing class.

For a number of years the silk workers were partly without organization of any sort, partly organized in unions that were independent craft bodies.

The lowest paid and the hardest manual labor is done by those employed in the silk dye houses.

Nine members were discharged at Auger & Simons' dye house; the pay envelopes of forty others were made out.

"Fellow Workers: You are herewith called upon to come to a shop meeting of the above establishment, which will be held Saturday at 8 p. m. at Helvetia Hall.

"On the 19th of February a dyer's helper, who worked some six years for the firm, was discharged without any cause.

"Last Monday seven more were 'paid off' of them, too, were old hands.

"A number of other members of the Union who knew that their pay envelopes were also being made up, left the shop, knowing that they were next on the list to be victimized.

"Now, Fellow Workers, it rests with you, if we have the right to organize or not. Again we say, RESIST WITH YOU.

"The committee in charge of the finances of the recent strike against Beller, cloakmaker of New York, through Julius Thron, financial secretary, and Sam Leikowitz, treasurer, has submitted its report.

"During the strike eight or ten of the members of the Cloakmakers' Industrial Union were arrested, and in every case the prosecution failed to convict.

"The first photographic watch was made in Paris in 1837. It was large and heavy, but was regarded as a great curiosity nevertheless.

"When the committee set out to distribute the circulars they were stopped by the private detectives and the police, thrown in cells at police headquarters.

"The difference between the A. F. of L. and the I. W. W. is very plain for any one to see.

where they were not allowed to telephone to the union officials (who would have hired counsel), and were all fined the next morning for violating a city ordinance, which was never before enforced in the city of Paterson.

When the organizer of the I. W. W. appeared at police headquarters he was threatened by Chief of Police Binson, and that he (the chief) was after him.

The only course open for the union was to declare the shop on strike.

There are in the city of Paterson over 3,000 dyers' helpers and finishers. If we show these men that we are determined to stand by them they will join our ranks.

Fellow Workers We appeal to you for financial aid. If we do not succeed in forcing the firm to take the victimized men back we must help them. We cannot look on and see them and their families starve.

Besides the trouble in the dye houses there are several broad silk shops out on strike for higher wages.

The silk industry is now booming, and the weavers have a chance to get back what was taken from them during the slack times.

A number of demands made in various mills were gained even without a strike.

To sum up, we have a splendid opportunity to organize the silk industry. We need your help.

To the Clothing Industry It has been made known to us that a certain Mr. Michael Breyer, President of the Cloth Examiners' & Spungers' Union of Greater New York, is sending circulars to the trade in the above industry, stating that we are scab workers and belong to a scab union...

"Fellow Workers: You are herewith called upon to come to a shop meeting of the above establishment, which will be held Saturday at 8 p. m. at Helvetia Hall.

"We take this means of informing you of the causes that led to the trouble in the shop.

LABOR AND WEALTH

A communication has been received from a reader residing in St. Louis, and is printed in this issue, in which the writer takes exception to a declaration contained in our article entitled "The Preamble Amplified," printed two weeks ago, which declaration was that "All wealth is created by labor."

We believe our correspondent to be needlessly alarmed as to the consequences of a meeting with the intellectual parasite or apologist for capitalist industry, even though the postulate of Socialism, which he claims is erroneous, should be affirmed.

There has been received at headquarters of the Industrial Workers of the World, 310 Bush Temple, Chicago, a copy of a report of earnings and expenditures sent out by C. O. Sherman, covering the period from October 4 to December 31, 1906.

There is nothing in nature that has value until man appears. Economic wealth is unthinkable without man, with out labor. Wealth, as Socialists use it, is the product of labor and costs nothing but labor.

THE MINERS WILL STAY

The capitalist newspapers throughout the country are maliciously active in printing all sorts of alarming reports in that mining camp of the Industrial Workers of the World. And while they are doing this and the Business Men's and Mine Owners' Association of Goldfield are "setting up night" figuring how they can stop the growth of the Industrial Workers of the World and drive its members off the face of the earth, the organization continues to prosper and flourish under persecution.

were responsible for the killing of a saloonkeeper or restaurant man, is that they had succeeded in organizing labor into this organization. The dear business men now seek to force them into the A. F. of L. The third dispatch, appearing in the Daily Socialist, made no mention whatever of the part the A. F. of L. organizers are playing in the game.

The business men of Goldfield issued a declaration of war, in which they say that "For the last three years the camp has had a series of labor troubles that have had their origin in the existence of an organization known as the Industrial Workers of the World."

"The Industrial Workers of the World, as the representatives of lawless-ness, must leave the district. That is the only way in which the miners can be warred against or encouraged. All that is demanded is that they must be labor unions, not under the control of or associated with the Industrial Workers of the World."

The men who made Goldfield what it is are the workers. Without them it is a town, no town, no property. They are the only useful people in Goldfield; they are entitled to stay there. There is no doubt that if any outrages have been committed they are chargeable to the business men and mine owners.

CLAIMS PROVEN FALSE

There has been received at headquarters of the Industrial Workers of the World, 310 Bush Temple, Chicago, a copy of a report of earnings and expenditures sent out by C. O. Sherman, covering the period from October 4 to December 31, 1906.

There is nothing in nature that has value until man appears. Economic wealth is unthinkable without man, with out labor. Wealth, as Socialists use it, is the product of labor and costs nothing but labor.

(January 10) we conceded Sherman a "backing" of about 1,000, but the report before us shows that we overestimated the intelligence of the membership.

The total receipts at "148" for the three months from all sources, including donations and loans, follows: October.....$157.25 November.....207.27 December.....285.41 $650.93

Compare the above with the showing of the Industrial Workers of the World for the same months AND FOR PER CAPITA TAX AND SUPPLIES ALONE: October.....$2140.30 November.....2150.08 December.....1023.15 $5313.53

Although it is unnecessary to add anything to these figures to prove the great disparity between the two accounts, sustaining as they do our claims as to Sherman's "backing," it should be noted that the strike of the miners in Schefferville fully explains the difference in the December; also that, as to the entire period, the per capita tax paid to the national headquarters was 15 cents a month, as against 25 cents paid to Sherman.

In the month of December, as the report is entirely misleading whenever it refers to a "defense" fund, because the fact is that we and not the reactionists were on the defensive. The life and integrity of the I. W. W. was attacked by them and we were defending the organization against them. They were the aggressors; they were the parties responsible for the appearance of the I. W. W. in a "capitalist court," they were defending nothing except the appropriation by stealth and holding by force the property of the organization.

Since the convention the Industrial Workers of the World has issued over 70 charters and organized as many local unions. Finally, since the report was given out the locals at Rhvolute, Nevada, and Phoenix, B. C. (both claimed by Sherman as "backing his faction"), have cut loose from reactionism and lined up with the I. W. W. And thus it is that the class of the disorganizers and repudiators of the revolution end in repudiation by the workers.

The "148" faction has printed a list of 81 local unions "which have been expelled for non-payment of dues to the Industrial Workers of the World"—that is to the faction calling itself by that name. The wonder is, having started to compile the list of locals that have withdrawn all "backing" from "148," that they did not complete it and double the list with all the local unions that have ceased paying Sherman, but are paying to the regular organization.

The Portland Oregonian says: "The millworkers' strike is, from a business standpoint, the worst labor trouble that has been inflicted on our prosperous city in its history. It is a tragedy, not only because it has cost the city so much in lost production, but because it has cost the workers so much in lost wages and lost health."

When the elected representatives of the constituent departments of the Industrial Workers of the World met in the national industrial congress, not only will the eyes of the world be upon them, but the labor movement of the world will have reached the parting of the ways in the struggle for existence.

A government of lawyers, supplemented by "intellectuals" who are not lawyers, is a government based on the acceptance of one set or another of political opinions, and hardly ever upon practical considerations that concern the producers of wealth. So long as that sort of government exists, no matter what political opinions are held, the workers will be ridden and the politicians will ride.

Among the local unions of the W. F. M. of which there are quite a number, who have stood grandly by the organization with financial support, is the Miners' Union of McCabe, Arizona. On three different occasions in the past two months our fellow workers in that local have sent donations to the organizing fund, amounting altogether to $284.

The average level of understanding, that is, the capacity and special knowledge of industry among politicians, is far below that to be found among the workers engaged in industrial occupations. Why then should politicians, mostly lawyers, be the governing class, and not the workers themselves?

In the Industrial Commonwealth no class interest will be in conflict with the common interests of all the workers.

Q. Can a thing be a use-value without having value? A. Yes. Q. When is this the case? A. "Whenever its utility to man is not due to labor."

Q. What determines the magnitude of the value of an article? A. "The amount of labor socially necessary, or the labor-time socially necessary for its production."

Q. What is the value of a commodity? A. "The amount of labor socially necessary for its production."

Q. Why are diamonds so valuable? A. "Because they are of very rare occurrence on the earth's surface; and hence their discovery costs, on an average, a great deal of labor-time."

Q. Why are diamonds so valuable? A. "Because they are of very rare occurrence on the earth's surface; and hence their discovery costs, on an average, a great deal of labor-time."

There will be no political corruption, because there will be no political bar, gain counters where antagonistic class interests contend for advantage.

On the heels of a speech against war in the Wisconsin state legislature by a Social Democrat, a bill has been introduced, also by a Social Democrat, to secure the payment of pensions to old soldiers. That's a bad precedent for the "comrades" to establish.

The workers' right to organize to win freedom is equal to the capitalists' right to organize to perpetuate slavery. Freedom must be won by the workers. The necessary forerunner of freedom is the industrial economic organization.

There is a quantity of Secretary Trautmann's report to the convention on hand which we ask the members to put on the floor. It is a report which will be filled, while they last, at $2. expressage prepaid.

The political boss of Rhode Island is a blind man 67 years old. Blind leaders of the "blind" with a vengeance.

OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

National Office: 310 Bush Temple, Chicago

The Defense Fund

The following is a statement of contributions to the Moyer-Haywood-Debnone defense fund received by me since the last acknowledgment published prior to the convention, covering the period from October 7, 1906, to March 16, 1907.

In this connection I wish to state some additional facts. This is necessary because of a letter written to James Kirwan in Denver and addressed to Wm. P. McCabe, San Francisco, dated February 22, 1907, in which I said Kirwan says:

I am in receipt of yours of February 18th, and in reply will state that Mr. Trautmann is not authorized by the W. F. M. to collect for the defense fund. I am in receipt of yours of February 18th, and in reply will state that Mr. Trautmann is not authorized by the W. F. M. to collect for the defense fund.

On April 5, 1906.....$3,500.00 On May 14, 1906.....4,000.00 On June 1, 1906.....1,500.00 On July 22, 1906.....433.00 $9,433.00

In addition to the foregoing there is included in the Prairie State Bank of Chicago, as a result of the machinations of the reactionists who have supported the sum of $4,000. When to all the above is added $826.54, the amount raised by the Arbeiter Zeitung Society of Chicago, as a part of the Defense Committee organized by the I. W. W. in Chicago a year ago, there is a grand total of $11,229.54 raised for the defense fund by the organization which Mr. Kirwan now repudiates, and other organizations in conference with it.

Of the first four remittances, amounting to $9,433.00 and sent by me to Kirwan, he has denied having received $1,000 and claims that Kirwan has $8,433.00 only. When furnished with proof from the officials of the Prairie State Bank that I had remitted $1,000 more than he credited me with he was silent and has persistently refrained from making the correction which is due me, the Industrial Workers of the World, the Western Federation of Miners, the paid workmen who contributed the money and the prisoners in an Idaho jail.

As a consequence no more money will be sent to Mr. Kirwan. The Industrial Workers of the World will hold the fund now in its possession, and any other contributions that may be received, and the entire sum paid over to the convention of the W. F. M. in June, provided that by that time the money lying in the Prairie State Bank is received, as we hope and expect it will be.

WORKING CLASS ECONOMICS

Conducted by James P. Thompson

Lesson I. Concluded

[Note: "The introduction of power-looms in England probably reduced by half the labor required to weave a given quantity of yarn into cloth. The hand-loom weaver as a matter of fact, continued to require the same time as before; but for all that, the product of one hour of their labor represented after the change only half an hour's social labor, and consequently fell to one-half its former value."

"The value of a commodity, it is true, is determined by the quantity of labor contained in it; but this quantity is itself socially necessary conditions. If the time socially necessary for the production of any commodity alters—and a given weight of cotton e. g., represents, after it had harvest, more labor than after a good one—then all previously existing commodities of the same class are affected, because they are, as it were, only individuals of the species, and their value at any given time is measured by the labor socially necessary i. e., by the labor necessary for their production under the then existing social conditions."

Q. What determines the magnitude of the value of an article? A. "The amount of labor socially necessary, or the labor-time socially necessary for its production."

Q. What is the value of a commodity? A. "The amount of labor socially necessary for its production."

Plain Answers TO Pertinent Questions

Do not take up the editor's time with long articles; put your question in a few words as possible.

H. J. A.—Sherman's list of "expelled local unions" is a partial list of the local unions which repudiated Sherman and his small following, and endorsed the convention and the new executive board. We cannot say whether a list of the dozen or so locals that still support reaction will be printed. Our guess would be against any such probability.

S. C.—Really it is hard to say what will become of the thugs in the labor movement when the Industrial Commonwealth comes in. They will probably move out as, you may remember, the thugs and thieves moved out of Paris in the days of the Commune. The United States minister to France, Warren Burn, testified that the streets of Paris were safe under the Commune. We must not forget, however, that men are not always thugs from choice. Circumstances as men are under capitalism, they often accept employment that is obnoxious and do things against which their better nature revolts.

Commune Celebration a Success The entertainment and hall given by Local 85, Chicago, last Saturday, in commemoration of the Commune, was a decided success. Westminster Hall became a merry place, and expressed their satisfaction with the manner in which the affair was conducted. General Secretary Trautmann gave a fifteen minutes' entertaining talk on the events incident to the Commune and the present-day class struggle. The local more than paid all expenses, which was gratifying to the committee in charge.
