Workers Party Charges Coolidge Administration Faked Letter Used in Anti-Recognition Campaign

The Workers Party, in a statement issued from its national office in Chicago, charges that the Coolidge administration faked the letter issued by Secretary of State Hughes in his campaign against the recognition of the Russian Soviet Republic. The letter, supposed to have been instructions from Gregory Zinoviev, chairman of the Communist International, to the Workers Party of America, is denounced as a vicious frame-up. The Workers Party demands an investigation of the origin of this letter and call upon the progressive members of the senate and house of representatives to continue their fight for Soviet recognition. The statement issued by the Workers Party in full is as follows: Secretary of State Hughes is seeking to victimize the whole country with a vicious frame-up. The Secretary of State has published a letter supposed to have been sent by Gregory Zinoviev, chairman of the Communist International, to the Workers Party of America. The letter, from the first word to the last, is a falsification. The Workers Party declares that it has never received such a letter. It asserts that no such letter was ever written by the Communist International. The frame-up of the Secretary of State sets forth that the Communist International instructs the Workers Party to practice shooting and "sapper" work. Any one at all acquainted with the position and activities of the Communist International knows that Zinoviev would never send out such foolish and childish instructions. The Communist International knows that there can never be a successful Communist revolution in the United States until the Communists win over the majority of the American working class. The Communist International preaches, not shooting practice, but trade union practice; not "sapper" work on imaginary dirt grounds, but the building of impregnable trenches for the working class on the political field in America. The only armed shooting groups in this country are the gangmen, hired by the employers' private detective agencies and the Department of Justice to smash the labor and farm organizations. An army of over 6,000 of these highly armed special duty marauders were mustered by the Department of Justice to break the last railroad strike. The Communist International never sent out, and never could send out such stupid and insane instructions. The whole idea was conceived in the brains of madmen. It was operated by maniacs, who are professional spies, living off fake exposures of an alleged "Red Menace." We publicly accuse the Department of State and the Department of Justice with having forged this letter to mislead the people of the United States.

We demand an immediate and thorough investigation of the origin of this letter, and of those responsible for its circulation. We assert the Department of Justice and the whole Coolidge administration knows that this letter is an outright forgery. The only reason they can have for stooping to such desperate deeds is that they fear the reaction among the American people, for the recognition of Soviet Russia. The Administration knows that the masses of workers and farmers are ever more recognizing that American prosperity depends on the existence of the world market. No sound world market is possible without the complete recognition of the Soviet government. The Workers Party calls upon every honest worker and farmer, regardless of his political opinions, to help expose this monstrous frame-up. We urge the progressives in Congress not to permit themselves to be stampeded by this reactionary attack. We call upon the progressive congressmen and senators to demand an investigation of this fraudulent letter, and to continue their fight for the recognition of the Russian Soviet Republic. (Signed) CENTRAL EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE, WORKERS PARTY OF AMERICA, C. E. Ruthenberg, Executive Secretary.

Mexican Communists Reply to Slanders of Gompers, Wright & Co.

(Special to "The Worker") MEXICO CITY.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, and his chief press agent, Chester J. Wright, are asked to retract false and criminal statements made against the Mexican Communist Party and its position in the present crisis here. The matter is set forth in a protest adopted by the Communist Party of Mexico, as follows: "On December 13 the Confederation Regional Obrera Mexicana gave to the press a telegram from Gompers, Wright and Vargas dated December 13, congratulating the Communist Party for its support of the present government of Mexico against the reactionary rebellion of Sanchez and Estrada and slandering the Communists by linking their names with the reactionary revolt. The telegram says tactically: 'The democratic government presided over by General Obregon and which powerful reactionary groups are trying to overthrow, aided by the extremist group, typical of bolshevik communism.' As a combination this is curious, but not surprising. It is difficult to believe that Messrs. Gompers, Wright and Vargas are merely misinformed as to the Communist attitude in this revolt. This is possible, but it is at least equally possible, that they are deliberately making use of the Mexican Embassy to make a slanderous anti-Communist propaganda. It seems incredible that Gompers does not know that the Communist Party of Mexico even before the revolt was supporting General Calles as against the rebellion. If he does indeed not know, we inform him now that the first workers' organization to announce publicly its opposition to the present government in the fight with the reaction in revolt was the Communist Party of Mexico, which public declaration he will find in 'El Mundo' of December 6. We inform him further that all unions under Communist (Bolshevik) influence have already declared their readiness to defend, arms in hand, the gains of ten years of revolution against the new reactionary attempt. We inform him further that Communist military units have already been formed and that the government welcomes their aid. If Gompers, Wright and Vargas were misinformed, we expect them to retract their slander on Communism and the Communists. If they were not misinformed, we have no words to express our contempt for these men who are willing to use a national calamity as an instrument of their petty anti-Communist propaganda.

Hughes' Fraud Against Soviet Recognition Is Big Boomerang to Enemies of Workers' Rule

By JAY LOVESTONE. Secretary of State Hughes' false charges against the Soviet Government have proved a boomerang to the enemies of Russian recognition. The charge made by Hughes that the Soviet government has sent instructions to the Workers Party to organize shooting and "sapper" squads not only ridicules and repudiates the country over. One would have expected some local, second-class, small town district attorney to resort to such insidious "exposures" at this stage of the Russian-American relations. But the sentiment for Soviet recognition has grown by such headlines as the Secretary of State Hughes, a sworn enemy of Soviet Russia, whose days in the cabinet are numbered, was driven to the lowest depths of degradation. The latest foul attack on the Workers' and Peasants' Government has only served to intensify the campaign for Russian recognition. Prior to the attack on the Workers' Party there was only one resolution in the senate by Borah and one in the house by Congressman Frear on the Russian question. Now, after a dozen resolutions on the problem of recognizing relations with the Soviet government have been introduced or are about to be introduced in the senate and house. Millions of workers and masses in this country are now in favor of trade relations with and recognition of the Soviet republic. President Coolidge has been forced to deal with this growing demand in his last message. Instead of holding back this Russian recognition tide the Hughes frame-up, which is one of the most brazen lies in the history of diplomatic buff, has only brought chaos and confusion to the camp of the foes of Soviet Russia and given new zeal to the advocates of friendly Russian-American relations. The Christian Science Monitor, one of the leading papers in the country, pointed out the confusion that has ensued in the following statement: "While inspired reports from Washington deny the existence of any difference of opinion between President Coolidge and Secretary Hughes regarding Russia, there is a marked divergence in thought manifested in the expressions of the President, as set forth in his message to Congress, and the views of the Secretary of State as expressed in his letter to George Tchitcherin. Of course the big bankers that have forced Hughes to resort to such unwarranted and unwarrantable assertions may soon lay down the law and every ounce of energy at the disposal of the Administration may soon be put at the disposal of our discredited Secretary of State to save his face. But the progressive congressmen and senators appear to be pre-

Cleveland Endorses the C. E. C. In the most successful district convention held by the Party to date the members of the Cleveland district discussed the agenda of the National Convention and elected delegates. The following resolution was presented for consideration and adoption: "That District No. 6, in convention assembled, affirm its confidence in the Central Executive Committee of the Party and approves of its policies." An interesting and lively debate followed. The report and the resolution were then adopted unanimously by the convention. White, Shaffer, Larner, Severino, and Spar were elected delegates to the National Convention.

In the Michigan District of the Workers Party, Dist. No. 7, voted to send the following resolutions to the National Convention and the Chicago Convention of the Workers Party: The District Convention of the party, held at Detroit, voted unanimously for the Labor Party policy of the party's central executive committee. The industrial revolution of Delegate William Mollenhauer, after considerable discussion, also received the hearty support of the gathering.

Is Bright for Farmer-Labor May Conference

By JOSEPH HANLEY, Secretary, Federated Farmer-Labor Party.

Since the great Chicago convention held on July 24, which formed the Federated Farmer-Labor Party, the party movement has taken on an entirely new significance. The latest developments through the country clearly point to a bright future for the Federated Farmer-Labor Party.

In Washington the Farmer-Labor Party has held its first national convention, to endorse the call for a national convention to be held in St. Paul, May 20th, 1937. One hundred and fifty delegates from 25 states and 1000 members from the Western Proletarian Farmers, the most advanced state party in the country, were present at the national convention.

The farmers had a vast majority of the militant trade unionists for outright affiliation with the Federated Farmer-Labor Party. However, the farmers had a vast majority of the militant trade unionists for outright affiliation with the Federated Farmer-Labor Party.

These events, and there will be more to follow, all point to the character of this movement, the agricultural strength and its type of leadership.

Previous to July 24th most people looked upon the present-day Farmer-Labor Party as a national organization. Few realized how woefully it failed to function in this direction.

These who live in the big cities of the East, or even the middle west, do not realize the tremendous political force back of the present-day movement among the farmers.

The old Farmer-Labor Party failed because they never grasped the industrial and agricultural economic basis for this class movement.

The old Farmer-Labor Party failed because this is essentially a rank and file movement, and can only be led by those who not only recognize but are absolutely fearless of the Comptroller's bureaucracy, and have a clear understanding of the bankrupt farmers' problem.

The Federated Farmer-Labor Party, from its inception, has grasped the fundamentals of this class movement. It had gone forth with all the limited resources to build and give it national expression.

Greetings! Third National Convention, Workers Party

The Third National Convention of the Workers Party meets in Chicago, Dec. 30—Jan. 1, with the past 12 months full of party achievements and a bright future ahead.

The one of the important gatherings finds the Workers Party under attack by the Coolidge administration at Washington, D. C., in what appears to be the opening of an international offensive by world imperialism against the impending recognition of Soviet Russia by an increasing number of capitalist powers.

That they should be compelled to use a framed-up letter, a cheap and ally forgery, in testimony to the complete bankruptcy of the Wall Street politicians in the department of justice and the state department, at Washington, in their war-hot only on the American Communist movement, but against the First Workers' Republic.

It should be a matter of great pride to all American Communists that they are thus singled out for attack. It is a tribute to the growing strength and influence of American Communism, that challenged American capitalism this past year in the trials of Foster and Ruthenberg, at St. Joseph, Mich., and presses forward to greater victories.

Two great campaigns have been carried on during these months immediately preceding the assembling in Chicago of the nation's Communist spokesmen. The party is driving to success the effort to establish the first English-language Communist daily, "THE DAILY WORKER," and to win 10,000 new converts to its ranks. These efforts have been the dreams of the party's first two conventions. They are pending realizations as the third convention assembles.

At no time, during the two years of its existence, has the party been as unified as now. There is no serious disagreement with the Labor Party policy carried out by the Central Executive Committee, under unanimous instructions from the party's second convention. There are some differences of opinion on minor interpretations, but the party's broad policy for the winning of the workers and farmers for independent class political action, is today better understood, and is being more enthusiastically carried out than at any time in the past. This insures the growing strength of Communist influence in the American political struggle.

The interest aroused by the question of the party's reorganization also shows that the membership is reaching out in an effort to expand its energies. The territorial form of organization has narrow limits that must be crossed if the party is to really establish itself among the broad masses of the workers. In this there can be no disagreement. Only in the working out of this policy can there be that clash of opinion that always results in the best policies being adopted and ultimately carried out.

It is only during this past year that the party has established definite contact with the workers on the farm. Out over the entire United States there are thousands of farmers flocking to the party's ranks, even as in Pittsburgh's industrial czarism. It is only when the industrial workers can rally the farm workers to their joint oppressors—the whole capitalist class.

It is, therefore, with unusual enthusiasm that "THE WORKER," on behalf of its tens of thousands of readers, greets the Third National Convention of the Workers Party, the vanguard of the American working class. We are sure that the decisions of the delegates will ably solve the big problems created by the new responsibilities being shouldered by our party. The Communist movement marches ever forward to greater tasks, to greater triumphs.

The Daily Worker Sub Drive

How great the need and the demand for a militant daily labor paper in this country, "THE DAILY WORKER" will be indicated by the response which has been made in the first week of the drive for subscribers to "THE DAILY WORKER." In every part of the country, wherever there are militants, the drive is being carried out with a vigor and enthusiasm that is inspiring.

The Illinois that workers don't know a good thing when they see it is being dispelled by the avidity in which they are grasping the opportunity to have a daily paper of their own.

The drive is continuing to go on in taking care of the many orders for subscriptions. The business office of "The Daily" has made the request that all prospective subscribers send in their subscriptions once as they may be situated and the mailing list completed by the time of the first issue.

"In order to be assured of receiving the paper starting with the first issue, subscriptions should be sent in immediately," said Morris J. Loeb, business manager. "Those who are expecting to be appointed, for 'The Daily Worker' will find it impossible to establish connections with those for several months, except in Chicago. In the meantime, non-subscribers will have to do without their paper."

Drive for "Subs" for "The Daily Worker" Is Covering All Chicago

In Chicago the campaign to secure subscriptions for "THE DAILY WORKER" is taking on huge proportions. While several hundred party members and sympathizers canvassed house-to-house on the first Communist Sunday, Dec. 16, the turnout on Dec. 23, approached the one thousand number.

Thus unorganized workers, who have been outside the scope of even the most intensive propaganda and education, are already being reached with the class drive.

The Party Caucus

Henry Ford has definitely come out in favor of Coolidge. To the workers who were fooled by putting their money on Ford, the news is a bitter pill.

A Ford will run behind any machine.

Russia has declared a boycott on American goods. This does not apply in America to Swiss chocolate or Swiss cheese sandwiches.

Joe G. Smith, the chairman of the directors of Marshall Field & Co., has donated two million dollars for an American fish-house in Chicago. The King Slips in Greece.
The King of Greece has finally taken part in an active movement in Europe.

To an American correspondent he jokingly remarked he was coming to America to be a movie star or a taxi driver. He is in either of these positions a man who can't hold the driver's license who has shown himself incapable at the wheel!

He has a car but he has to start a restaurant—after being kicked out of his country—he probably would have the nerve to call it "The Victory."

A Governor Seeks Promotion.
The Paul Pendergast group in the Gov. Press was in New York in conference with members of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co. with reference to a business offer which would involve his resignation as governor of Minnesota.

The Governor is probably tired of working in secret for Morgan's wealth and now wants his name on the stationery of the state.

Perhaps Lack of Mental Exercise!
"Why not organize a Coolidge Club for political purposes, but with the view of encouraging more people to keep their mouths shut."—Aitchison (Kan.) Globe.
What makes the Aitchison Globe so anxious to produce more dissent?

DO "RADICALS" HAVE BANK ACCOUNTS?

Through the Worker the Humboldt State Bank is asking this question. The Humboldt State Bank is under state and clearing house supervision; the only criticism ever made against it is that "the Humboldt State Bank does not take a classed or prejudiced person wants to do business with chance-taking banks, and that is one of the reasons why the Humboldt State Bank is one of the safest banks in the United States." Its directors, Jacob Nilen, Oliver M. Ulvestad, Chilton C. Callison, Soren T. Coydon and John B. Hessler, are men of integrity and can be trusted. Readers of "The Worker" will help its advertising department by mentioning this bank when starting accounts at the Humboldt State Bank, North and Fairfield Avenues.—Adv.

Yes, Samuel Gompers Had to Listen to BILL DUNNE'S SPEECH

The Portland Convention of the American Federation of Labor

The speech is acknowledged by friends and foes alike as the most complete and fearless indictment of the "fat boys," the labor rakers, that was ever made. Delivered in answer to the motion by a reactionary official of the miner's union the modest Dunne, this speech will go down in history, marking a new phase of the class struggle in America.

This Speech is Now Published in a Pamphlet Form

It is the most effective kind of educational work to distribute this widely among union men. This is the time when live wires are made. It must receive the widest circulation throughout the country.

Who Owns Congress?
"Who Owns Congress?" is the title of an investigation now being completed by Jay Lovestone.
The findings will be published by the party as a pamphlet.
In this study the unity between the Stock Exchange and the White House is brought home by a presentation of authentic facts and convincing data concerning the activities of the various departments of the government.
This investigation follows the plan of the "Government—Strikebreakers" and marshals an array of startling evidence showing how the big bankers and manufacturers own the United States government body and soul. The financial and industrial connections of the leading cabinet members, senators, congressmen, and other government officials are brought to light. An examination is made of the records of the leading figures in the house and senate proving that they are openly and covertly serving as agents of the capitalist class.
Special attention is paid to some of the most advertised "progressives" of the day.
This study will prove an indispensable aid to the independent working class political movement. It will serve as a sort of an arsenal for the 1924 campaign and a general handbook on who is who in the American government for party members and workers and farmers in general.

Coolidge's Message Is Blow at Children

Child labor in the United States is much further away from any solution, since President Coolidge's message recently to Congress, than it ever was. Philanthropists, and as liberals, hailed the anticorporate President's declaration on child labor as a step toward the abolition of the recognized evil. But it is nothing of the kind. It is a clear evasion of the direct issue...

CENTRAL COMMITTEE OF INTERNATIONAL RED AID

Urged by Enthusiasm

Campaigning for subscriptions to "THE DAILY WORKER" is in almost universal operation for American labor militants. The news that definite arrangements have been made to begin publication of "THE DAILY WORKER," Jan. 18, 1924, received with great enthusiasm all over the country.

The answer to the call of "THE DAILY WORKER" management for a concentration of efforts to secure subscriptions to "THE DAILY" has been encouraged beyond words. Thousands dug down to provide their share of the $100,000 fund...

So far the greatest response has been from the shops and units. It is in these where workers are most directly reaching the everyday work being done. But for the great mass workers with whom connections are difficult, the house-to-house canvass must be conducted.

For these whose financial condition made it impossible for them to help in establishing "THE DAILY," the opportunity is now offered to do their share in making it a sweeping success.

Hilferding Exposes Himself

From speech by Rudolf Hilferding, Socialists' National Executive Committee, Oct. 5, at the Berlin Diet Convention of the Communist Party of Germany.

"An unwarmed working class stands opposed to the Fascists. Reichswehr supported by organizations which are armed, well equipped and well trained, we have no illusions as to the results of the Fascist attack. Broad sections of intellectuals are today more courageous than the workers. They are better organized. Calls and orders from the leadership."

"The meeting which until then listened in silence to the speech of Comrade Hilferding was now wide awake. Angry discussion followed. Comrade Hilferding comes forward, strikes with his fist on the table and says with great anger: 'It is scandalous, the way you are behaving, and you are supposed to be the leadership of the working masses!'"

"Today have been told over and over again that the leaders are using the workers and that they are in the hands of the bourgeoisie. Comrades, we do not want to create any illusions for ourselves. What we are doing is to expose the bourgeoisie as it is. We are doing this in order to integrate the Social Democracy. Today there is no large country in which there is a strong Social Democracy party."

When we are deliberating, the sharpest criticism is not only acceptable, but under certain circumstances it is a duty. But it is necessary to retain comradship, to listen objectively and to advocate together the out-empty world. It should manifest itself in a desire in a situation of this character. The Workers' International Relief, which succeeded in raising more than $50,000 for the foodstuffs to the relief of the Russian famine, in organizing a similar relief campaign for the millions of German workers. All workers and labor organizations should take part in this campaign unreservedly, both to give the German workers relief in their struggle, and to help the workers of other countries who are already today to die in the thousands of child laborers while the share borne by the government is only a small part of the total. Capitalism being international, the Locheur of France and Stines of Germany are playing the same grim joke of 'paying for the relief of the starving' as the German workers. On then, to the relief and support of the German workers.
