Now and then a Socialist friend of The Call who has been belated by stallst circumstance sends his contribution with an earnest plea to be at as one of The Call's Three Thousand in the Souvenie Edition. So far samposing room extgencies will permit all such will appear in the Souter Edition next SUNDAY, OCTOBER 31. Where it is impossible to lace them in their regular order they will appear in the same paper, but a supplemental list.

CURCULATION—Is there one of you who reads this (and who is a Socialist) who cannot get a new reader of The Cell between this and lon day? This is the precious witching hour to #sk a non-Socialist kingman to read The Call. The political news of the day from a So-st point of view cannot fall to interest any intelligent workingman who is it. You should make it your business to see that he gets started right reading The Call. Nothing else can so effectively deal with The Call's My deficit as to increase its circulation.

d financially, I have to acknowledge The Call's Wage Fund a Ten thousand dollars in eight or ten weeks was the least I had of the speakers at that meeting were producers they finance and control ed to his present position, and has a phase of such as the correctly respectively. amount of money received, the Wage Fund has been a greater than I looked for. Some may think that, not getting the money there could be no success otherwise. To those I say that, imporied, there could be no success otherwise. To those I say that, impor-as was the money, to me there has at all times been present in my d matters of higher importance. Even as to money. I have been care-from time to time to warn The Call's friends not to neglect other activi-of the Labor Movement, and I specifically pointed out that the work be Socialist party must not be neglected nor its contributions curtailed diveried to The Call. Further, I have not sought funds for The Call in lacey more generally covered by the Chicago Doily Socialist. Great as the need of The Call, no act of mine has aided it at the cost of other later forces.

board of the Cail, no act of mine has sided it at the cost of other orces.

I aside, The Cail has at this moment a greater number of carns than ever before. And I know those friends are more willing at the first increasing intelligence and solidarity of the world's workers, as the concentration of the world's workers, as the concentration of the world's workers, as it is a base calumny. He is a Social-diarity of the world's workers, as the concentration of the world's wealth and industries in every two fewer hands, is swiftly forcing a crisis that cannot but end in victory for Social without any debate.

When interviewed after the meet-world in the three Thomsand. Because of that spirit THE A SUCCESS. the Tigree Thousand who have contributed to the Wage Fund in the twelve weeks will contribute again. They have collisted for the war, are not ninety-day drafted recruits. One contributor said, "As an cilitim is published," the would belp The Call. That spirit has set-with all the Three Thousand. Because of that spirit THE CALL IN A SUCCESS

It must not be thought that such support of The Call is given blindly.

Many Wage Fund contributors, like myself, think numerous and important changes should be made in the paper in all its departments. Like myself, they holieve that those changes can be and should be brought about gradually, but they do not think it necessary to let the paper die in order to help it live rightly. As a matter of fact, in the last three months many changes, have been made, and have greatly improved the paper.

At this very moment The Call is in sore need of funds. Yet there has lever been a moment since it started when it was doing so well. If it were possible yet to do what I wied (and failed) to do with the One Day's Wage Fund—get all of The Call's friends to work together for The Call at Money and the few has a self-sustaining basis at once. The Call would reach a self-sustaining basis at once. The Call would reach a self-sustaining basis at once. The Call would reach a self-sustaining basis at once. The fall will be Established.

The financial failure of the Wage Fund. We yet shall see those six locusing to carry out many of the lirst and second part. I failed even to stand the few plans that I did endeavor to carry out were so lacking any who introduced the resolution in facts and done in such a lame and helting manner as to take the

The $5.900 relief out of it, so causing the whole enterprise to drag. The $5.900 relief compared with the $19,000 expected is just the difference between the and works—between what I did and what I was "going to do," between good works and the d——d good intentions said to pave the roadars to eternity's most popular subuph.

You may not believe me, but I do not like to beg—not even on the first go of The Call. But in working for Socialism one must do the thing to done. Ty my lot for the past twelve weeks it has been begging. I mayed to write propaganda articles for The Call. Especially I wanted to fite for the New York City campaign. Particularly about Ed. Cassidy—a why workingmen should vote for him for Mayor, and for Passage for approller, and for Buhr for President of the Board of Aldermen. Instead all that, I've had to write begging letters. I've had to study Business—he Call's Business. I never could be a Business Man—on my own account. I will ten-dollar gold pieces for ten ceuts apiece—for myself. If a don't believe it, I need only say that I've never had the heart to try it may and here am I, instead of doing the work I want to do, engaged in a tery opposite. But, like you, reader, I do want The Call. And if I can was The Call by writing begging letters rather than by writing otherwise well and good. So that THE CALL WINS.

The Call has had its troubles. The Call will continue to have its cashes. But THE CALL IS A SUCCESS. The time is not distant when it ill be able to pay its way funnetally. Lately I had occasion to look up and in the Hill of George Washington—a gentleman who laft quite a name himself as having heen a Success in the world. Turning the leaves of my himself

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Oct. 28 .-No attempt was made today to resume work at the Ludlow mills, following pany. the exodus of 1,000 strikebreakers from the plant last night.

The company, however, served notice on the police that the authorities must "provide adequate protection" for the operation of the mills within forty-eight hours. It is generally believed that the company will resume operations on Monday.

The strikers, who are fighting a wage cut, are maintaining a peace-able attitude, but it is thought that an attempt to open the plant with strikebreakers may result in trouble.

NO RATTLESNAKE, SAYS ESPINDOLA

Hireling of Diaz Denies That He Is a Moral Leper at Trial of Fornaro.

"Now, Mr. Espindola, have you done more harm in Mexico than a brood of rattlesnakes let loose?

This was the question with which Assistant District Attorney C. W. Appleton began the examinations of Rafael Reyes Espindola in the suit for libel against Carlo De Fornaro and what would have happened before Judge Malone yesterday in Pari II, Court of General Sessions. That he has done so much harm and a great many other things of a like nature, had been asserted by Fernare in his book "Diaz, Czar of Mexico." in which some plain facts are given about 'the despotic one-man-government,' and about the El Imparcial, a government newspaper. which Espindola is publisher and

It is for having said this and the the Assistant District Attorney kept on enumerating the other things.

The Other Things.

"Are you a blackmailer? Are you a plearoon Are you a procurer?

Are you a libertine? Are you a mans and shameless one? Are you reer? Are you at the head of a heang?"

o each of those questions Espin-dolai registered a negative reply. The Assistant District Attorney then offered in evidence the pages of Forther's book in which these things are said. He also offered in evidence e.G: he offered in evidence other giver; and he offered the name of the nathor.

Rafact Reyes Espindola, charges to be the head of the Diaz organ on which the Presidenta Kalleged to have spent, by his own confession, $1,000,000 in the last ten years, is a tall slim, dark, middleased man with small eyes, long face the palid complexion. He winced plant all the unpleasant questions have been put to him, and it may be concluded that he was extremely sorry that the court was not in his own dountry, where he is congress-man, the head of the official press, and friend to "Perfidio" Diaz, the President.

Fernaro, in his book, charges that is Espindola's business to kill all ival papers-those that are against e administration. Fornaro also arges that in one case Espindola nt as far as committing forgery in

He says; "As the rival newspaper could not downed by fair means, Espindola had several copies printed, a fac-sim-ile, an exact reproduction of the rival paper, title and all, containing a scur-rilous article about Porfirio Diaz. Nat-suralize the editor, with his staff, went to jail."

Charges Not New.

It was on this point that George Ed-win Joseph, attorney for the defense, stopped in his cross-examination and charges are merely repetitions of sim-liar charges made in Mexico.

"Have you been described by car-onists as the Trimurti Del Averia

He admitted that articles against him have appeared in Mexican papers, principally Tillin-Tillin (Jingl-Jingle); and that he never brough any action against them.

At this point, to defend his client's sense of honor, the assistant district attorney jumped up and elicited the information that Espindola, in true Spanish heroism, has fought three Fornaro on Stand.

Fornaro took the stand and said that until several months ago he wa connected with the El Diallo, a news paper in Mexico City, and while there waged a cumpaign against Diaz and his gang, and that his experience in country induced him to write book and make the charges for which he is now sued.

Assistant District Attorney Apple

Assistant District Attorney Apple-ton tried to develop the theory that Fornaro had written the book in the hope that the Mexican government would buy the copyright for a large sum of money. Fornaro's cross-examination will continue tomorrow. In the preliminary remarks to the jury, Josephs asked that the para-graphs in reference to Espindola should be read in connection with the

CLERKS KEEP SECRETS

Strike Ballots Being Distributed on the Quiet on New Haven R. R.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 28 -The listributed among the clerks of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad, to determine whether the clerks are "willing to proceed to the extent or peaceably withdrawing from the employment until such time as the company sees fit to accede to certain requests" is almost welrd. Though the clerks' committee, of which R. G. Stearns is the chairman, is going ahead with the plans for distributing the strike ballots among more than 2,000 clerks at various points of the system, scarcely a clerk is today willing to admit that he knows of such an action. This is the case, despite the fact that General Manager Higgins of the railroad alleges that the company will make the leges that the company will make no disco mi at.cu against clerks serving

With the utmost reluctance, however, it was admitted by one in a po sition to know that the clerks are thoroughly alive to the situation and that unless the company accedes to certain demands there is more than a remote possibility that the 60 per cent of the clerks' membership necessary to institute a walkout will sign the ballots in the affirmative. No denial was made today that within the next thirty-six hours the chairmen of the twenty-three divisions of the clerks' organization will have ballots, which they are instructed by the clerks in their jurisdiction.

GENERAL GEORGE WASHINGTON AND THE ONE DAY'S WAGE FUND

Revolutionary War George Washington was retreating, or "falling back." It seemed that when he was not retreating he was just plain running away. It seemed that when he was not retreating he was just plain running away, and usually he had to be right quick about it (more than once at night)—he and his thousands of men. To a great extent he had the identical complaint that afflicts The Call today—lack of money. He wanted to fight, but as General of the Revolutionary Army he put in most of his time_trying to raise the wind financially, and he was compelled to do many a brave stunt in the way of begging, borrowing and stealing. After seven years of begging and running he finally made a good fight and won a victory, and the people of America and the world took their place one step higher on the road to civilization.

So shall it be with The Call. It is a struggle. It is no task for pink tea folk to play with. It is to beg, to borrow, to scrap, to give battle for

That the capitalist politicians in their scramble for offices resort to many very strange and mystifying tricks to befuddle the minds of the workers, and that one of their favorite tricks is the launching of newspapers, so-called labor papers, to catch the eye and stuff the heads of trade unionists with clap-trap in order to secure their votes, has been again proven during this campaign by the appearance of several fly-by-night

After the Czar left for home it was discovered that Nathan was the only person who had not been decorated by the Russian monarch. This was due to Nathan's refusal of a decoration because he was afraid of the opposition majority in the municipal counwhich is made up of Socialists

CANDIDATES OF THE SOCIALIST PARTY

FRIENDS OF LABOR.

The eternal friendship of Hearst for labor was a few days ago illustrated in these columns by excerpts from Hearst's own signed statement on the anti-labor decisions of the United States Supreme

In that statement Hearst expressed his hearty approval of the annulment of the federal employers' liability law, of the annulment of the law making discrimination against union men illegal, and of the in making boycotting a crime; while the decision permitting blacklisting he pretended not to understand.

The full enormity of these decisions and of Hearst's approval of them may be made clear by one illustration. The boycott, which Hearst, in agreement with Injunction Bill and the Supreme Court of the United States, has pronounced a criminal conspiracy, has again d again been declared a perfectly legitimate method of warfare by the courts of the German Empire.

But how about Gaynor, Hearst's principal adversary and a "radical" like himself?

In 1895 there was a street railway strike in Brooklyn. The strikers applied to Judge Gaynor for a writ of mandamus to compel the railway company to operate its cars in accordance with the proions of its charter. Judge Gaynor thereupon issued a writ giving the company twenty days for resuming operations. During these wenty days the company obtained enough strikebreakers to operate its cars, the militia was rushed from Albany, and the strike was lost. It may be added that as a sequel to this affair the Socialist vote in Brooklyn was more than doubled in the election that followed.

Thus do the capitalistic "radicals" and pretended "friends of or" reveal themselves in their true colors at every critical point. The only way for labor to vote for itself is to vote for the men and the party who are pledged to the overthrow of the rule of capitalism and to the establishment of the rule of the working class.

SCANDALS GALORE.

With the outbreak of the financial panic in 1907 there set in a strong current of reaction against the middle class reformers and their journalistic counterpart, the "muckrakers."

With the shallowness characteristic of their class, the smaller ess men ascribed the panic and the losses it entailed upon them to Theodore Roosevelt-to them the archtype of the agitator and

The publishers and editors of magazines, with their noses ever to the ground, scented the change in the sentiment of their readers and closed their pages to the "muckrakers."

W. R. Hearst, a weathervane by the grace of nature and nature's od, turned about and indorsed every anti-labor decision of the United States Supreme Court.

Wall Street's candidate was elected President of the United States, Hearst's sheets supported him, and a new "era of good feeling" was promised us. There was to be no more "muckraking," no more agitating, no more reforming. Everybody promised to be good, and everybody was to be rewarded with chunks of prosperity such as had never before n vouchsafed to God's own chosen people. But man supposes and God disposes. The rottenness of our capital society would not down. In spite of all our good resolution: re broke out a veritable inundation of scandalous disclosures were timber scandals, and water power scandals, and coal land lals, and benzoate of soda scandals, and gigantic Sugar Trus and little cheese men's scandals, and Cutting ferry scandals and Ryan traction scandals, and "white slavery" scandals, and Brook

The only ray of hope in the thick darkness engulfing us is the retentious, noiseless campaign of education carried on by the So alist party. In the midst of this apparently universal debauthers the Socialist party not only does its own proper work in this country, but it also finds time and the energy to participate in the international
