BORDWELL TO PASS SENTENCE TUESDAY

James B. Says, "If I Go to Gallows, It Will Be for a Principle, Not as a Murderer."

(By United Press.)
LOS ANGELES, Dec. 1.—John J. and James B. McNamara today pleaded guilty, the former to conspiracy in the dynamiting of the Llewellyn Iron Works on December 25, 1910, the latter to dynamiting the Times Building on October 1, 1910.

After a day of the wildest rumors and following the most dramatic scene witnessed in an American courtroom in recent years, the former Cincinnati printer this afternoon withdrew his plea of not guilty and entered a plea of guilty to the indictment.

He will be sentenced next Tuesday morning and he may either be ordered hanged or sent to prison for life, according to which penalty Judge Bordwell wishes to impose.

At the same time John J. McNamara, his brother, secretary-treasurer of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, withdrew his plea of not guilty to the indictment charging him with conspiracy in connection with the blowing up of the Llewellyn Iron Works on Christmas Day, 1910, and entered because I am going to the gallows for a principle, and not as a murderer."

"It was not until John himself insisted on pleading guilty that Jim finally consented to entering the plea that he did today."
The scene as the pleas were entered was extremely dramatic. When the morning's session was halted by District Attorney Fredericks, numerous rumors of the most sensational character were circulated. One was that counsel for the defense were to be arrested on the charge of having bribed jurors, and prospective jurors. Finally Attorney Darrow and Davis went to the District Attorney's office, where they remained an hour. When they came out they refused to make any statements.

"Wait until 2 o'clock," was all they would say.
As 2 o'clock the courtroom was filled and even the seats of the rail-rows were jammed. J. B. McNamara, with a peculiar smile playing about his lips, sat alongside Attorney Scott. His attitude was calm and unobtrusive.

WILLIAM J. BURNS.

Finally there was a stir in the back of the room, and a Deputy Sheriff came through the crowd. He stopped to say something to the District Attorney, and at that moment came a noise from a rear room, beyond the judge's bench.
A moment later, John J. McNamara appeared in charge of two heavily-armed Deputy Sheriffs. Impassive, ever, he dropped into a seat.
A long, painful pause followed. Finally the door to the right opened and Judge Bordwell ascended the steps and took his seat.
"The People against McNamara," he said.

At the sound of his voice, Attorney Davis was on his feet.
"On behalf of my client, James B. McNamara, I declare."
As he began the silence was so oppressive that a drop of a pin could be heard. He continued:
"I desire to withdraw the plea of not guilty, heretofore entered, and to plead guilty."
Davis' voice rose to a crescendo at the last word, and as the crowd realized what had happened, there was a deep murmur—almost a sob. Every eye was on the slender prisoner, who admittedly caused the explosion and fire that cost twenty-one lives more than a year ago.

But he sat so before, absolutely impassive, waiting.
Davis was not through, however. "And on behalf of my client," he continued, "John J. McNamara, I declare jointly with his brother, we wish to withdraw the former plea of not guilty to the charge of placing dynamite under the plants of the Llewellyn Iron Works, and enter a plea of guilty."
There was a pause, broken only when District Attorney Fredericks rose with the original indictment, charging J. B. McNamara with murdering Charles Higgerty. He walked over to the table where J. B. McNamara was sitting. As he did so, McNamara arose and stood, looking squarely into the Prosecutor's eyes.
Fredericks read the indictment tersely. He asked:
"James B. McNamara, you have heretofore pleaded not guilty. Do you wish to withdraw that plea?"
"Do you, sir?"
"Do you wish to plead guilty?"
"Yes, sir," said McNamara, and he bowed slightly.

Joseph Scott, of counsel for the defense, said:
"When we first broached to little Jim the plea for having John plead guilty, he said: 'I won't stand for it. I won't let you fasten anything onto my big brother. I am the boy who did everything.'"
"I told him if he took that stance in regard to John, there was every chance that he would go to the gallows, but I also told him that if John should be hanged with Jim, they might be let off easily."
"In order to make it strong with him, I said: 'You would not do a pretty thing for receiving the conviction.'"
That is the story that should be known.

gangered by the green scabs operating the machines.
It is becoming apparent that moving picture theater patrons fear a repetition of the holocaust in which hundreds of spectators were roasted alive in the Iroquois Theater at Chicago and in a moving picture house in West Pennsylvania. The latter disaster, which occurred but two months ago, brought mourning to one out of every working class family of the community.
The strikers stated yesterday that the best of scabs now working in the theaters have never handled moving picture films and their slightest mishandling of a film may fire the theater. The city officials, who are always ready to prosecute a little business man for a minor violation of the law, have not as yet taken a hand to investigate the conduct of the theaters to try to prevent a disaster which may cause the loss of hundreds of lives.
The strikers claimed that the reason why the city officials do not care to look into the situation of the strike is because leading politicians like "Big Tim" Sullivan and Alderman John A. White, of the 3d District, who is taking the place of "Little Tim" Sullivan, are interested in practically all the enterprises where the men are out on strike.
Alderman White "Deaf."
Alderman White has time and again refused to have anything to do with organized labor, and communications sent to him by the Central Federated Union in regard to the fight on the Nemo Theater, asking him to meet a committee to try to bring about a settlement of the trouble, have remained unacknowledged. The other powers behind this fight against the stage hands are also foes of organized labor with big political influence behind them.
The conditions under which the men in the Fox theaters were compelled to work are far from tolerable. The men being compelled to work long hours for a meager wage. At the Dewey, Nemo, Washington, Gotham and the Star theaters, which are all owned by Fox, the men are compelled to report for work at 9 o'clock in the morning and have to toil until 11 o'clock at night, with no time being allowed for lunch. The wages of the men are ranging from $2, $3, $4 and $12 per week for seven days work, only a small number of the men receiving $12 a week. Though the strikers are a lot of

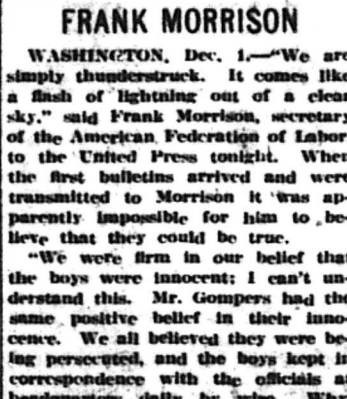

The confession of the McNamaras is the most dramatic and appalling arraignment of capital that could possibly have come, both as to crimes involved and as to methods used in obtaining the admission.
It is a foul, black charge against them, but a blacker, fouler, more horrible charge against the system that produced them.
It is a terrible thing that men with such a sacred cause should have attempted to use the weapons of capitalism. Though thousands on thousands of workers yearly go to their death through the criminal recklessness of the employers, nothing is to be gained by blind, insane attempts to mete punishment for the wholesale crimes committed.
But even in this case the slimy cunning of the capitalists was in evidence. The desire was not so much to get the McNamaras at the present time as to strike a blow at the Socialist party because its members, knowing the despicable work previously done, had demanded for the accused men at least a fair trial.
But by exerting every possible force against them, by offering at this point to compromise the matter instead of getting a verdict after trial, the men were induced to confess dramatically a few days before the election. They were parts of the best staged, most despicably indecent act ever perpetrated. And it was perpetrated by the very men responsible for the production of those conditions which bring about a state of affairs where McNamaras are inevitable.
There need be no reservation in dealing with this question.
Capitalism breeds murder, and here is murder bred of capitalism.
Every corpse produced by it rests at the door of the employers, as do those numberless unnamed murdered, the members of the working class murdered in pursuit of profits.
There has been ceaseless class war, and when members of the working class have been the victims but little has been said concerning it. Capitalism has fought every effort to avert those murders, and yet its whole teaching is that violence, disregard of law, subversion of all order, are the shortest way to wealth.
Capitalism has not only killed members of the working class, but it has done its best to turn others into murderers.
Here is the result.
And it is a new indictment of present society.

FRANK MORRISON
WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—"We are simply thunderstruck. It comes like a flash of lightning out of a clear sky," said Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, to the United Press tonight. When the first bulletins arrived and were transmitted to Morrison it was apparently impossible for him to believe that they could be true.
"We were firm in our belief that the boys were innocent; I can't understand this. Mr. Gompers had the same positive belief in their innocence. We all believed they were being persecuted, and the boys kept in correspondence with the officials at headquarters daily by wire. Why, only today we received a telegram from out there, and it gave no information or hint of such a thing as this."
"We had a message from the McNamara boys congratulating us on the general success of the convention of the A. F. of L. They kept in touch with the convention down there all the time."
"The delegates at Atlanta were all convinced that the boys were innocent, and they taxed their ingenuity to raise funds for the defense, by making announcements, getting out moving pictures and buttons."
"It just seems incredible that we could have been so misled, and I simply don't make any connected statement about it."

JOB HARRIMAN

Abraham Cahan, editor of the Jewish Daily Forward, has received the following telegram from Job Harriman, Socialist candidate for Mayor of Los Angeles:
"LOS ANGELES, Dec. 1.
"THE McNAMARAS PLEAD GUILTY. I KNEW NOTHING WHATSOEVER OF ARRANGEMENTS TO PLEAD GUILTY, WAS NOT TAKEN INTO CONFIDENCE AND KNEW NOTHING ABOUT IT WHATSOEVER UNTIL IT WAS DONE AND PUBLISHED IN THE NEWS-PAPER."

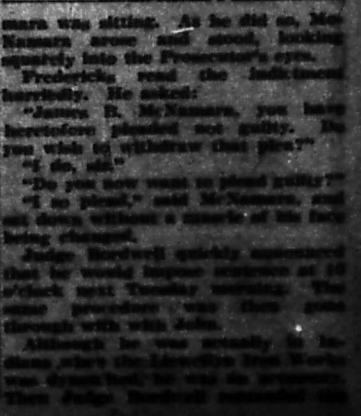

CHARLES EDW. RUSSELL

If the McNamaras have confessed, then it isn't the first time that men have gone wrong for a good cause.
But the good cause goes on just the same.
If they have confessed, however, what should be known now is why this particular time and this particular method should have been taken for receiving the conviction.
That is the story that should be known.

GOMPERS DECLARES HE KNEW NOTHING
(By Laton News Bureau.)
Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, was tonight on the wing last night between Washington and Troy, where he is going to attend a hearing of the Washington State Factory Commission, which he is a member. Reporters on the Pennsylvania Congressional train at the Manhattan Junction broke the news to him. The train left Washington at 4 o'clock, bearing the news of the confession heard in the East. Incidentally the train from Washington is that of the McNamara case.

NEW YORK LABOR LEADERS' OPINIONS
ERNEST BOHM
Eyrnest Bohm, secretary of the Central Federated Union, had the following to say about the confession of the McNamara brothers:

"Organized labor does not believe in physical force. It may be that, owing to the enormous persecution of the iron workers, and especially these two men, they forgot themselves and the tenets of the general labor movement, and committed acts which, under the present social conditions, are classified as illegal and criminal when done by such men, but which are applauded and condoned when done by hirelings of capital in furthering their interests.

MORRIS BRAUN
Morris Braun, of the Cigar Makers' Union, said:
"The amount of money raised by the Los Angeles capitalists of the Otis gang to defeat Job Harriman and the Socialist ticket no doubt had something to do with this so-called confession of the McNamara brothers. Personally, I doubt that the McNamara have confessed, and will withhold any comment until we get more particulars of the doings in Los Angeles."

CAL WYATT
"I do not believe the statements that the McNamara pleaded guilty," said Organizer Wyatt, of the American Federation of Labor.
"Chances are that the so-called confession was sprung to kill the election of the Socialist and labor ticket. I have nothing to say about it until the story is confirmed from reliable sources."

HENRY HARRIS
"These men were brought to court to make a confession at this time for no other reason than to kill the Socialist party," declared Henry Harris, of Typographical Union, No. 6.
"The men were probably unconscious of the confession they entered, or they were probably doped by the Burns operatives to the extent that they were brought to court with a ready confession made up in General Otis' office."

JAMES P. HOLLAND
James P. Holland, of the Firemen and Steam Engine Union, said:
"Following the confession, I had the thought of the McNamara confession:
"if these two men are guilty, I believe they should be punished to the full extent of the law. Organized labor does not stand for dithering. The entire confession looks funny, coming on the eve of such a great election.

"If the McNamara are guilty they should get the full penalty," declared Thomas Curtis, president of the Subway and Tunnel Constructors.
"Organized labor will not tolerate violence. It is something very peculiar if they have confessed. I am somewhat skeptical about the confession made by them."

When asked for his opinion on the confession of the McNamara brothers of their guilt in causing the explosion in the Los Angeles Times Building, Henry L. Slobodin, a prominent labor leader, expressed himself as being unable to regard such a confession with anything but suspicion.
He stated that he believed that the two men had been so manhandled and intimidated that they were no longer responsible for anything they might say or do.

HARRISON G. OTIS
General Harrison G. Otis, whose daily insults to labor did much to cause the insurrection of blowing up the Times Building, was in great spirits last night.
He has been a keen, steady and cunning opponent of organized labor, but at the present time he expresses himself, according to dispatches, as follows:

"Following the confession, I had the thought of the McNamara confession:
"if these two men are guilty, I believe they should be punished to the full extent of the law. Organized labor does not stand for dithering. The entire confession looks funny, coming on the eve of such a great election.

MAT M'CONVILLE
"if the McNamara pleaded guilty," said Matthew McConville, of the Steam Engine Union, "I don't believe they did it consciously.
They were under the impression they were made guilty by the capitalist press and the Burns gang, and were probably doped and brought into court to make the confession, which was doped into them by the Burns operatives and the other union crushing aggregation. Take

EDITORIAL FROM THE VOLKSZEITUNG
It is evident that the occurrence, as well as the manner in which it took place, is closely connected with the election in Los Angeles, which will be held next Tuesday. Without this election and without the fear of the united Socialist and workers, this sensational event would surely not have occurred at this time. And we may rightly say that justice has in this case been placed at the disposal of capitalist politics.
