5,000 GREET DEBS AT ROCHESTER

Republican Meeting Fails to Get Audience.

Appearance of Speakers at Largest Auditorium Signal for Defeating Demonstration Arranging Taft and Bryan As Representative of the System Selected to Delude Workers—Debs Gets an Ovation.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Oct. 3.—The "Red Special" of the Socialist party carrying Eugene V. Debs and his crew arrived yesterday at 2 P. M. and was greeted by thousands of workmen, who rushed to meet their standard bearer.

Long before the hour came for the big meeting over 5,000 people filled Convention Hall and thousands of others were unable to obtain admission because of lack of space.

This was in striking contrast to a Republican meeting being held at the same time and at which only 200 persons were present, despite the attractions of brass bands and fireworks.

Debs' appearance was the signal for a deafening demonstration. Three times he started to speak and thrice the cheering was renewed. Debs said in part:

"When Taft and Bryan tell the workmen that he is voting intelligently by casting a ballot under the Republican or Democratic symbol they know better, and I wish the workman did. Socialism tells you how ignorant you are in order that you may become intelligent.

"The capitalist refers to you as mill hands, farm hands, factory hands, machine hands—hands, hands! You are the horny-handed men of toil. If you ought to be proud of your hands the capitalist ought to be ashamed of his.

"A capitalist would feel insulted if you called him a hand. He's a head. The trouble is he owns his head and your hands.

"You workmen are as badly off of place in the Democratic or Republican party as John D. Rockefeller would be in the Socialist party.

"I do not enter into personal controversies in my campaign to the extent of representing them as issues. Roosevelt and Taft would sooner touch a live wire than a live tin issue this fall. This is what they do. Bryan writes to Roosevelt and says: 'Honored President, you are a crook.' Mr. Roosevelt writes back: 'You are another.' Neither has any respect for the other if he has any respect for himself. They are both right in the statements contained in their correspondence.

Mr. Debs said that the campaign now holding the attention of the country marks the beginning of the breakdown of the capitalist system. He said that times of depression and panic will recur as long as either the Democrats or the Republicans are in power. The slogans of the Republicans in past campaigns prove the helplessness of the party.

"In 1904," he said, "it was 'Let well enough alone.' In 1904 it was 'Stand pat,' and in 1908, 'God knows.'"

Debs' reference to the reply made by Taft when asked what was to become of the idle thrilled his audience. The "Red Special" will stop to-day at Geneva, Waterloo, Auburn and Syracuse, and in the latter place the big meeting will be held.

Among the other speakers at last night's meeting was Joshua Wanhope, candidate for Governor.

When the "Red Special" arrives here at 2 P. M. to-morrow it will be met by a committee of the Socialist party, who will escort Debs and his companions to the Hippodrome, where he will speak at 2:30. The far-famed "Red Special" band will march ahead and the air will be filled with the strains of the "International" and the "Marseillaise."

All the seats at the Hippodrome are sold. An overflow meeting will be held in the American Theatre.

Debs will speak at all of the meetings. At the Hippodrome he will be assisted by John Spargo, as chairman, Morris Hillquit, candidate for Congress in the Ninth district, and Joshua Wanhope, gubernatorial candidate. At the American Seymour Friedman of Chicago, Guy E. Miller of Denver, Stanley J. Clark of Texas and Joshua Wanhope will speak and Seymour Lee, editor of The Call, will preside. Everything indicates that to-morrow's meetings will be the greatest political demonstration ever held in the Socialist party.

In the evening a monster banquet at Kall's restaurant, 555 Broadway, will be tendered to Debs and his party by the Evening Call. Many noted after-dinner speakers will be present, and it is certain that the affair will be one long to be remembered.

At 6 A. M. Monday the "Red Special" will leave for Boston, where Debs will speak in Faneuil Hall.

CALL FOR HUSTLERS.

Arrangements have been made by P. Viag with the publishers of Everybody's Magazine whereby copies of the October number containing Stevens' interview with Debs are to be placed on sale at the Debs meetings to-morrow, and all the profits will go to the "Red Special Fund."

All those who wish to help in the work of selling the magazines should be at the distributing point. Flannery's Cafe, corner of Sixth avenue and Forty-fourth street, by noon to-morrow. The hustlers who handled the Labor Day number of The Call are particularly requested to assist.

BULLET LOVE'S PAY

Married Bellboy Shoots Affinity and Himself.

Francis Kearns, 23 years old, captain of the bellboys in the Hotel Breslin, last night shot his sweetheart on the east walk in Central Park, opposite Ninety-ninth street, and then put a bullet in his own head.

They may recover. The young woman said she was Margaret Sinclair, 25, of No. 63 West Thirty-sixth street.

Kearns has a wife and children in Chicago. In a note found on him, Kearns said he had shot Miss Sinclair because he loved her.

They were found by Policeman Charles Myer unconscious in the pathway.

At No. 63 West Thirty-sixth street Mrs. Anderson, the landlady, said last night she had a lodger named Miss "Trixie" Stevens, a telephone operator at the Breslin, but no Miss Sinclair.

The police said they suspected she was "Miss Sinclair."

"DRIVE ON, THEY'RE DEAD," SHOUTS WOMAN

Struck and hurled against the walls of the Bijou Theatre in Livingston near Smith street, Brooklyn, James Edward Ryan, 42 years old, of No. 41 Second street, Brooklyn, was instantly killed by an automobile occupied by four women and three men. His companion, Miss Josephine Wagner, with whom he was crossing the street arm and arm, was so terribly hurt that she is dying in the Brooklyn Hospital.

The automobile, a big white touring car, lost a big brass lamp as it struck the couple, but it halted only a few seconds before speeding away.

Four arrests were made later, but the police were reticent about charging them with the responsibility.

As soon as the car struck the two a woman heavily veiled rose in her seat in the automobile and shouted: "They're both dead; drive on, drive on!"

IMPORTANT NOTICE.
Comrade Ben Lichtenberg, subscription manager of The Call, will be in Boston October 5, Providence October 7, New Haven October 8, and Bridgeport October 9 with the "Red Special," as representative of The Call. All comrades who wish to volunteer their services in these towns will please communicate with the following:
Boston: W. T. Richards, 699 Washington street.
Providence: H. F. Thomas, 233 Friendship street.
Bridgeport: J. Berger, 117 Madison avenue.
New Haven: H. A. Schwartz, O. box 888.

INDIVIDUALISM.

'ROOSEVELT AGAIN OR SOCIALISM'

Nicholas Longworth Makes Program Public.

ROCK ISLAND, Ill., Oct. 3.—That President Roosevelt must be elected president again eight years from now in order to save the country from "recklessly radical and Socialistic ideas" was the declaration made by Congressman Nicholas Longworth, the President's son-in-law, last night in a speech at the Tri-State Exposition to a large audience.

"This is taken as an indication that the President has the intention of returning to the White House, and that he regards himself as the bulwark which will stem the rising Socialist tide. The alternative seems to be Socialism or Rooseveltism."

Mr. Longworth proposed two terms for Mr. Taft with President Roosevelt to succeed him. This program of prolonged Rooseveltism astonished the politicians. The opinion is that Mr. Longworth is too previous in his declaration and that his expression of filial devotion may get him into trouble with his father-in-law.

Mr. Longworth endorsed the president's recent campaign letters and prophesied Mr. Bryan's defeat.

INTERESTING C. P. L. MEETING.

Does the Call Purchasers' League mesh business? Well, just watch us. At the same time watch the advertising in the Call grow. What's going to happen next? What will be the next step?

Come to the Labor Temple, 213 East Eighty-fourth street, Monday evening, October 5, and find out. The C. P. L. will admit you and your friends to their meeting on that evening if you'll promise—but come and find out.

AHEAD OF RECORD

Autos Running in 24-Hour Race Injure Many.

Score for tenth hour.—No. 6 (Simplex), 506 miles; No. 5 (Renault), 504 miles; No. 8 (Thomas), 470 miles; No. 2 (Lozier), 464 miles; No. 3 (Fiat), 203 miles; No. 11 (Allen Kingston), 324 miles; No. 9 (Cleveland), 296 miles; No. 14 (Renault), 255 miles; No. 7 (Acme), 290 miles; No. 15 (Zust), 217 miles; No. 12 (Thomas), 206 miles; No. 4 (Stearns), 238 miles. The record is 465 miles. *Cars not running.

BRIGHTON BEACH TRACK. Oct. 3.—One dying, two terribly hurt, another badly injured and two racing automobiles wrecked mark the penalty of the neck-breaking, record-breaking pace of the first ten hours of the big twenty-four-hour race to-day.

The Injured.
Thomas D. Fichett, detective, Coney Island Hospital; both legs broken, internal injuries; condition critical.
Harry Boch, driver Renault, No. 14, paddock hospital; face and hands burned.
Charles Natjen, driver Zust, No. 15; paddock hospital; arms burned, wrist broken.

BENEFIT FOR THE CALL.

There will be a grand entertainment this evening at 65 Thattford avenue, Brooklyn, for the benefit of the Sustaining Fund of The Call. The benefit will be given under the auspices of the Young Socialists' Literary League, and an enjoyable time is assured.

If you want the trade of The Call Purchasers' League, you will have to advertise in The Evening Call.

EXIT ALL TRANSFERS

Must Pay for Watered Stock of the Rich.

If the arguments by John G. Milburn, of counsel for the Metropolitan Street Railway Company, at a hearing before the Public Service Commission, are any criterion, the receivers have it in mind to do away entirely with the transfer system. The whole of Mr. Milburn's address to the commission was based on the promise that there was no reason why the company should give transfers, and several good reasons why it should not.

The hearing was granted to allow the receivers to show how they intended to dodge the through routes between the north and south lines of the Metropolitan and the Fifty-ninth Street Crosstown Line, which was recently severed from the larger company. They showed it.

OLD GAS METERS MUST GO—PERHAPS

The Public Service Commission yesterday adopted an order requiring that all gas meters that have been in service continuously for seven years or more shall be removed and tested by July 1, 1909.

Whenever a seven-year meter is removed the consumer is to be supplied with a meter which has the seal of the Public Service Commission on it.

REGISTRATION IN NEW YORK.

The registration days this year are Monday, Oct. 5; Tuesday, Oct. 6; Saturday, Oct. 10, and Monday, Oct. 12. All who intend to vote must register on one of these days, between 7 A. M. and 10 P. M.

PANAMA EXPOSE NOW

Alleged Blackmailer After Cromwell's Firm.

District Attorney Jerome is "investigating" a matter placed before him by W. J. Curtis, of the firm of Sullivan & Cromwell, of which William Nelson Cromwell is one of the partners. Mr. Curtis represented that there were men whom he named who were endeavoring to obtain money from Mr. Cromwell because of his interest in the transactions leading up to the purchase by this country of the Panama Canal deal that was as questionable as it was successful.

Mr. Curtis told Mr. Jerome it had been represented to Mr. Cromwell that the Democratic national committee was considering the advisability of making public a statement that William Nelson Cromwell, in connection with Banau-Varilla, a French speculator, had formed a syndicate at the time it was quite evident that the United States would take over the rights of the French bondholders in the De Lesseps Canal and that this syndicate, included among others Charles F. Taft, brother of William H. Taft, and Douglas Robinson, brother-in-law of President Roosevelt. Other men more prominent in the New York world of finance were also mentioned.

The Story Told Jerome.

"These financiers invested their money because of a full knowledge of the intention of the Government to acquire the French property at a price of about $40,000,000, and this—because of their alleged information from high Government sources—were enabled to reap a rich profit."

It was further stated that the story as told against Mr. Cromwell fixed the profit of the syndicate at $8,500,000, this amount being divided among Government favorites in the world of politics and finance.

TICKETS TO BANQUET ARE NEARLY SOLD

The banquet to be given in honor of Eugene V. Debs by The Call on Sunday night, October 4, is going to be a monster success. Only a few tickets remain unsold. The banquet will take place in Kall's restaurant, 555 Broadway, near Spring, at 8 P. M. Besides Debs, there will be noted national and local speakers.

The last opportunity to get tickets will be at the Hippodrome on Sunday afternoon when those unsold at that time will be disposed of by application to Miss Anna A. Maley. The committee in charge guarantees places at the banquet only to those holding regular tickets.

MEETING TO-DAY.

The Socialist Sunday School Union will hold its meeting on Saturday, October 3, at 3 P. M., at the Grand School, 112 East Nineteenth street. Teachers and others interested in the work of Socialist Sunday schools are invited to join.

REPORT OF DEBS MEETING.

The Evening Call of Monday, October 5, will contain complete reports of the Debs meetings at the Hippodrome and the American Theatre.

Stenographic reports of Debs' speeches will be given. Demand Monday's issue at the news-stands.

SOCIALISM DEFINED

Rose Pastor Stokes Talks to the Unemployed.

"Socialists must love all mankind in order to feel the full glory of the coming of the great revolution," said Mrs. Rose Pastor Stokes at the National Convention of the Unemployed last night. "We must love and understand both the exploited and the exploiter. Love, in the highest sense, is that feeling that causes us to seek people's greatest welfare. We love all men because we know that all are the victims of this system. You often hear about our indictment of individuals, but it is not them that we are fighting. It is only necessary to use them as examples of the system we are combating. Only through organization, both industrial and political can you and I be made free and Socialism triumph."

The 500 attending the closing session of the convention in Cooper Union burst forth into a volley of cheers.

In her opening talk Mrs. Stokes explained the economic causes of pauperism and unemployment, and declared the Socialist party was the only one that paid any attention to the unemployed.

"In fact," said she, "the question of labor is the only reason for the existence of the Socialist movement. If you elect Socialists to control the government the problem of unemployment will be solved forever and everyone will get the full fruits of his labor."

Speaking directly to the policemen present, Mrs. Stokes said: "I wish the whole force were here. I would like to talk to them all. I suppose you men must do your duty, but I ask you to be kind to the unemployed and remember that they are your brothers."

Cornelius Donovan, a Single-tax Democrat and president of the Tenants' Union, presided. Mrs. Stokes in a stirring speech which attributed the unemployed problem and all other evils to landlordism, and concluded by telling the audience not to vote for the aristocrats, but for themselves and their families, and thus bring about the kingdom of righteousness.

The Call Honors Enthusiasm.

A dramatic incident occurred when Mr. Donovan said that no newspaper in this city dared to tell the truth about the land question for fear of losing their real estate advertising, and that the entire press was muzzled.

"How about The Call? Don't you know that it is not muzzled?" came from a score of voices.

Mr. Donovan said he did not know much about The Call.

A young woman promptly handed him a copy of the paper.

"If The Call is what I said we lacked," he said, "then God bless it. The evils I have named cannot stand the light of a free press or a call."

Scores the Government.

"The government is spending $24,000,000 in sending the feet around the world," said Samuel A. Stodel, speaking on "Immediate Relief." "It could easily afford to spend a few millions in relieving many thousands of American citizens. But our government exists only to protect business and property, and it does it even at the cost of human life."

Resolutions calling for free transportation to work, the payment of 10 cents per day to vagrants working in jail, and asking the government to provide the unemployed with land and tools to enable them to earn their living were adopted. Dr. Leighton Williams, Edmund Kelly and Samuel A. Stodel were made honorary members of the National Committee of the Unemployed.

The session was enlivened by a riddle sketch by Miss Jackson and Miss Sims, Caroline Van Name sang "The Red Flag" and responded to an encore with the "Marseillaise."

President J. Edna How of the Unemployed and Brotherhood Welfare Association expressed his satisfaction at the work done during the five days' session, and said that he regarded the movement for the national organization of the unemployed as fairly under way. Mr. How said that it was very probable that the U. S. W. A. would be given the old army buildings belonging to Cooper Union for its winter headquarters and many homeless men would be sheltered there. The committee will also insist upon the opening of other armories and vacant buildings to the unemployed. Mr. How will leave for St. Louis within a few days, as his services are needed by the organization in the West.

GIANTS GO BACK

Pittsburg Has Decided the Best of It.

The New Yorks were ousted from first place yesterday, though they won their game from the Phillies. The Pittsburg took both parts of a double header from the tallenders and first place is theirs. The three figures of the percentage tables show the first two teams to be on even terms, but when the decimal is carried out further it is seen that Pittsburg has the advantage. New York has a percentage of .527 with a fraction left over of .149 and when the remaining fraction is greater than one-half the custom is to add it on as one. Pittsburg has a percentage of .525 with a fraction left over of .24-152. Therefore the Pirates really are ahead. The Cubs won their game from the Cincinnati, shutting them out again, and it may be that if the New Yorks are to win the pennant their games with the Boston next week will be the ones that will give the needed points to them. The Brooklyn made a good finish and defeated the Boston.

THE FOOT BALL SCHEDULE.

The following football games are scheduled for to-day:

PRINCESS CLUB UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT.

There has been a change in the management of the Princess Athletic Club and James De Forrest, the well-known instructor and manager of Jim Stewart and Joe Joannette, now has full charge.

The Princess is one of the best athletic clubs in the city and its gymnasium in the Princess Building, Broadway and Twenty-ninth street, is equipped with all the modern exercising apparatus, electric baths and everything required in training. Many members can be seen working daily.

Manager De Forrest has made necessary changes and improvements. Hereafter the club will be run on lines that will give satisfaction and leave no room for complaint. De Forrest will consider the interest, comfort and entertainment of the members as his first duty.

YOUNG OTTO VS. KID LOCKE.

At the Roman A. C. Monday night Young Otto, the "Knockout Kid," will meet Kid Locke of Philadelphia, somewhere or other all the lightweights throughout New York have side-stepped Otto. The matchmaker of the Roman has asked every lightweight of any note to meet him on Monday night, but with no result. E. W. Smith of the Roman A. C. went to Philadelphia yesterday to match Jack Blackburn, but Blackburn refused to do 125 pounds for Otto. While in Philadelphia Smith secured Kid Locke, of that city, to meet him and this bout is sure to prove a hummer. These boys were supposed to meet three weeks ago at the Whirlwind A. C., but Otto had no word that the match was made and ever since then he has been criticized for crawling out of it. Otto will take on Locke just to show the public that he is not afraid of Locke or any other lightweight living.

WINS MARATHON RACE.

BROCKTON, Mass., Oct. 3.—James W. O'Mara of North Cambridge won the Marathon race from Boston to this city yesterday, covering a course of twenty-three miles in 2 hours 35 minutes 24 1/2 seconds. The second man was E. G. Ryder of the Oakdale Athletic Association, Jamaica Plain, who was a second less than two minutes behind O'Mara. Charley Henry of Lynn was third, while Samuel A. Mellor of Yonkers, a veteran of many similar runs, was fourth. O'Mara was awarded a bronze statue of a Marathon runner, while the other three received silver cups.

Union Made Clothing

We undersell all retail stores because we are large Manufacturers and have adopted the unique policy of selling directly from our great factory to the wearer at strictly wholesale prices, saving you all middlemen's profits.

Experience has taught us it is more profitable to sell one hundred suits to one hundred persons for cash than to sell one hundred suits to one dealer and extend long credit.

We Employ Only Union Tailors.

The employment of Union Tailors insures BEST clothing in every particular—best in workmanship, quality and style.

Satisfaction fully guaranteed or money refunded.

Men's Suits

An assortment of suits and overcoats, embracing all the new colorings in the right weight fabrics for Fall and Winter.

GIANTS TAKE AN EASY ONE.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 3.—Seven runs were made in the first inning of yesterday's game between the New Yorks and the Phillies, and the seven were made by the New Yorks. The Gothamites did not score after that. They did not have to. The lead was sufficient to keep them a safe distance ahead all through the game. Red Ames was relied on by McGraw to attend to the pitching department properly and he was equal to the trust. He kept up his end manfully, and the New Yorks, crippled though they are, are both game and confident. The fact that Ames has pitched steady and effective ball in his last three games makes them hopeful that he can fill in with Mathewson often enough to win the pennant for the Polo Grounds. The score: New York, 7; Philadelphia, 2.

FRED D. IS BEATEN.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 3.—Fred D.'s defeat by "Busher" Harry E. in the 2:07 pace was the unexpected event of the Grand Circuit racing here yesterday afternoon. The former, driven by Tommy Murphy of Glen Cove, L. I., was trying all of the time, but in each of the three heats something came along to beat this first choice.

Harry L. and Fred D. teamed in the third heat to the stretch. Here the former pulled away from the Murphy pacer and won handily. The best time, 2:06.

WILL BE THERE AT FINISH.

While training for the national tennis championship of America, to be run at Celtic Park November 7, Gerald Fitzgibbon of the Irish-American Club covered the distance in 59 minutes and 37 seconds against a stiff breeze.

C. F. L. PRIZE.

"A Little Brother to the Rich" will be presented to the holder of the first C. F. L. card sent to The Call office. There must be at least twelve entries to a page to receive consideration.

MAEK UNCOVERS DEEP LAID PLOT OF TAFT

Republicans Have Big Corporations Behind Them.

Searching For Funds the Democratic Chairman Runs Across Money Invested in Corporations Which Refuse to Dislodge Itself Despite the Standard Oil Crow-Bar.

By M. BLAIR COAN.

The Democrats have come back. They are handing a package to Mr. Taft and to President Roosevelt. The package is something awful. It rivals the disclosures of Governor Hughes and even makes Sherlock Holmes a blunt instrument. The mystery deepens; the plot grows dark.

Maek has made a terrible disclosure. While searching for funds with which to run the Bryan campaign he has bumped into a lot of money owned by George R. Sheldon, treasurer of the Republican National Committee, and which refused to disjoin itself from the corporations in which he was interested when Maek attempted to dislodge a portion of it with the Standard Oil crow-bar.

In a terrible terrifying statement Maek yesterday set forth the astonishing fact that Sheldon is a corporation man. Who ever heard of this before? Only everybody who has heard of Sheldon—but Maek. In other words, Maek has proven that he is a director in seventeen corporations, and worse than this, Sheldon admits that the statement is true.

After his wonderful discovery Maek gave an interview to the newspaper men. At least that was what he called it, but the truth of the matter was that all he allowed them to do was to see him. This was enough in itself.

"If Sheldon was the treasurer of the Democratic National Committee and it was found that he was interested in all these corporations, would you remove him at once?" was asked. "I will not discuss that phase of the question," responded Mr. Maek.

His answer was the same on every other question.

"This is what Maek's press agent handed out as coming from him relative to Sheldon:

"The Bethlehem Steel Company does not employ union labor and has opposed the organization of its employees for the past sixteen years. Mr. Sheldon is a director of that company. He is also treasurer and director of the North American Company, capitalized for $50,000,000, a concern known as the 'Mystery of Wall Street.' It is but a few years back since he was prominently identified with the 'Whiskey Trust.' A glance at his connections with various companies for the past ten years will explain tersely the reason of his present position. No further comment of mine is necessary."

These are the alleged corporations: American Locomotive Company, Bethlehem Steel Company, Cincinnati Northern Railway Company, Detroit Edison Company, Electrical Sec. Company, Laclede Gas Light Company, Montreal Locomotive Works, Locomotive Sec. Company, Metropolitan Trust Company, Milwaukee Electric Railway & Light Company, Milwaukee Light, Heat & Traction Company, National Copper Bank, North American Company, New Jersey Terminal Dock & Imp. Company, Republic Iron and Steel Company, Rogers Locomotive Works, St. Louis Transit Company.

BAKERS CONVENE NEXT MONDAY

Special to The Call. WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Elaborate preparations are being made by the union bakers of this city to welcome and entertain the delegates to the thirteenth convention of the Bakery and Confectionery Workers' International Union to be held here commencing Monday, October 5. Fifty delegates, representing as many local unions, with a membership of 20,000, will attend. The official headquarters will be at the St. James Hotel.

The convention will receive the reports of the international officers of the union and act upon their recommendations. Plans for organization will be formulated and the constitution amended.

Considerable attention will be paid to the legal battles in which the union is involved. The Bakers' Union has had a continual struggle to protect the organization and the label from unscrupulous employers.

Ever since its formation in 1885 the Bakers' International Union and its local branches have been swamped with injunctions, legal suits and adverse labor decisions. The famous decision in the New York bakers' ten-hour law is an instance.

In spite of all these obstacles and the industrial depression the Bakers' International Union is flourishing. The union is a progressive organization and has an excellent official journal, published weekly.

The convention is expected to remain in session for one week.

CALL FOR CONFERENCE.

Unions to Help Newark Striking Girl Cigarettes.

The girl strikers of Newark have issued the following appeal for a conference of delegates from labor unions:

"We are an organization of five hundred girls and have been on strike for the last eight weeks against the I. Lewis Cigar Company. They have offered terms of settlement which are not only worse than when we first went on strike, but are against all laws of common decency.

"We are calling a conference and invite each union to send a delegate to us so that we shall know how to go on with our strike, or in case of settlement that we may live up to the rules of organized labor.

"By this strike not only the girls are affected, but also the general public in the matter of home trade."

If you want the trade of The Call Purchasers' League you will have to advertise in The Evening Call.

DEBS BANQUET WILL BE UNIQUE OCCASION

Arrangements for the banquet to be given by the New York Evening Call in honor of Eugene V. Debs, Presidential candidate of the Socialist party on next Sunday evening at 8 o'clock sharp, have been completed. The affair will be held at Kall's restaurant, 565 Broadway, near Spring street, Manhattan. As this establishment is closed on Sundays, friends intending to participate in this reception to our candidate are informed that the doors will not be opened until 7 o'clock.

Applicants for places have called at the office of The Call in a constant stream and from all indications the banquet will be the biggest thing of its kind ever given by the New York Socialists. All tickets so far ordered will be sent out by mail this afternoon. This morning a few places were still left. Persons wishing to participate in this memorable occasion will have to make a grand rush to secure places. No more orders will be accepted by mail. Any one wishing to secure a ticket can do so only by calling for it at 6 Park Place, the office of The Call.

The duty of toastmaster has been entrusted to that celebrated Socialist philosopher, after-dinner speaker and wit, Mr. Peter E. Burrows.

The list of speakers is as follows: Eugene V. Debs, Joshua Wanhope, candidate for Governor of New York on the Socialist party ticket; Morris Hillquit, Congressional candidate in the Ninth district; John Spargo, Seymour Steadman of Chicago, S. M. Reynolds of Terre Haute, Rose Pastor Stokes, Algernon Lee and Alex. Irvine.

POLITICAL MADHOUSE.

Mr. Taft yesterday made the original announcement that he believes he will be elected. He also quoted the "head of a railroad organization" as saying that his (Taft's) injunction decisions were the "magna charta" of trades unionism.

Mr. Bryan answered Mr. Taft on the question of publicity of campaign contributions in a long letter. There is nothing new said on the subject.

Governor Hughes declines to meet Clarence J. Shern, candidate for governor of the Independence League, in debate on account of "previous arrangements." Mr. Hughes says he is in favor of mandatory direct nominations. Mr. Shern criticized the declaration in a speech in Brooklyn.

Senator Foraker has replied to Mr. Hearst's most recent disclosure. He insists that his employment with Standard Oil in Ohio was perfectly legitimate, and demands that those who claim otherwise take proper procedure in the courts.

Various reports are being circulated about whether chairman Hitchcock of the Republican National Committee will visit Washington and confer with the President about campaign plans. It is said that the President has invited Mr. Hitchcock to the White House for a conference. Mr. Hitchcock's conduct of the campaign is being severely criticized.

Letter written by the late Grover Cleveland last spring, in which he declared he would not support Bryan for President if nominated is dug up.

JERSEY CITY CANDIDATES.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Oct. 2.—At an enthusiastic convention of the Seventh Ward Branch of the Socialist party the following ticket was nominated:

For Chosen Freeholder, Bernhard W. F. Miller.
For Alderman, Max Schuppe.
For Constable, Gustave E. Misterfeld.

For Justices of the Peace, Hugo F. Schuller, Alfred Koehn.
The county campaign committee was elected a committee on vacancies.

TRENTON STIRRED.

Special to The Call. TRENTON, N. J., Oct. 3.—The open air meetings being held by the Socialist party are attracting large crowds and much good work is being done.

The most active of the local speakers is Reuben McDewitt, whose speeches are reported almost in full by the local papers, and whose words are received with great enthusiasm by the audiences.

TOLEDO TO HELP POUREN.

Special to The Call. TOLEDO, Ohio, Oct. 3.—The wave of protest that has been aroused by their opposed extradition of the Russian revolutionist, Jan Janoff Pourren, has struck Toledo and an active campaign of education and agitation to save Pourren from the clutches of the Czar is being carried on. A big mass meeting will be held in the near future.

TWO BALL PLAYERS WHO HAVE EARNED ENVIABLE REPUTATIONS

JOSS LAJPIE. CLEVELAND, Oct. 3.—Cleveland defeated Chicago yesterday in the most remarkable game of the year in the big leagues by 1 run to 0. Joss, pitching for Cleveland, not only shut Chicago out without a hit, but he did not allow one of his opponents to reach first base. Joss was aided by Chicago's remarkable support from Manager Lajoie, who made several phenomenal pickups. On the other hand, which the Chicago man, pitched a sensational game, striking out fifteen men in eight innings. He struck out twice, four times and Lajoie and Schube twice each, and these three are Cleveland's best batters. Cleveland was able to bat only four men past the infield, and only five of the locals reached first base. Cleveland scored the only run in the third.

THE THEATRES

Signaling with "Pierre of the Plains" October 20, it was supposed to-day by Henry B. Harris to bring Eugene Schuyler back to the Hudson Theatre on Monday, October 12, for a run in "Pierre of the Plains." The play is a dramatization of Mr. Albert Turner's series of stories of Canadian frontier life that has been published under the title of "Pierre and His People." Mr. Selwyn made the dramatization and also directed the production, which is under the management of Henry B. Harris. The engagement here will mark Selwyn's debut in New York City as a star, although he is well known by reason of his contributing a little to the success of such plays as "Arizona," "The Pretty Sister of Jose" with Maud Adams, "Wanda" with Ethel Barrymore, and etc., etc.

Gus Edwards, the manager actor of "School Days," has scored in the difficult character part of "The Dago Boy," which he assumed on short notice in the middle of last week, and the popularity of that versatile young man has been thoroughly demonstrated by the numerous encores his characterization and new songs have received.

Charles Klein came to town Thursday and conferred with Henry B. Harris in reference to the early production of his new play, "The Third Degree." The question as to who should compose the company was discussed, and among those selected for the leading roles were: Edmund Bresse, well-known for his characterization of John Burket Rhyder in "The Lion and the Mouse," Miss Helen Ware and Wallace Edginger. During the next few days the entire cast will have been decided upon and rehearsals will begin.

James Forbes' delightful comedy, "The Traveling Salesman," is still playing to large and enthusiastic audiences at the Gaiety Theatre, where it begins its third month on Monday evening. It is unquestionably one of the greatest hits of the season, due in a great measure, no doubt, to the message of mirth and merriment which it conveys. Everyone who sees it is more than willing to recommend it to his or her friends, and as a consequence New York's newest playhouse is enjoying a most prosperous business.

Henry B. Harris announces the termination of Robert Edson's engagement at the Hudson Theatre in "The Offenders," on Saturday, October 10. Mr. Edson will then be sent on tour, visiting the principal cities of the East and Middle West, in a repertoire that includes "The Call of the North," which it will be remembered opened Mr. Edson's season at the Hudson Theatre earlier in the season. "The Offenders," his present vehicle, and "Strangheart." Practically the same casts that supported the star in these plays during their run here will accompany Mr. Edson on tour.

BABY HAS GONE TO SCHOOL.

The baby has gone to school; an angel what will the mother do, with never a call to button or pin, or tie a little shoe? How can she keep herself busy all day, with the little "hiding thing" away?

Another basket to fill with lunch. Another "good-bye" to say, and the mother stands at the door to see her baby march away. And turns, with a sigh that is half relief, and half a something akin to grief.

She thinks of a possible future morn. When the children, one by one, will go from their home out into the world. To battle with life alone; and not even this baby be left to cheer the desolate home of that future year.

She picks up garments here and there. Thrown down in careless haste, and tries to think how it would seem if nothing were displaced; if the house were always as still as this. How would she bear the loneliness?

MUTUAL-RELUCTANCE.

Here is my seat, madame, but under compels me to say that I think you are as well able to stand as I am. "Politeness" compels me to say "Thank you, sir."—Chicago Tribune.

PATHEPIC, INDEED.

WONDERS OF THE DEEP SEA.

Not very many years ago, it was supposed that life was altogether absent in the deeper parts of the sea. Now we know that this is not the case. Expeditions of scientific men have been sent out by different countries to dredge in very deep water, and their discoveries have clearly proved that fishes, mollusks, crustaceans, and even the soft-bodied sea anemones are capable of living more than three miles below the surface of the ocean.

To those profound depths no ray of sunlight can ever penetrate; and, though many of the deep-sea creatures possess eyes, we might think that they would never have an opportunity of using them. For to see in absolute darkness is impossible. We often say, it is true, that cats can see in the dark, but the fact is, that even on the darkest night there is always some little light, while a cat's eyes are made in such a way that they can take in many more rays of light than our eyes. The animal, consequently, is able to see clearly when we ourselves can scarcely see at all. But at the bottom of the sea the darkness is almost complete, so that to the creatures of the deep, eyes would seem useless.

Strange to say, although these fishes live at depths so profound, they are not entirely destitute of light. The sun's rays cannot reach them, it is true; but, on the other hand, they are very frequently themselves luminous. In some cases their whole bodies glow with phosphorescent light, which seems to issue from the slime with which the skin is covered; in others the light proceeds from a double row of curious eye-like organs, which run along the sides from the head almost to the tail. Thus these animals are independent of sunlight. They are their own light-givers. They dwell in the midst of absolute darkness, and yet are always able to see.

One of these luminous fishes uses its light for a very remarkable purpose. It is a creature of prey, feeding entirely upon other fishes; and its appetite is so voracious that it always appears to be hungry. Yet it is so slow in its movements that it is quite unable to pursue and overtake its victims. Nature, however, has provided it with an apparatus which is admirably adapted for luring those victims to their fate. The first or front fin of the back is wanting; but its place is taken by a long, slender spine, the base of which is fastened to the bones of the back by a kind of ring-and-staple attachment, so that it can be freely moved in any direction. At the end of this spine is a flattened tip, which is highly luminous. Now, fishes are extremely inquisitive creatures. Any strange object invariably rouses their curiosity, and they are especially attracted by anything that glitters or shines. Anglers, for example, often catch pike and other fishes by means of a spoon bait, which is simply a piece of polished tin armed with hooks, and fastened to the line in such a manner that it revolves rapidly when drawn through the water. Now, the luminous spine of this deep-sea fish is simply a natural spoon bait, and all that its owner has to do when it feels hungry is to dangle it up and down in front of its mouth. All the small fishes in the neighborhood are sure to come and examine it, only to be snapped up by the jaws of their foe as soon as they venture within its reach.—Selected.

Do all animals change according to their surroundings? Do men and women become changed as conditions around them change? Who can give one example of this in a very short letter?

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER

Girls, did you ever hear the singing of the old-time spinning wheel? What was it like? You could imagine anything when you heard it. The low song of a contented heart, or a dove cooing in the wind-whirled tree, or often came to the writer's mind, but the last time I heard it I had come to know of the wonderful changes from the hand loom to the cotton factory, and the plaintive wail no longer seemed a song to me but it was the wail of broken-hearted womankind. Among the mountains of the South the last of the old spinning wheels and hand looms in America disappeared only a few years ago.

There was an old man buried last year at the foot of one of the Alabama mountains who carried with him to the grave a suit of hand-made clothes that were spun and wove over forty years ago. Some of his grandchildren were working in a big cotton mill only a few miles away. When he was a child he played on the mountainside, he drank the pure water that leaped cold from the great rock cliff, he ate the wild grapes and chestnuts and berries, and his cheeks were red, his limbs were round and supple, for here he got the strength to live nearly a hundred years.

But go with me and let us stand at the cotton factory gate, after the sun has long gone down and the stars are creeping out. Let us watch among the long rows of pale-faced women and gaunt children for the grand-daughter of the old man. At last, we see her coming. She holds in one hand a little piece of paper representing her week's wages, and with the other she leads her ten-year-old child, a little hollow-eyed girl. The mother is a little over thirty years old and the slight cough and the pink glow on her face show that she has the "white plague" and can live only a year or two more. The little daughter will not live to be as old as her mother. How often the mother pined for the pure water and air of the place where she was born. But she could not go back there and find work so necessary for a living. The spinning wheel was broken and the old loom was rotten. Even if she had the old wheel and loom back and knew how to use it, she would have to work a whole day to make one yard of cloth that would not sell for more than ten or twenty cents. Out of that she would have to buy shoes and food and other things. So there was no other way but to sell herself to the factory lord for a scant living wage. She and her children have become wage slaves. In the factory she will remain until she dies. The child has never known anything else but life in the factory. The factory is the world to it. The roar and crash of the loom room, the buzz of the spinning jennies, the dust on the carders, and the steam and heat of the spinning floors are as natural to the factory child as the fields and trees and flowers and brooks are to the child of the mountainside.

The laughter and vim of the child slave is soon ground out of it. At the age of fifteen years they often appear to be little old men and women. Little comrades, tell all the world how King Capitalism is making slaves of the children, so that all good people will join the Socialists in the endeavor to overthrow the capitalist system.—T. N. Freeman, in "The Little Socialist Magazine," August, 1905.

POTTERY.

By ANNA MALEY.

Several weeks ago you will remember the story about Fire, and last week's story about weapons, how the fire and weapons were ready, waiting for man to use, but Mother Earth withheld them until man applied his efforts. To-day we have another story of how man again tried to satisfy his needs and discovered the art of making vessels in which to cook his meat. So, in every step of man's progress, it has taken labor and thought to produce things we use from the resources of nature.

One night man and his neighbors sat by a camp fire that they had kindled in the deep wood. They were tired from a day of hunting. They had eaten plentifully of the fresh meat killed in the chase. The winds crooned a night song in the leaves. One by one the hunters wrapped themselves in their comforters of dried skins and went to sleep. All but one, who in discontent was chief among them all. He lay and watched the dying fire. Some apes came out of the forest to comfort themselves in the warmth. The fire faded out and the apes went shivering away. "Fools, fools," said the man from his skins. "Why don't you think? Do you not know that it was by thought I learned to slay you? Do you not know that by thought I learned to roast your flesh on a stick and to clothe me in your skins? But you do not know even enough to lay fresh sticks on a dying fire! Fools! Fools! You will always be my slaves because you do not think!"

Then the weary man turned to his sleep but his lids would not close because of his thoughts. The stupid apes had put him in an ill temper, so he chided the Mother Earth again. "O Mother Earth, why do you not tell us all you know and save us from this weary search? We are tired of this roast meat. The finest juices drop into the fire and we must lose them."

His finger touched the dry skin which covered him. He laughed. He had had a thought. He went to sleep. The next day he made a hole in the earth which he lined with the skin of an animal. Into this he poured water. In the water he placed his meat and then he dropped in stones heated to white heat in the camp fire. He covered the hole and the heat of the stones cooked the tender kid in its own skin.

Man wove a basket the more easily to carry his food, but he could not cook meat in his basket. So on its outside he placed a thick coat of mud, and this he dried in his camp fire. Hard as a brick he dried it and the basket would then hold water. Man could then boil his meat without making a hole in the earth. He had made a pot. In time he made a better one, and he laughed again.

"O Mother Earth," he said, "for all your silence you cannot keep your secrets from me." Then he listened for her answer. The voice of the great Mother flowed through the woodland and echoed from mountain-side to mountain-side: "Labor and Thought! Labor and Thought! My children now are young, but yet are they the hope of the coming time. These shall make my gardens fruitful. These shall build the City Beautiful. These shall at last win their way to the very heart of the great Mother. And from them none, none of her gifts will she withhold!"

THE TRUE UNION MAN.

He takes a labor paper, which he pays for in advance. The United Garment Workers or Tailors have their labels on his pants. He patronizes barber shops that have the union card up. He cheerfully will help a fellow craftsman who is hard up. He chews under his "tobacco" and wears union label shoes. And if he drinks, you bet it's union label booze. The union label is in the hat he wears upon his head. And when he leaves the bakery it's always on his bread. He has that union label in the pocket of his coat. The capitalist candidate would never get his vote.—Ed.

been admitted into them by way of exception, and that, striking out these exceptions, the act voting in such matters being a public function, prima facie and according to the constitutional and common law, a woman cannot exercise it. But that case goes further. It says that this being the common law of England, when you have a statute which deals with the exercise of public functions, unless that statute expressly gives power to women to exercise them, it is to be taken that the true construction is that the powers given are confined to men; and that Lord Brougham's Act does not apply.

"On Friday, May 12, 1895, when the Woman's Enfranchisement bill was down for second reading, there were 306 women in the lobbies canvassing for the bill, and when it was talked out, these marched out and organized a meeting in the open air. The opposition to the bill came from both sides of the House in about equal proportions.

"Whilst these sheets are being revised a bill comes to me, introduced by W. R. Cremer, M. P., and others, which proposes to confer the vote upon every "man" and "male person" of full age.

WORK OF WOMEN'S SOCIALIST LEAGUE IN PHILADELPHIA.

By ANNA COHEN.

While it is often said and thought by Socialists that separate organizations for women are a mistake, in Philadelphia the contrary has been proved.

Most of the women who were party members rarely came to the meetings of the locals or branches, or took an active interest in the work, while it was quite impossible to bring sympathetic women into the movement.

With the organization of the Women's Socialist League, more women have wanted to join the party, not merely to aid it financially, but to take an active part in the work. Those women who have been confined to the home or to the mill or store will, when they join the party, understand the work and feel quite at home after some experience in a Socialist organization. As most men get some experience of this nature in their trades unions, it is evident they do not need a separate organization.

The meetings of the league are held twice each month. Some special feature is planned for one of the evenings in connection with all regular work, and for this meeting some special effort is made to bring new women into the organization.

Several evenings were devoted to getting information from members relative to conditions of working women in stores and factories and mills. These meetings were unusually interesting, and there was always a large attendance. In fact, there have never been less than sixteen, or seventeen present, and often there have been twenty-five or thirty.

At present Bebel's "Woman" is being studied in class, and all reports of women's work in leagues are read and discussed.

During the summer two picnics were given. At the first, which Mrs. Fraser of New York addressed, enough was realized from literature sales and collections alone to defray all expenses. Miss Potter, also of New York, spoke at the other one, and this was even a greater success than the first from the financial standpoint and also in regard to number present.

Several dollars were realized on a moonlight excursion.

In this way the treasury has been partly filled, literature has been bought for distribution and plans for further work are in progress.

The men in the party are beginning to feel differently toward the women and want them to help in party work. Although there had never before been a woman speaker at the annual Socialist picnic, this year the party secured Miss Anna Maley of New York to speak.

It is hoped that organization work can be taken up shortly and perhaps Sunday-school work.

The women are enthusiastic and continued success is assured.

We Socialists are not greatly interested in the various "issues" which the old parties are discussing for the mystification of the people.

THE ISSUES OF THIS CAMPAIGN.

The futile prosecution of trusts by Republican or by Democratic officials. Their votes are worth much more than that.

It would do the working people little good to have bank deposits guaranteed under a system, as advocated by both the old parties, which makes a bank deposit an impossibility for most workingmen.

We Socialists recognize just one big issue in this campaign, as in other campaigns that have gone before. THE issue for our party, because it is the ONLY issue that really touches the interest of our class.

SHALL THE WORKERS OWN THE THINGS WITH WHICH THEY WORK AND CONTROL THEIR OWN OPPORTUNITIES OF EMPLOYMENT AND ENJOY FOR THEMSELVES THE PRODUCT OF THEIR OWN LABOR?

OR SHALL THEY AGAIN CONSENT TO HAVE THE MEANS OF PRODUCTION OWNED BY A SMALL CLASS, TO HAVE INDUSTRY CONTROLLED FOR PRIVATE PROFIT, AND TO LIVE ON THE VERGE OF POVERTY WHILE THEY WORK AND BE THROWN OUT OF WORK AND INTO MISERY FROM TIME TO TIME, THROUGH NO FAULT OF THEIR OWN, IN ORDER THAT THE CAPITALISTS MAY LIVE IN LUXURY AND POWER WITHOUT DOING ANY PRODUCTIVE LABOR?

That issue the workingmen's votes can decide, whenever the workingmen vote fearlessly and unitedly—AND THEY WILL.

Meantime, while the masses of the workingmen are gradually learning to vote together and to vote for themselves, while our vote is growing and before we have got the majority, there are things that CAN BE DONE NOW, to relieve the sufferings of the working class and to strengthen their power of resistance.

We demand action by the city, state and nation to GIVE WORK TO THE UNEMPLOYED—useful work at decent hours and decent pay.

We demand the ABOLITION OF CHILD LABOR, so that the children may go to the school and the playground and there may be employment for the men.

We demand the enactment and enforcement of LAWS TO GUARD THE HEALTH AND LIVES OF THE WORKERS in their places of employment and in their homes.

We demand provision for the workers WHEN THEY ARE SICK, when they are INJURED, when they are THROWN OUT OF WORK without fault of their own, and when they have GROWN OLD AT THEIR WORK.

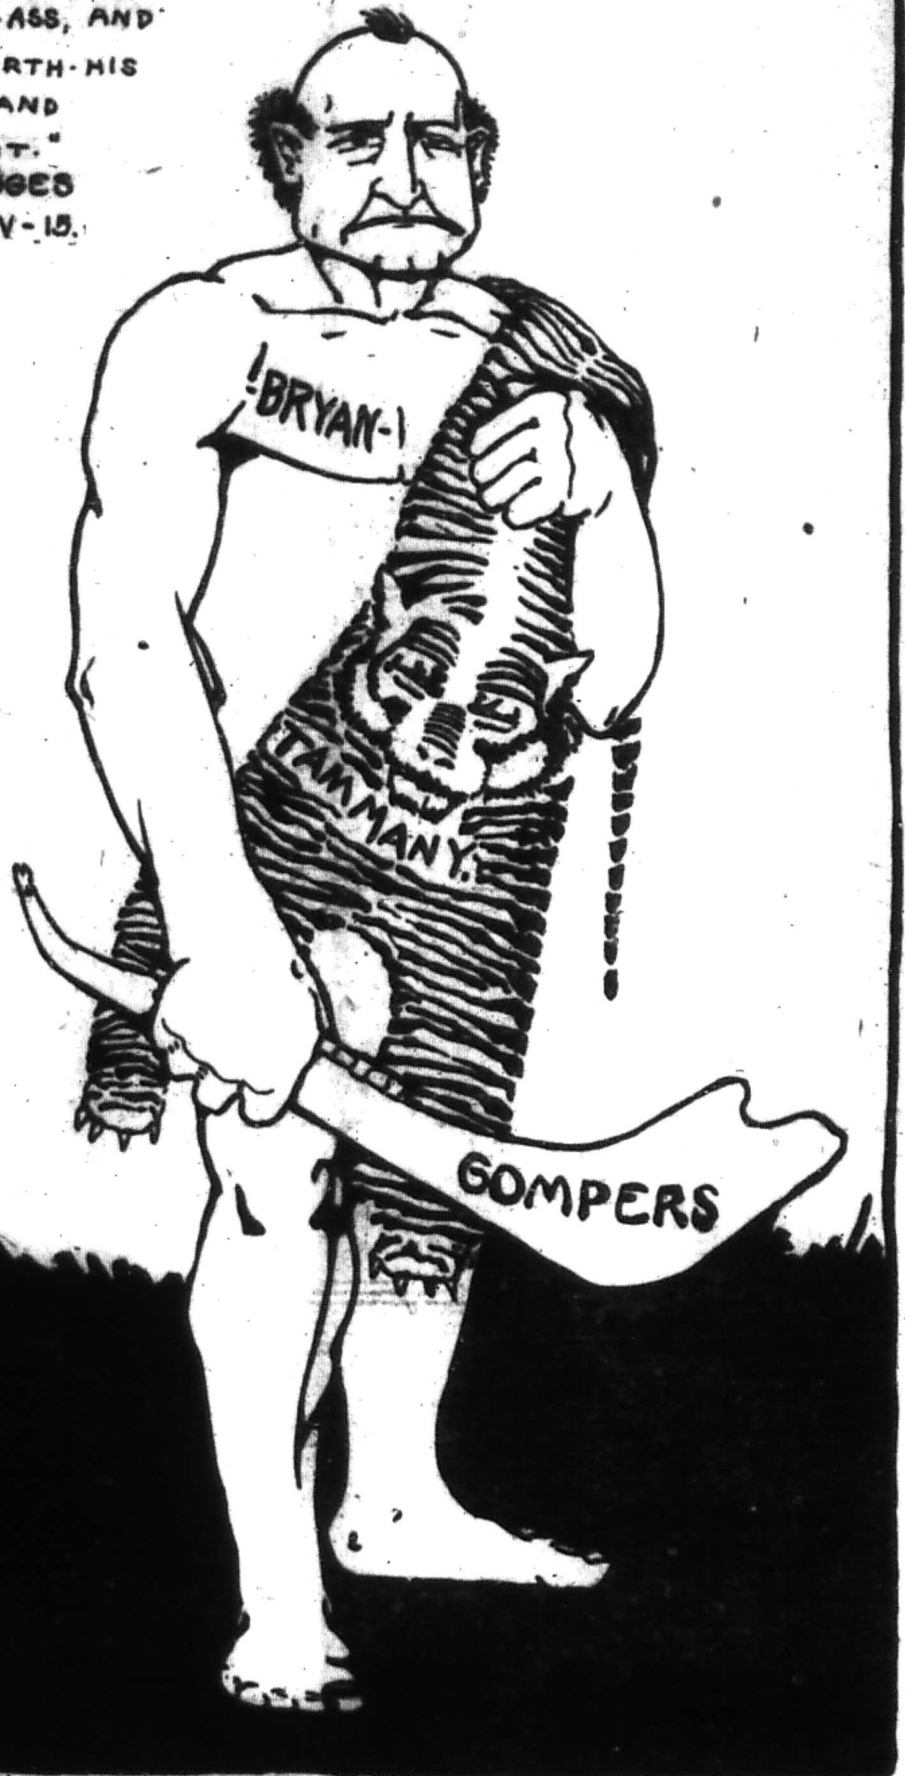

We demand protection of THE WORKERS' RIGHT TO ORGANIZE in unions, to carry on strikes and boycotts, and by all peaceful means to strive for shorter hours and higher wages and better conditions.

These and other demands of the same sort are the IMMEDIATE ISSUES for which the Socialist party stands, because the fulfillment of these demands will be beneficial to our class, the most numerous and the most important as well as the most suffering class in society to-day.

And we call on the workingmen not to throw their votes away on issues which do not touch their material interests, but to use the full power of their ballots, to impress the ruling class with their growing power and their growing determination that they will be free, so that all these immediate demands may be realized NOW and so that our big demand, for THE COMPLETE EMANCIPATION OF THE WORKERS FROM CAPITALIST RULE, MAY BE BROUGHT IN OUR OWN DAY AND GENERATION.

SYNOPSIS.

Juriska, a young man of the aristocratic class, who was betrothed to Adele because of the dowry that was promised, quarreled with her. He went to the club and on the way met his friend Szentgrothy, who told him of Jessi, a beautiful chorus girl.

CHAPTER IV.

Juriska rose and threw a questioning look at the girl. "Yes, let's go," she said, picking up her gloves from the table.

CHAPTER V.

One very rainy day Professor Mihaly sat cowering in a corner of a stage-coach, which came lumbering slowly down the street.

sight of his future son-in-law rolling rapidly over the wooden pavement of Andras street in his handsome brougham.

This chance meeting gave the professor occasion to make comparisons between his own modesty and the arrogance of that "young cipher." Nor was he slow in communicating the result of his communications to Juriska in the form of a few stinging insinuations.

Profound silence. Mihaly and his wife looked at each other, deadly of face depicted on their faces, while Adele bent over her plate to conceal the tears in her eyes.

"Philippines! Incurable Philippines!" Juriska growled to himself as he started on his way home.

Juriska stopped him, and asked him about Jessi.

DIRTY DOLLARS.

By BEN HANFORD.

I have a copy of the last Annual Report of the United States Steel Corporation. It is for the year ending December 31, 1907. The gross receipts of the Steel Trust for the year were $757,014,767.65.

Deducting $564,166,777.12 for operating expenses from the gross receipts of $757,014,767.65 leaves "net" receipts of $192,847,990.53 and of this latter amount the sum of $35,355,727 went to the payment of dividends.

Again, after deducting $35,355,727 of dividends from the net receipts of $192,847,990.53, we find that the United States Steel Corporation paid "fixed charges" to the amount of $33,361,773.95.

Now, if Taft cannot "regulate" and Bryan cannot "bust" the Steel Trust and other trusts, what should voters do? In a word they should vote for Eugene V. Debs for President.

thief calls "swag"—that is what a business man calls "profit."

Note the gross receipts of the Steel Trust for the one year of 1907—$757,014,767.65.

This is one of the trusts that Mr. Bryan is going to "bust" seriously, can any sane man suspect that Mr. Bryan or any other spineless man with weather-vane ideas and no principle could destroy this trust, even if he would?

Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Taft would "regulate" the Steel Trust and other trusts—so they SAY. It is interesting to note how Mr. Roosevelt "regulated" the Steel Trust in the year of our Lord 1907.

It is also worthy of note that on the very day of Mr. Bryan's nomination for the Presidency on a "bust-the-trusts" platform, the cable dispatches of the daily papers announced that the United States Steel Corporation had reached a working agreement with the Steel Corporation of Germany, Russia and other countries.

and approved by the State Commissioner of Education, and also have been graduated from a school or class for the professional training of teachers having a course of not less than two years (76 weeks) and approved by the same authority.

Fritzi said she had been feeling indisposed for two days, and had not left her house. When Juriska handed him a banknote, Fritzi recalled Juriska's name, though he had seen him but once, and that at night in the street.

"Mr. Juriska," he said, trying in vain to twist his rough, rigid countenance into a smile, "Jessi lives here in this house on the fourth story."
