Altho consisting of eight pages instead of four, the May Day Number will be sold at the usual prices.

We observe that David M. Parry, the head of the National Manufacturers' Association, proclaims to destroy the Socialist movement.

Unfortunately for Mr. Parry's hopes, it must be said that the plan has already been laid, with no very brilliant success.

The Nation of Fatherless Children, which our German comrades were cruel enough to call 'The Red Empire' is now the book that was to put a quietus on Socialism in America.

womanhood from the oppression of the narrow old "housewife" idea, but who knew how to pay pretty compliments to "ladies".

RELY ON YOURSELVES. "When the Devil was sick, the Devil a monk would be. When the Devil got well—devil a monk was he."

That old proverb well applies to the conduct of Russian autocracy, as we have seen it during the last year.

In Russia as well as abroad, no doubt, many were deceived by these promises. Having thus pacified a part of its opponents by holding out the hope of at least partial reform.

Such is always the case. Despots will not and cannot reform despotism. A good master is an impossibility.

JOHANN MOST DEAD.

A Stormy Career Closed—Brief Sketch of the Life of the Well-Known Anarchist Writer and Speaker.

Johann Most, the well known Anarchist writer and speaker and editor of "Freiheit," died last Saturday in Cincinnati, whither he had gone to address an Anarchist meeting.

His work is done. It was largely a work of destruction, a smashing of idols; and that is always a thankless task, be it ever so needful.

NOTE, COMMENT, AND ANSWER. DAILY.—Contributions to the fund which is being raised for the purpose of establishing a Socialist daily paper.

Can't you publish an account of the Haymarket affair for the benefit of those who have never heard "born again," that is—since then?

It is well to keep cool, no doubt. But the frigid tone in which the "Social Democratic Herald" speaks of the Moyer-Haywood case passes the limit.

Some of our comrades are seriously disturbed, on the one side or the other, about the I. W. W.—a good deal more disturbed, it would seem, than Mr. Gompers and his friends have yet been.

THE SOCIALIST PARTY AND THE TRADE UNIONS.—II.

What is the difference? In the discussion of the tactical question, whether it is more advisable to work within the existing unions and federations.

So much may be said with certainty. In regard to the necessity of industrial unionism as such, as the most effective form of fighting organization on the economic field, there is no disagreement between those Socialists who to-day are, on the whole, represented by the Socialist Party.

PARTY NEWS

In the recent city election in Muscatine, Ia., 225 Socialist votes were cast as against 122 at the last election. The State Committee of Pennsylvania reports having received a protest from Schuylkill County against wanting money in the county during a strike. Their objections are based upon the grounds that the speakers and literature at such times militates against the establishment of a healthy and responsible organization thereafter; that local forces under such circumstances are composed of members not acquainted with the Socialist philosophy, and such an organization may readily become a party for practical politicians as has been the case in several instances in the past. Since the strike of 1932 a new trespass law has been passed which would bar our speakers at many points. The State Committee takes the same view and suggests that the nature of the appeal rendered should be to have some paper writers stationed at the various points to send wireless reports and letters to the Socialist and labor papers.

BOSTON

Mr. Henry Abraham, Secretary of the Boston Central Labor Union, spoke in Homestead Hall last Sunday evening to an audience composed of all schools of political economy. Mr. Abraham gave a short history of the origin and development of the trade unions and the labor question, and took the stand that the trade union was "the only thing that had prevented larger liberty and had by force enabled workers to have some voice workers instead of landed lords and chattel slaves." He did not deny that he had higher ideas, but wanted "something that the workers could understand." He criticized the radical unions and claimed that they received fewer favors from the capitalists, and he held to the issue of "moving along the lines of the least resistance." The speaker was handled by his critics at the close of his address, and the trade union question was treated from both the A. F. of L. and the I. W. of W. standpoints. Three questions were asked the speaker by Mrs. Dr. Komkow, which were either overlooked or ignored, viz.: 1. How is the pure and simple trade union to solve the trust problem? 2. How is it to meet the unemployment question? 3. How are they to treat the machinery question? The German Socialist Club is to produce Richard Voss' three-act drama, "Schuldig," at Arbelter Hall, Amory avenue, Roxbury, on Monday, Mar. 26. There will also be a concert. "Schuldig" was produced at the great People's Theater in Vienna in 1901, and has since been successfully played in nearly all the large cities of Europe. After the play there will be dancing until 2 a. m. Tickets are 25 cents and may be purchased at the door.

THE BITTER CRY OF THE CHILDREN

THE BITTER CRY OF THE CHILDREN BY JOHN SPARSO "The authors of this book," says the author in the preface, "is to state the problem of poverty as it affects childhood. Years of careful study and investigation have convinced me that the evil inflicted upon children by poverty are responsible for many of the worst features of our American civilization without expending a cent to do something. JACK LONDON declares that it is 'The Under-Ten's Child's' wage slavery.' DAVID GRAMPHAM PHILLIPS calls it 'the greatest novel written in America in fifty years.' And there are many other comments equally significant. An able lawyer was sent to Chicago to investigate the conditions of the slum. He might be sure we could in fairness publish the novel. His report amply verified the truth of the story. BOUND IN CLOTH $1.35 POSTPAID SOCIALIST LITERATURE CO., 184 WILLIAM ST., NEW YORK CITY. Socialists are urged to read it. It is a practical plea for the future of the working class. The working class must read it; for the capitalist class will not read it, for it reaches its proper field. "CHANTS COMMUNAL" BY HORACE TRAUBEL. An artistically printed and well bound volume, containing forty of the best of the industrial workers of the world. Not many years ago the "chants" were a thing of the past and our party was extremely poor; but since we have had Socialists learned to condemn a thing because of its newness? Time will show Comrade Ghent which is the "bitter cry of the proletariat." Personally I am opposed to any party which is not a party of economic organization at the present time, but I fall to see how suppressing information, sneering at those who are trying to find the light, of what at least is a debatable question, casting ridicule on old and tried methods, and trying to keep the party in advance of the times, is going to make for harmony even in our own ranks. Economic evolution marches steadily on, and what is right to-day may be wrong to-morrow, and in spite of the speaking received from Comrade Ghent I am not prepared to subscribe myself a member of the "bitter cry." W. B. KILLINGBECK. Orange, N. J., Mar. 12. L. L. P. MUNICIPAL VICTORY. The Independent Labor Party was an encouraging victory in a municipal election at Washington Heights, New York, Mar. 11. L. P. candidates, receiving 600 votes out of the 1,000.
