Chicago Unionists Flay Reactionaries at Portland Meet
claims to be a socialist. He said it was reported in Portland that the expulsion of Dunne was hatched by a local newspaper reporter who was "in the know" and that Dunne's expulsion was a "hoax" for a whole week.
Second Annual Red Revolt.
The day of the great yearly communist gathering in Portland, Oregon, was an approaching and our comrades are busily engaged in polishing the high boots and fastening the buttons on their new costumes. This year it is the first time that a massing of communists attraction. Communists, socialists, methodists, capitalists and many other "lets" indicated by their costumes, will mix merrily. It will be a most colorful and interesting affair.
Fakers All Right!
Delegate Wright, the Printers, do not think such extraneous matters as a labor party arrangement with Soviet Russia and other questions of the same kind had any place in a central committee meeting in Chicago. He intimated, should be the matter for the workers' affairs. At the same time he had something to say about Dunne and his expulsion. He published letters written by Lewis and Farrington in which they polioy called each other things. Delegate Wright knew both of them. They are his fellows. Of course, they got excited and when one called the other a crook the other had to clear himself by saying "you are another."

Bourgeois Intellectuals and Communism

By E. M. WIGGINS

In a recent issue of "The Worker," Communist Michael Gold has forthrightly stated that the "bourgeois intellectual" is a "reactionary" and "anti-social" element. He has also stated that the "bourgeois intellectual" is a "reactionary" and "anti-social" element. He has also stated that the "bourgeois intellectual" is a "reactionary" and "anti-social" element.

It is a well-known fact that the "bourgeois intellectual" is a "reactionary" and "anti-social" element. He is a "reactionary" and "anti-social" element. He is a "reactionary" and "anti-social" element.

Whose Record Year Is It?

The Wall Street Journal, an oracle of the high priests of finance and industry, has just blazoned on high a declaration that the railroads have had a record year in 1929.

We wonder whose record year it was. Who has gotten the greatest rewards and who has made the biggest gains during the year? Have the workers or the capitalists gotten the most out of this record year?

The railroads have had a record year in 1929. They have had a record year in 1929. They have had a record year in 1929.

Party Greet "The Daily Worker"

The greetings of the Third National Convention of the Workers Party to the Daily Worker follows:

The Third National Convention congratulates the thousands of members and sympathizers who co-operated with the Daily Worker Campaign Committee in carrying on the drive to establish "The Daily Worker."

The first Communist daily in the English language is thus made possible through the devotion, sacrifice and tireless energy of our comrades and friends who out of their little have given much.
